Pennsylvania's Samuel Hayes Addresses Ag Issues Forum

"I want you to know that in Pennsylvania there are a million plus cafeteria school meals served to the commonwealth's children every day. That's a lot of exposure and opportunity for things to go wrong. We still have a few schools in session, so I don't want to be to quick to speak, but we have gone the whole year without any food safety problems in any of the 6,000 school cafeterias. That's as close to zero tolerance as you can get."—Samuel E. Hayes Jr., Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture, at the Ag Issues Forum.

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) - At a breakfast meeting Thursday the Ag Issues Forum convened at the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture (PDA) building to hear Pennsylvania's Secretary of Agriculture Samuel Hayes, Jr., discuss his perspectives and priorities of the Department of Agriculture.

The Forum, a group of farmers and agribusiness leaders under the chairmanship of Michael Brubaker, usually meets monthly in the Lancaster area to debate and become informed about current events in agriculture. This month's group included about 100 important agricultural leaders and officials from across the state's legislative and agricultural community.

Sec. Hayes said the food safety achievement in the school cafeteria program will not make headlines in the city and urban media by reporting such a good story. From producers, processors, and distributors to the keepers of food stuffs in the school cafeterias, Hayes said all had a part in this food safety achievement.

"We need to protect the consumer with food safety," Hayes said. "But we also need to protect agriculture from an undeserved image that we are not producing the best, safest food in the world.

New President Wants To Let Others Know About FFA

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Luke Zerby, new state FFA president, wants to spread the news.

"I think one of the things I'd like to do is provide ways for the public to become more informed about the FFA," he said.

Last week, the new state FFA officers were selected, including Zerby, West Snyder FFA member. One of Zerby's goals, he noted in a recent telephone interview, is to inform the public about the meaning and purpose of FFA.

"We want to make sure we get out there and allow everybody to learn about the FFA," he said.

He'll have help from fellow FFA officers.

Allyson Cole, new state FFA reporter from Littlestown FFA, understands the importance of disseminating information about what the FFA means and the extent of its community involvement. She has maintained a good working relationship with the press — including such newspapers as the Hanover Evening Sun and the Gettysburg Times.

"They've done an excellent job for Littlestown FFA, always sending people out to cover our events," she said.

In the future, Cole intends to work closely with radio and TV stations to provide news about local and statewide FFA activities.

Last week capped a busy time for the approximately 8,000 FFA members at the 1998 Summer FFA Convention during FFA Activities Week at Penn State. While mem-

Clawsons Concentrate On Needs Of Holsteins

RANDY WELLS
Indiana Co. Correspondent

The old adage "It pays to specialize" is proving true for Indiana County dairy farmers George and Ginny Clawson and their son Dennis.

At their Blacklick Township, Indiana County farm, the Clawsons are moving away from the tradition of caring for cows and growing corn and hay to feed them. Instead, the Clawsons have relinquished much of their crop land to another farmer and are spending their extra time pampering their Holsteins.

"It's the livestock that's making you money. You can't sell them short," Ginny said.

The changes on the Clawson farm date back to the summer drought of 1988. The Clawsons that year were forced to buy corn after their crop shriveled, and they found buying corn was easier than growing it. And they discovered the hay they have started buying is of a better quality than the hay they could grow on their own.

Last year the Clawsons turned over most of their crop and to Stanley Auen, a crop farmer who lives near Saltsburg. This year Auen will plant, cultivate, spray, and harvest corn from about 100 acres of the Clawson farm. The

JUNE 17, 1998

NATIONAL EGG MARKET - AT A GLANCE:

Prices were unchanged to lower for brown large in Boston, and all other prices were unchanged. The market tone was generally steady except for large in the Midwest and on the West Coast which was no better than steady. Demand covered the full range and was mostly moderate with best movement into features and resort areas. Supplies were adequate or available with the heaviest sizes still occasionally tight on the East Coast and in the North Central region. Breaking stock supplies were generally adequate for the mixed but mostly light to fair demand, and the trade sentiment was steady to fully steady in the Central region and steady in the East. Offerings of spent hens remained at least adequate for full slaughter schedules.

USDA-MO Dept. Ag Market News

DAILY NATIONAL GRAIN SUMMARY

Grain and soybean bids made a strong comeback the past two da?ted out from a relatively low level. No big news to spark the rally but several factors were a plus. Wheat 3 to 7 cents higher. Com 5 to 8 cents higher. Sorghum 13 cents higher. Soybeans 5 to 9 cents higher. The primary factor in the two day rally was the low level from which grain and soybean prices had dropped. Some traders were talking a bottom. A few export orders were?ounced and more rumors were in the mills. The six to ten day forecast by some weather experts calls for very hot and dry weather. Also, some farm organizations have been lobbing and appealing for help.

The Old Farmer's Almanac This Week With

MIDSUMMER MADNESS

June 24 marks Midsummer Day, traditionally a time of fire and water rituals Fire, the Sun's symbol, is associated with many cleansing celebrations, so summer bonfires are popular In New England, we burn the blueberry fields in hopes of renewing their bounty Midsummer bonfires are similarly connected with renewal and fertility In pagan rituals, the bonfires were considered necessary for purging evil Special herbs or salt might be cast into the bonfires to ward off witches or bad luck Summer camp celebrations feature wooden boats decorated with candles and flowers and launched onto a lake or stream.

Rituals have the power to reset the terms of our universe. . . . – Margot Adler

TIP OF THE WEEK

BLENDER GAZPACHO

- 1 red bell pepper, seeded
- 1 small cucumber, peeled and seeded
- 2 cups vegetable juice (such as V-8)
- 1 cup salsa
- 1/4 cup chicken broth
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon red wine vinegar
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1/2 teaspoon cumin
- Tabasco, to taste
- salt and pepper, to taste
- croutons (optional)

Chop vegetables into small pieces, then blend all ingredients in batches, aiming for a coarse puree Refrigerate until well-chilled, at least 2 hours. (Best if made a day ahead, so flavors can combine.) Recipe can be doubled Serve with croutons

Makes 4 servings.

The Old Farmer's WEATHER PROVERBS

If it rains on St. John's Eve (June 23), the filberts will be spoiled.

No crop before St. John's Day (June 24) is worthy of praising.

If wind rises at night, it will fall at daylight.

OPINION

Dairy Price Floor Petition Denied

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has denied a petition to establish a price floor for milk regulated by federal milk marketing orders.

In making the announcement, Dan Glickman, agriculture secretary, admitted that dairy farmers "continue to undergo significant stress," but he said the hearing in February at the request of what is now Dairy Farmers of America did not meet the requirements of the law or have evidence convincing enough to approve it.

Glickman cited these reasons:

- Dairy farmers most in distress might not benefit.
- The effects of the floor price would not be distributed evenly.
- Consumers are not in danger of having an inadequate supply of milk.
- Milk cost to consumers would increased, especially to low-income consumers.
- With the better prices, milk production may increase and dairy prices get lower again.

This is the same old story of why we can not pay dairy farmers more for their milk. Consumers ARE in danger of not having an adequate milk supply if we continue to put dairy farmers out of business. On second thought, we probably can import milk and put our food supply in the hands of foreign countries just like we depend on foreign sources of oil to run our industry.

Increased production comes as much from dairy farmers who need to add more cows to pay the bills as from profitable milk prices.

As for higher consumer milk prices, those with money buy what they want, including $20,000 cars produced with high union wages and car company profits. And the low income consumers get food stamps. Let them buy milk instead of the luxuary items they cart out of the supermarket. We have had a cheap food policy long enough.

To See Satellites At Ag Progress Days

This year's event will show how computers and satellites are being used.

Exhibits and demonstrations featuring global positioning systems (GPS), geographic information systems (GIS) and related technologies will be among the new activities. Visitors will be able to see firsthand how farmers, environmental professionals and local government agencies are using these systems for a variety of purposes.

Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences Ag Progress Days will be held August 18 to 20th at Russell E. Larson Agricultural Research Center at Rock Springs (near State College). Penn State's Ag Progress Days features more than 500 acres of educational and commercial exhibits, tours and machinery demonstrations. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday. Wednesday the hours are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

To Look At Consumer Attitudes: 1

Animal Rights International just released the results of its latest two question consumer poll. Regardless of your views on this organization, the results do reflect trends and emerging issues farmers need to address through their organizations.

Question 1. "The United States government says that meat, poultry and egg products cause 5 million illnesses and 4,500 deaths a year. To what extent do you agree or disagree with the following statements? The meat, poultry and egg industries should be held liable for illnesses and death caused by their products." 32% strongly agree, 31% somewhat agree, 21% somewhat disagree, 16% strongly disagree and 1% do not know.

To Look At Consumer Attitudes: 2

Another statement from the Animal Rights International consumer poll was: "Meat, poultry and eggs should be labeled 'potentially hazardous' similar to the labels on tobacco products." 19% strongly agree, 24% somewhat agree, 22% somewhat disagree, 33% strongly disagree and 1% do not know.

On the statement, "Most people would be healthier if they ate less meat." 32 % strongly agree, 30% somewhat agree, 20 % somewhat agree, 17% strongly disagree and 1% do not know.

Question 2 was "If delicious vegetarian meals were as widely available as burgers and other fast foods, how likely would you be to eat more vegetarian meals?" 35% very likely, 39% somewhat likely, 24% not at all likely, 1% no effect because I do not eat burgers/fast food and 2% no effect because I am a vegetarian. These results show the importance of educating people about our food production system and nutrition.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WITH FRIENDS LIKE THESE
June 21, 1998

Background Scripture:
Job 2:11; 4:1-7; 11:1-6; 13:1-4; 23:1-7
Devotional Reading:
Job 7:1-11

Last year, while visiting abroad, we were treated very unjustly by someone who jumped to the unwarranted conclusion that we had done something wrong. Although eventually the situation was resolved in our favor, we were still very upset by the ordeal we had to endure.

A longtime friend who lived nearby, heard of our problem and came to see us. We were shocked to find that, instead of giving us consolation, she wanted to know what we had done to get ourselves in that situation. We couldn't help but think of that old saying, "With friends like these, who needs enemies?"

In retrospect, I'm sure our friend had not meant to offend us, but she was quite inept in expressing her support. She had added hurt upon the hurt we had already experienced. The experience has caused me to wonder whether I have ever been that inept with someone who needed my support.

BEST INTENTIONS

This was certainly Job's experience. Hearing of Job's almost unbelievable bad fortune, he is visited by three friends: Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. It is believed that they came some distance presumably from northwest Arabia, to visit Job. Apparently they came with the best of intentions and it is only after they listened in silence to Job's lament that they speak to him in turn.

Eliphaz is presumed to be the oldest and most learned, so he speaks first. Although his speech is courteous, Eliphaz implies that Job should accept his plight in humility and not question the Lord. "Think now, who that was innocent ever perished. Or where were the upright cut? As I have seen, those who plow iniquity and sow trouble reap the same" (4:7,8). He suggests that Job has perhaps in some way brought this disaster upon himself.

Job replies to Eliphaz, refusing to change his stance.

Then, Bildad the Shuhite jumps in with both feet: "How long will you say these things, and the words of your mouth be a great wind?" (8:2). So much for courtesy and diplomacy! He goes on to accuse Job of affirming that God perverts justice. Then, he suggests that it is because of the sins of Job's children that he is suffering. If Job will just "seek God and make supplication to the Almighty, if you are pure and upright, surely then he will rouse himself for you and reward you with a rightful habitation" (8:5,6). Easy for him to say!

JUST DESSERTS

Job responds to Bildad and then Zophar the Naamathite speaks. His approach is a theological argument. Job's suffering is the just desserts of his guilt. Job also answers Zophar and then each of his friends speaks twice more, with Job responding each time. As the discourse goes on, his friends seem to become less polite and more militant. Their accusations grow stronger and more pointed. The meaning of their separate approaches is clear: if you had not done something wrong, Job, you would not be in this mess!

But Job refuses to back down. He still believes that he is right. "Oh, that I knew where I might find him, that I might come even to his seat" (23:3). If God would appear before him, Job believes he would present his case to the Lord as an innocent man. "There an upright man could reason with him, and I should be acquitted forever by my judge" (23:7).

There are a lot of things we experience in life that offend our sense of reason and fairness. Like Job, we find it hard to fathom. Yet, even in the midst of his frustration, Job refuses to go away mad. Outraged by his experience, disappointed in God's absence, still Job will not give up his relationship with his one true friend. He will plead with him, complain to him, and argue with him, but he will not forsake him. Neither will his friend.

ATTENTION SOYBEAN GROWERS:

The facts about herbicides and

Roundup Ready™ SOYBEANS
FOR OVER THE TOP APPLICATION

Many chemical companies are spending huge amounts of money trying to convince you to spend up to $20/acre on unnecessary residuals or tank mixes for Roundup Ready Soybeans. Please ask yourself why....

The facts about Roundup Ultra alone:

- 80% of 1997 growers used Roundup alone
- it kills more weeds, more effectively
- Roundup Ultra kills perennials
- it doesn't restrict your crop rotations
- it doesn't stunt or burn your beans
- it saves you money!!!

Roundup ULTRA Herbicide by Monsanto

96% of '97 growers will increase '98 Roundup Ready acres

Why are some companies desperately trying to sell you chemicals you don't need?

It's all you need. Period.

Recommendations for Using Roundup Ultra in Roundup Ready™ Soybeans

1. Start clean!
   - ALWAYS use a burndown in full season soybeans
   - in double crop burndown if needed
2. Plant in as narrow a row as possible
   - the faster the crop canopy the better!
3. Apply 1 quart/acre Roundup Ultra as close to crop canopy closure as is practical
   - weeds are usually 4-8" tall & it is 3-5 weeks after planting
   - if weeds are greater than 8", use 1.5qts.
   - use 1.5-2 qts/A for perennial weeds
   - Apply a second application of Roundup Ultra if needed for later germinating weeds

TIMBER TECH ENGINEERING INC.

CX 351 Mid-Group III
Multi-race (Rps1c) resistance to Phytophthora allows use on poorly drained soils. Adapted to all row widths.

CX 375 Late Group III

CX 377 Late Group III
Very high yield potential. Excellent emergence and seedling vigor. Very good standability and shatter resistance.

CX 399 Late Group III
Outstanding yields. Resistance to 16 races of Phytophthora root rot. Very good emergence and seedling growth.

Some may think doubling our soybean line in two years is a big accomplishment. To us, it's just the beginning.

We're pushing onward and upward with higher yields, improved disease resistance, STS™ varieties and Roundup Ready® soybeans.

Apply compost and organic mulch to any row crop automatically

The versatile Millcreek Row Mulcher makes different sized mulch beds as you need from 18 to 48 wide from 1/2 to 10 deep A mulching program can help you produce a healthier crop while reducing pesticide requirements

From tree fruit to vegetable beds, from bramble crops to vineyards, organic mulch and compost can reduce chemical input for weed suppression, retain soil moisture, and improve soil fertility by adding organic matter to sandy and clay soils

Now Millcreek eliminates the costly labor needed for organic mulch and compost application The remarkable new Millcreek Row Mulcher works with all types of organic material, and even lets you adjust the depth and width of the mulch rows

Starting under $5000, no other machine compares when it comes to capabilities, versatility, and cost effectiveness Rugged construction Five sizes, from 3 4 to 13 cubic yard capacity Custom designs Call today for a free color brochure, or to discuss your specific needs

Boyce's Lil' Ponderosa Farm: One Giant Grazing Experiment

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

CARLISLE (Cumberland Co.) — On a somewhat dreary, overcast day, purebred Angus breeder Bob Boyce leans on a stone wall of his porch, binoculars in hand, observing the cattle in his fields.

Looking toward the southeast, Boyce is watching, through the mist, whether a couple of his cows are coming into heat.

More than a dozen cows either recline, chewing away happily, or meander about, searching for fresh, new growth of an alfalfa-grass mixture on a one-acre paddock on the intensively rotationally grazed farm.

"Isn't this a great spot to keep an eye on the cows?" he says, pointing to the deck on which lawn chairs and a gas-fired grill sit.

He gazes on many of the Angus, but "number 10" — he refers to all the cattle by numbers — stands out.

"Looks like you're begging, number 10," says Boyce over the peaceful sounds of a wind chime. "Yeah, I think she's ready."

To Boyce, the day was exciting because he was about to breed another cow, expanding his steadily growing herd base with some improved genetics.

The grazier and Cumberland County farmer founded Lil' Ponderosa Enterprises, a "grand experiment" in modern farming. In addition to a rotationally grazed cow-calf farm, Lil' Ponderosa is the headquarters for Boyce's haying and fencing equipment dealership. He also sells watering systems, alfalfa and other seeds, and freezer beef and breeding stock. Boyce even operates farm service and financial planning businesses.

Boyce makes it his business to experiment, to try new strategies, as he builds his breeding and freezer beef operation.

He markets freezer beef to more than 50 customers from Pennsylvania and other states, including Virginia, Maryland, and New Jersey.

"My dad had a saying," said Boyce as he reviewed Angus Association registrations. "You're dead when you stop learning."

As he slowly develops his farm and customer base, Boyce is busy experimenting. Those experiments can be as complex as choosing the best alfalfa-grass mix on his more than 150 acres (out of about 256 acres tillable, on three farms) of pastureland, in partnership with Ron Deihl. Or they can be as simple as how to improve soil fertility in selected spots by placing round hay bales and, while cattle eat the hay, spread manure on the ground.

They also include fencing equipment experiments (Boyce prefers the "pigtail" fence posts to allow easy attachment to establish paddocks inside the primary fencing). They include watering systems (one-inch lines buried to 36 inches in depth) to reduce the distance that animals have to walk for water.

The focus of a lot of Boyce and Deihl's pasture studies: finding the best mix. "I'm trying to find the best pasture mixes to grow on dry, shaley ground," he said.

The focus of a lot of Boyce and Deihl's pasture studies: finding the best all-season mixture.

"I'm trying to find the best pasture mixes to grow on dry, shaley ground," Boyce said.

In a remote corner of his property, Boyce cleared trees and brush using a bulldozer. After he pushed the debris aside and applied lime to the area, Boyce used a lane bordering fencerow as an experiment. On the left side, next to woodland to provide shade for the grazing animals, looking down a long slope, he disced over and seeded ryegrass. On the right side, near the fence, he seeded an orchardgrass-perennial ryegrass mix. He uses no fescue on the farm.

Boyce is trying to figure out what types of grasses to use in exercise or "sacrifice" areas. The farm soils are a combination of Weikert and Berks.

But that's not the end of Boyce's experiments. His at-home field-test sites are dotted throughout the farm, from one corner to the next.

In 1986, two years after retiring from 17 years as a marketing professional for AT&T, Boyce and his wife Kate decided to settle on the farm, formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Miller. Boyce discovered the farm while working under contract to Boeing Computer Services in the Cumberland Valley.

In 1996 Boyce started the purebred black Angus operation with nine head. The next year, herd size was increased to 25 head. This year, Boyce and Deihl care for a mixed herd of commercial and purebred stock with an annual total of 72 head. They plan to grow to 100 head soon.

In the years since purchasing the farm, Boyce converted the farm that was run down, on acidic, dry, and shale-type soil, into a grazing farm. It wasn't easy — Boyce had to clear acres of reforested land, shove aside debris, retill and rework a lot of the acreage, lime the soil, put up permanent fence, level the livestock lanes, and set up watering and feeding systems.

In addition, Boyce and wife Kate have been busy on extensive renovations to the house, the yard, and the garden — virtually every aspect of the old farm.

Boyce has been using rotationally grazing systems the past five years, working the systems gradually into a cow-calf operation that supplies show stock to 4-H and fair participants. Lil' Ponderosa has an extensive freezer beef business.

"Our objective," Boyce said, "is to take a small herd and to breed the absolute best."

The Angus Association registered herd includes DHD Traveler 6807 sire genetics mated to a Meadow Mist HD 883-034 dam. More impressive are some of the bull calves on feed. One included a Cruz bull that weaned at 709 pounds at 201 days (calved Sept. 9, 1997). The weight almost matched a yearling Leachman-Prompter bull, calved May 27, 1997, that is ready to breed.

"Genetics do make a difference," said Boyce.

When calving, the dams are moved to a calving area constructed in a barn designed for horses and beef. The cattle have access to calving areas, water, and seven different paddocks.

The paddock system allows the farm to quarantine the animals newly acquired to prevent the introduction of shipping fever and other illnesses to the herd.

Why does Boyce openly graze cattle in an industry that traditionally focuses on confinement and grain feed? Answer: to reduce labor, grow healthier animals, and to improve return on investment.

The two stocks are fed separately.

The finishing stock for freezer beef, Boyce indicated, is grain fed. The ration is composed of 600 pounds of oats, 700-800 pounds of barley, and the balance with ear corn, salt, and minerals.

However, the purebred cows are never fed grain nor corn during their lifetime, he said.

In the winter, alfalfa hay is fed from round bales that are stored. He also feeds smooth bromegrass to all stock. In addition, some clover/timothy/alfalfa and matua/alfalfa bales are kept for winter feed.

Paddocks are also used for hay storage when excess hay is made.

The bullpen contains a loafing shelter measuring 12 by 18 feet near the round bales. The shelter was constructed in April this year.

Additional acres have been chisel plowed and will be planted on the contour with a matua-alfalfa graze mix. Some fields are stockpiled for late-season grazing.

Also, Boyce and Deihl manage a total of 24 acres of corn, 18 acres of soybeans, 10 acres of barley, 8 acres of spelt, 10 acres of oats, and 18 acres of wheat. The majority of what they raise is used on the farm, except for soybeans and wheat, which are cash crops.

Cows that graze are healthier because they are exposed to less bacteria, get fresher feed, and show improved weaning weights. Since only about 17 percent of the beef from Angus animals is marketed for the Certified Angus Beef (CAB) program, grading from mid-Choice to Prime, it is important to breed animals that have some of the best expected progeny differences (EPDs) for marble and ribeye.

The cattle that can finish with the highest degree of muscling and marbling are more likely to be selected for the CAB.

Years ago, Boyce noted, Angus cattle were "short, fat, and square, with their belly dragging on the ground," he said. Now, cows need to be moderate size, with good calving ease, good udders, and marbling — these are characteristics sought after and available through a good breeding program.

In the Lil' Ponderosa program, calves are born at an approximate weight of 80 pounds. They reach about 680 pounds at 205 days and 1,200 pounds at 365 days. Animals may be ready to slaughter in 11-12 months.

Some of the cows have "Dividend" blood in them, one the association recognizes as a premier bull. Those genetics carry over into the finished stock, which can move up in weight, finish quickly and with high quality meat.

With that kind of genetic consistency, Boyce indicated, the prospects are high that they will be part of the 17 percent accepted by the CAB program.

The program is looking for a hot carcass weight of 735-750 pounds with a rib eye area measuring 12.5-14 square inches at a yield grade of 3.0 or lower.

Boyce relies on a lot of sources for information. He regularly consults "The Stockman's Hand-

(Turn to Page A25)

Boyce used a lane bordering fencerow as an experiment. On the left side, next to woodland, looking down a long slope, he seeded ryegrass. On the right side, near the fence, he seeded an orchardgrass-perennial ryegrass mix. He uses no fescue on the farm.

The bullpen also contains a loafing shelter measuring 12 by 18 feet, constructed in April this year.

More impressive are some of the bull calves on feed. One included a Cruz bull, at left, that weaned at 709 pounds at 201 days (calved Sept. 9, 1997). The weight almost matched a yearling Leachman-Prompter bull, calved May 27, 1997, that is ready to breed, at right. He noted that genetics make the difference.

Additional acres have been chisel plowed and will be planted on the contours with an grazing alfalfa-matua mix.

Boyce's Lil' Ponderosa Farm

book," which has a wide source of information for the producer, available for less than $100 for the latest volume. He also relies heavily on information from the Angus Association and the ASCS office.

"I try to avail myself of every piece of information out there," Boyce said.

"This rolling hillside is excellent pasture ground," he said. But he must decide what works best. Boyce also looks at other items, including how to establish the crops: should the ground be chiseled or moldboard plowed? And how long before mature establishment takes place — one year? Two? Three?

On one of the paddocks in view from his house, cows and young stock graze in a grass experiment.

On a strip of land, Boyce divided out two areas. The day before, the stock was allowed to graze both areas, at a starting height of 10 inches — one that has a standard alfalfa and another an orchardgrass/alfalfa mix. The mix contains alfalfa with a denser crown that lies low (it is not as "stemmy" as regular alfalfa), and that can resist trampling. It also has more leaf area.

The cattle are allowed to graze the stands down to about 3 inches before they are moved in a day or two.

What Boyce has discovered is that the cattle prefer young, leafy growth. They'll chose young weeds before they'll eat more mature grass or stemmy alfalfa.

Boyce also has installed different types of fencing. One type, the primary fencing, includes wood or 6- and 8-strand high tensile wire. The secondary grazing areas include 5-acre plots using metal or fiberglass posts holding single-strand wire. The paddock fencing uses a pigtail-post so 9-strand stainless steel and plastic polywire can be easily attached.

Permanent pasture systems on the farm are primarily using five plant varieties: perennial rye, ladino clover, alfalfa-orchardgrass, pure orchardgrass, and smooth bromegrass or matua.

Boyce prefers to use as few inorganic materials and chemicals as possible to feed and care for the herd.

"We don't use implants," he said.

For fieldwork, "we don't use any more chemicals than is absolutely essential." Equipment is kept to a minimum using this grazing operation.

"We believe the cow should do the harvesting and the cow should spread the manure," he said. "The cow should be working for you."

Boyce is working, he said, to become "more in sync with good animal husbandry." He said working with the cattle every day also makes them gentle, more accustomed to people, and easier to transport.

The cattle are not brought inside during stormy or cold weather. Rather, they are moved to an area containing white pine, woodland that offers protection from the effects of not simply cold weather, but wind chill.

The ideal herd size for Lil' Ponderosa, Boyce noted, would be 100 head of purebred cows, a herd which is comprised of replacement heifers, some purebred bulls, a club calf operation, culled purebreds for freezer beef, and commercial stock as necessary to augment the freezer beef business.

"We are trying to maximize all practical elements of the herd," he said, "to achieve the highest dollar potential per pound." To do this, Boyce continues to experiment.

"I wish farmers were more willing to explore and experiment," said Boyce. He believes that producers can do this slowly, in small ways.

He said, "Modern farmers are willing to try new things, willing to accept and adopt change."

Field Diagnostic Clinic To Address Variety Of Grower Concerns

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

ROCKSPRING (Centre Co.) — This year's series of one-day Penn State Agronomic Field Diagnostic Clinics is scheduled Wednesday, July 22 and Thursday, July 23 from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. here at the Russell E. Larson Agricultural Research Center.

The clinics, sponsored by Penn State, offer a variety of topics, according to Dwight D. Lingenfelter, assistant extension agronomist. Participants can attend the full program, offered either of the two days.

The concerns and concepts to be addressed at the clinics include various aspects of agronomy. They include finding out when a field of alfalfa should be rotated to another crop, how to evaluate corn quality, the use of Bt corn in managing European corn borer, the use of herbicide-resistant crops, using sludge or waste materials on fields, and precision agriculture in Pennsylvania.

"These one-day field clinics are designed to improve the agronomic management skills of industry personnel," said Lingenfelter, program coordinator. "Specialists from Penn State and the agricultural community will provide hands-on diagnosis training in crop production, pest management, soil fertility, and soil and water conservation."

Participants choose from a variety of topics and have ample opportunity to diagnose, solve, and discuss crop management problems and situations.

"We try to make it as hands-on as possible," said Lingenfelter of the clinic program, in its 6th year. "We try to generate different scenarios and plots."

Of the six events scheduled, participants can choose five. Each event lasts about an hour. The events are conducted concurrently, according to Lingenfelter. Participants can attend whichever sessions they choose.

The sessions will be coordinated by an extension professional. Some may have industry participation.

"We try to keep it as open and flexible as possible," said Lingenfelter.

In addition to gaining practical ag knowledge, certified crop adviser (CCA) and pesticide applicator license credits can be obtained.

Lingenfelter noted this year's clinic will be similar to past programs. It will focus on various topics related to crop and soil management. "As in the past," he said, "there will be time for discussion and hands-on participation."

Last year, there were about 225 participants in the program, said Lingenfelter. They included crop management consultants, extension agents, producers, marketing professionals, and other agri-industry representatives.

The program includes:

• Alfalfa management, knowing when and how to diagnose trouble. Questions arise: what went wrong with this alfalfa seeding? Is the new seeding worth keeping? How can a poor seeding be improved? When is alfalfa ready to cut? Is a 3-year-old stand worth keeping? Learn how to assess the situation and provide answers to these commonly asked questions. This field session will expose participants to problem situations that might arise in a newly seeded alfalfa field, an established stand, and determining when to give up on an older stand. CCA continuing education units (CEUs): 1.0 crop production (CP).

• Corn grain quality. Corn grain quality is a key issue in Pennsylvania. This session will provide participants with hands-on experience at measuring the key factors that are used to evaluate corn grain quality, such as moisture, test weight, broken corn, and foreign material. Other physical and nutritional aspects of corn that impact corn feed quality and price will also be reviewed. Basic management practices that impact grain quality in the agronomic area as well as in the grain drying, handling, and marketing areas will be covered. After completing this session, participants will have a basic understanding of how to measure corn grain quality and how to manage a corn crop to produce quality grain. CCA CEUs: 1.0 CP.

• Responsible use of Bt corn technology. Bt corn use is on the increase in Pennsylvania for control of the European corn borer. As the percentage of acres planted to Bt corn increases, so does the risk of the pest becoming resistant to the Bt toxin. This station is designed as a hands-on experience to help identify which corn fields may benefit most from the technology and how to assess the potential loss in yield caused by the pest. Identification of the pest and its injury will be included. CCA CEUs: 1.0 pest management (PM).

• Weed management. Total postemergence weed control in soybean and corn. Several opportunities exist for managing weeds postemergence in soybean and corn. How important is application timing, row spacing, residual herbicides, and weed species? This demonstration will highlight management considerations for effectively using total post strategies in soybean and corn. Another topic will be herbicide injury symptoms in corn and soybean. With most herbicide products, there is some risk for injury. What are the injury symptoms on corn or soybeans? This event will demonstrate injury symptoms from several herbicide classes, concentrating on some of the newer products. CCA CEUs: 1.0 PM.

• Use of by-product materials as soil amendments: benefits and risks. There is a growing interest among industries and municipalities to land-apply their residual or waste materials because it is a lower-cost alternative to landfill disposal. These materials are being promoted as beneficial soil amendments for ag soils. The residuals may be provided at low- or no-cost, or the farmer may be paid to accept the material. Are these materials a boon or a bane to your client? In this session, Penn State experts will look at several residuals (see, touch, and smell), and discuss their possible benefits (liming, organic matter, nutrients, and cash flow), management problems (consistency, supply, handling, and odor), and health and environmental risks (salts, pathogens, trace elements, and pollutants). The session will also review the regulatory requirements for using these materials. Materials to be considered will include food processing residuals, construction, and demolition wastes (wallboard), coal combustion by-products, spent lime residuals, spent mushroom compost, other composts, and sewage sludge. CCA CEUs: 1.0 soil and water (SW).

• New technologies for precision agriculture. The training will present the use of aerial photography (near-infrared and black and white) for crop assessment, weed and pest scouting, and water stress. Samples of film-based and scanned digital photography for use in computers will be discussed. The use of global positioning system (GPS) technologies and geographic information system (GIS) technologies will be covered in the training. Principles of building a farm GIS using mapping principles and incorporating various data layers — soil types, sampling, field boundaries, and prescription maps for precision application — will be covered. Precision application sprayer technology will also be presented. CCA CEUs: 1.0 CP.

Registration fee of $40 covers lunch, refreshments, and support materials. Additional program details and registration information can be obtained from Lisa Crytser, Penn State Department of Agronomy, at (814) 865-2543. Registration deadline is July 10. For program information, contact Dwight Lingenfelter at (814) 865-2242.

Hafer Declares TAP 'Dividend'

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — State Treasurer Barbara Hafer recently announced that more than 17,000 families saving for college through the Pennsylvania Tuition Account Program will get an additional $4.3 million in their accounts.

Hafer said the unprecedented action was prompted by "the continuing outstanding performance of the TAP Fund" and will correct for "excess conservatism" in the early years of the fund, when participants were charged high fees. Money that families had paid in "premium" fees will now be credited to their accounts as payments toward future tuition, she said.

The fund was under no legal obligation to make the adjustment, but, Hafer said, "It's the right thing to do. We're not here to see how big a surplus we can amass. We're here to help Pennsylvania families send their kids to college. Every additional dollar we credit to an account will help a family meet its college savings goals."

When the program began in 1993, it charged premium fees that often exceeded 15 percent. The actuarially determined fees were thought necessary to ensure the solvency of the fund.

"In retrospect, we can see that the premiums were not needed," said Hafer. "Thanks to a strong stock market and moderating tuition inflation, the TAP fund is solidly in the black, even without premium charges.

"Converting the premium payments to tuition credits also responds to the valid complaints of the many, many TAP participants who have told us that when they joined, they had no idea they were being charged these high fees," Hafer added.

As auditor general, Hafer had criticized the then-treasurer for failing to disclose the premium fees. Upon taking office as treasurer, Hafer cut the premiums sharply — eliminating them in some cases — and rewrote TAP literature to fully disclose the fees where they still existed.

"Today, we're taking the final step: retroactively abolishing all premiums and crediting the money to individual accounts," said Hafer.

Any premium amount ever paid by the holder of an active TAP account automatically will be credited to the account as a tuition payment, Hafer said. "Some accounts will grow by as much as $7,500. More than 7,000 accounts will get at least a $100 boost. And a thousand families will get $1,000 or more."

TAP is a state-sponsored tuition pre-purchase plan. If, for instance, a participant buys from TAP a semester of Penn State tuition at the current price, TAP guarantees that it will pay for a semester's tuition at Penn State in the future — no matter when, and no matater how much tuition goes up by then.

Premiums were a charge in addition to the school's actual price at the time the purchase was made. Premiums varied based on acturarial assumptions.

Hafer said the program's actuary, Ernst & Young, has now determined that abolishing premiums will not affect the actuarial soundness of the find.

While the biggest beneficiaries of this change are the families who will be getting $4.3 million in additional tuition credits, this also means new participants will be able to join TAP without ever paying premiums," Hafer said.

"That's just one more reason for Pennsylvanians to consider joining TAP. No other program allows our families to buy guaranteed future tuition at the actual price schools charge today — and get important tax breaks, too."

TAP account earnings are state and local tax-free. Federal tax is deferred until the account is used, then charged at the student's rate — even though the purchaser remains in full control of the account.

Anyone can open a TAP account and TAP Credits can be used to pay tuition at any accredited college, university, trade or technical school, anywhere in the country.

Additional information on TAP is available by calling 1-800-440-4000 or by visiting the program's web site, www.patap.org.

Clawsons Concentrate

Clawsons will then buy corn from Auen at the silo on a tonnage basis.

"So far we've used it all," George said, adding he purchased 786 tons of corn last year that Auen grew on about 80 acres of the Clawson farm.

"Whatever is over and above that, he (Auen) harvests it and takes it home."

The result is that the Clawsons have better quality forage than before, more time to comfort their cows, and fewer expenses.

In the past it has taken the Clawsons two weeks to pick all their corn. Auen's harvesting equipment will probably take it off the fields in a couple of days, George said.

The time saved by not having to work in the fields has let the Clawsons pamper their cows with more clean bedding, more fresh air and fresh water, and a more comfortable barn.

"Cow comfort — that's the main thing they stress to us," George said.

The result has been increased milk production.

Back in December 1996, the Clawsons' herd was averaging about 55 pounds of milk per cow per day. Then the Clawsons stopped crop farming and started spending more time with the Holsteins.

"We had nothing under 70 pounds per cow per day by the summer of 1997," George said. And by this spring milk production from Clawsons' 53 cows had edged up to about 75 pounds per cow per day.

The Clawsons previously milked three times per day, but this spring they cut back to twice a day. Milk production dropped only by about four pounds per cow per day — not significant enough to justify the extra work, in George's opinion.

In the old days — especially during the summer — the Clawsons easily spent more time in the field than in the barn with the cows.

"We just fed, bedded, and milked them," George said. "The rest of the time was fieldwork."

The Clawsons have found that their increased presence in the barn during the day encourages the cows to get up and move around more often. And when they do get up, they often eat a little more.

Eliminating crop farming also cut some major expenses.

"Basically I need only one tractor now. Before I had four," George said. "Repair bills just ate us up."

Their equipment maintenance costs now are "next to nothing" because they're not running machinery nearly as much.

Dennis noted farm fuel costs have dropped significantly, too, from approximately 4,000 gallons a year as crop farmers to about 1,500 gallons last year while concentrating on the cows.

One of the first things the Clawsons did with their extra time was start a major remodeling of their barn. They began by pulling off part of the sides.

"We opened the barn up to get a better air flow," George said. "Before, we didn't have an open barn at all. The more we open it up, the better results we see."

He added that even the people caring for the cows feel better with the added light and ventilation.

The barn is cleaner now, also.

"We scrape the barn every day, and they're telling us to scrape it twice a day," George said.

The Clawsons prefer sand for bedding in the stalls.

"Sand is non-organic. It helps curtail the mastitis problem and it keeps the cows cleaner," George said.

Fresh sand is added as often as needed to keep a clean, comfortable pad under the cows. That means about 20 tons per month.

The attached milking parlor — added five years ago — is clean and cool and well-lighted. Eight cows can be milked at once on each side.

Some of the improvements made for increased cow comfort haven't cost anything, Dennis said. For example, in the stalls along the barn walls the Clawsons removed one board from the wall at the cows' eye-level when theyre lying down. The gap allows the cow to gaze out across the pasture while they're resting and have a breeze in their face.

The Clawsons have a few more improvements they want to make. Still to come are curtains for the open sides of the barn and a sprinkler over the feed bunk to keep the cows cooler and encourage them to eat more. In the stalls they want to raise the neck rail about 14 inches so the cows won't bump their heads when they stand up, and they plan to install brisket boards to position the cows better in the stalls when they lie down.

The concentration on cow care at the Clawson farm has made life better not only for the Holsteins but for the Clawsons, too.

"The stress factor is tremendously different," George said. "When you don't have the crop end of it, the stress is much less," especially the tension of coping with the weather at planting and harvesting time.

So why aren't more farmers concentrating on just crop farming or milking cows, but not both?

"Just tradition," is George's explanation. "Traditions are hard to break. It took a lot of years and a lot of people saying to me, 'You need to specialize'."

Ginny suggests the change may just be natural evolution. When she and George were children, she noted, farmers typically raised crops and also had cows, horses, pigs, chickens, and sometimes other animals. Over the years most farmers narrowed their activities to caring for just one species of animal and raising the crops to feed them.

"This is just another specialization," Ginny said.

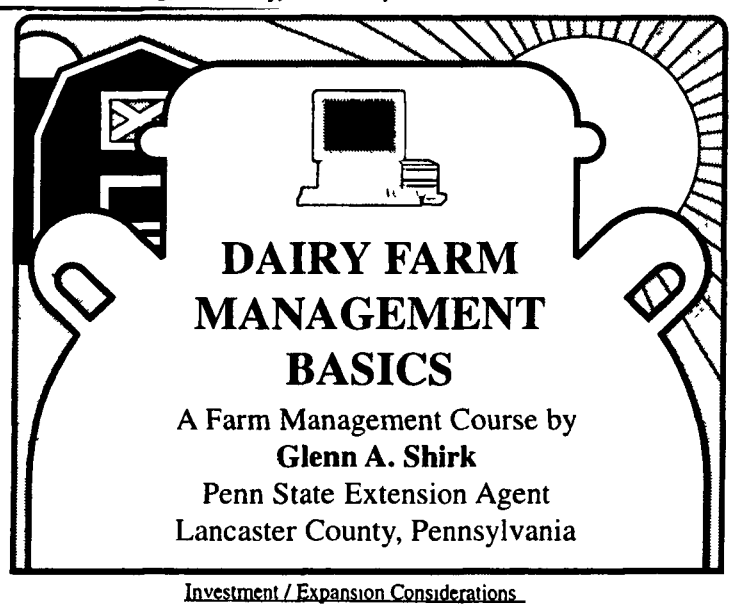
THE LEADER IN THE FIELD



Investment / Expansion Considerations

Be careful not to take on more debt than what the dairy can comfortably handle. Some guidelines are:

1 Limit debt load per cow. The guidelines listed below will vary, depending on economic conditions and management abilities. So push the pencil and determine what you can afford.
   - $2,000 per cow with average production, management and cost control.
   - $3,000 per cow with good production, management and cost control.
   - $4,000 per cow with excellent production, management and cost control.

   Debt servicing costs can take a big bite out of profit margins. See Table 1. Each $1,000 borrowed per cow for 15 years at 8% interest costs $115 per cow per year, or $0.68 per cwt. milk when production is at 17,000 lb. per cow. Increase debt loads to $3,000, and the cost per cow per year goes up to $345.

Table 2. Investment Ratings

Features	Cows	Heifers	Bldgs.	Mach.	Land

12	144	.96	.85	.76	.69	.63

When profit margins improve, debt levels can be increased about $1,000 or so temporarily, to take advantage of opportune times to remodel or expand. Then, the goal should be to pay down debts quickly to a lower, more comfortable level and build additional equity before making the next jump. In other words, expand only at a rate you can afford. Don't get strapped so tight that you have no financial maneuverability.

2. Aim for a good quick return on your capital.
   - Cattle are your best investment! See Table 2. Cows give a good quick return. Feed a cow today, and you get milk tomorrow. Cows also reproduce; no other asset does that! Heifers increase in value with age; most other assets depreciate in value.
   - Keep the stalls filled with healthy, productive, profitable cows.

     When buying cattle to expand the herd, think about how many of them will be culled within the first few months. Also think about how you are going to fill those empty stalls over the next 2-3 years, while you wait for their offspring to become old enough to enter the milking herd. Also ask yourslef, why is the cow being sold, and do I really want her in my herd? In other words, be careful not to purchase problem cows that you'll regret later.
   - Machinery and building pruchases are expenses that should be minimized, but do invest in equipment and facilities that are essential to animal health, animal performance, animal longevaity, and to improving the overall efficiency of the operation.

ATTENTION DAIRY FARMERS!

TIRED of low milk checks? TIRED of unpaid bills?
TIRED of hearing "THERE'S A SURPLUS...
BECOME MORE EFFICIENT...MAKE MORE MILK..."
TIRED of the small 10¢ to 15¢ incentives to stay where you're at? Don't we need ourselves?
ARE WE NOT WORTH MORE THAN CENTS?
FARMERS do we not have the product? (THE POWER IS IN THE TANK)

Pennsylvania Young Farmers Summer Tour Slated

The Tulpehocken Young Farmers cordially invite you to participate in the 1998 Pennsylvania Young Farmers Summer Tour and Conference. This hands-on education program will focus on educational tours of farms and agribusinesses, farmer to farmer sharing of ideas, and the statewide summer business meeting.

The tours and conference is scheduled for Thursday, July 16 and Friday, July 17. The headquarters will be the Tulpehocken High School, located northwest of Bernville. A brief schedule of events is as follows:

Thursday's participants will be able to select one of the following tour schedules: Tour A: Rigidply Rafters, Farmer Boy Ag, Dutch Valley Foods and Tour B: Da-Jac Sawmill, Mor-Dale Dairy Farm, Johnson Farms Nursery, then later in the evening we will host the annual Conference Banquet at Lantern Lodge, Myerstown. Josh Copp, former Tulpehocken FFA member will provide the musical entertainment for the evening. Josh won national honors in the FFA talent contest.

Friday the activities include tours of Skyline Acrs a new 450-cow dairy facility, MT Springs Resort & Rodeo, complete with a rodeo demonstration, and Roadside America, the nation's largest miniature village and train display. We will have lunch at Kaufman's Bar-B-Que Ranch and Miniature Golf Course.

Mark you calendar now and plan on attending. Registration deadline is July 1. For hotel accommodations, call the Lantern Lodge at 717-866-6536, a block of rooms are being held at a discount rate for Young Farmer members, to get the special room rate your reservation must be made by June 24.

1999 National Young Farmers Educational Institute

Excitement is growing as the plans are falling into place for the 1999 National Young Farmers Educational Institute in Hershey, Pa. The convention will bring together farmers and educators from all over the United States to the Hershey Lodge and Convention center on December 8-11, 1999.

At the reason meeting the committee coordinators revealed progress being made. Some exhibitors are committed, but many more are needed. Sponsors and contributors are being sought for this big event. Contact Frederick Bohn, 2 Georgie Lane, Richland, PA 17087, 717-866-9116. Currently planning includes tours of the Gettysburg area, Kutztown area, Lancaster area, and Lebanon area.

Educational seminars are being scheduled for Saturday, December 11, with six seminars repeating themselves and two longer sessions for panel discussions.

It was reported that the banquets are already scheduled, and a list of potentional speakers and entertainers is being developed, including going to Sight and Sound Theatre in Strasburg, Pa. Ladies programs include shopping at Rockvale Square, food demonstrations, crafts, miniseminars, and a holiday tour. Advisers seminars will include timely topics for the executive secretaries who attend from the other states.

A timeline was developed to allow everyone to coordinate planning activities.

All program information is to be turned in August 1. On September 15 programs will be ready for the printer, and by November 15, the programs will be ready for distribution.

If anyone is interested in helping with this event, additional assistance will be appreciated. Contact 1999 National Institute Chairman Larry Wilkinson, 555 Rentzel Rd., Gettysburg, PA 17325, 717-334-6993.

President's Report

As I sit writing this most of Pennsylvania's farmers are waiting as fast as they can for the rain to end so we can all get in the fields again and try to get back on schedule for the year. Hopefully the above average rainfall this spring is indicative of adequate rainfall amounts this summer also.

This past winter has been very interesting and busy as I have had the privilege of visiting many local chapters activities and banquets. It is especially encouraging for me to see the PYFA at the local level, see new people getting involved, as well as meeting old friends. I am impressed with the effort and support that I see in many areas. I enjoyed the warm welcome at each activity and thanks to the Cedar Crest chapter, I am now literally full of bologna! Thanks again Dick!

Coming up this summer are the NYFEA Summer Leadership Conference in Orlando, Florida, July 3 - 6 and the Pa. Summer Conference on July 16 and 17, being hosted by the Tulpehocken Chapter. I would encourage any of you who can to plan to attend these activities. Also, coming up before we know it will be the 1999 Winter Convention, February 2-4, 1999, hosted by the Manheim Chapter at the Comfort Inn, Centerville Road located at the Centerville exit of Route 30 west of Lancaster. Some real interesting tours and sessions are being planned. Come out, support the Young Farmers, enjoy and learn.

David Groff, Pennsylvania Young Farmers Association president.

Animal Medic Breaks New Ground

MANCHESTER (York Co.) — The Gladfelter family — Larry, Sr., his wife Lois, and their son Larry, Jr., owners of Animal Medic, along with Barry Noll, vice president; Terry Prowell, operations manager; Robert Jensenius, vice president of the York Chamber of Commerce; Shirley Senft, account manager; and George Guyer, senior vice president of The Drovers Bank, broke ground for the 14,500-square-foot climate-controlled warehouse addition being built in Manchester.

The Drovers Bank is financing the project and the building is being constructed by Cumberland Building Systems.

Gladfelter, who founded Animal Medic in 1970, credited the good Lord, the perseverance of his family, great associates, and thousands of loyal customers for creating Animal Medic's success. Animal Medic employs 37 associates and distributes animal health, pet, farm, and home supplies to veterinarians, dealers, livestock producers, and pet owners predominately throughout the Northeast via a fleet of 14 climate-controlled trucks.

Animal Medic also has a pet supply store, provides a dog and cat grooming service, has a self-storage facility, and provides a mail order service available to customers nationwide.

Animal Medic started in the Gladfelter home. In 1971 they relocated into a larger facility (the former Emigsville Grange Building) and opened a pet supply store and added additional staff. In 1973 they found it necessary to construct the present facility that houses Animal Medic. When completed, the entire facility will be climate-controlled, with racked and palletized warehousing that service the needs of Animal Medic and their customers into the next century.

bership may be declining in some areas, according to Cole, the message about the largest youth agriculture organization in the world continues to be broadcast.

This year, that broadcast may be stepped up a bit, as chapters continue to communicate FFA's message.

Here's a rundown on the 10 new officers.

President

New Pennsylvania FFA President Luke Zerby is a 1998 graduate of West Snyder High School.

The son of Nevin and Isabel Zerby, Beavertown, Zerby works on the family's 150-acre Zerby Farms sheep operation, which includes 150 head of Southdown, Dorset, and Shropshire sheep.

Zerby has served as West Snyder FFA president and was SUN Area president. He was chapter vice president of community development. Zerby has completed projects in sheep breeding, finishing, swine finishing, beef breeding, beef finishing, corn for grain, and alfalfa hay. The family farms a total of 225 acres, including rented ground.

A 1998 Keystone Degree recipient, Zerby noted he plans to attend Penn State to major in dairy and animal science.

While he was still in the midst of orientation to the new position as state president, Zerby knows some of the activities he will be involved in during the following months. He will help out at the Ag Progress Days display and attend the Hoss Fore FFA Golf Tournament, scheduled Monday, July 20 at the Foxchase Golf Course in Stevens.

He will also speak to various chapters.

The number one accomplishment as a chapter officer was hosting a team-building weekend at a cabin owned by a member in Beavertown last month. The goal as a county leader was to get the officer team involved in helping disseminate information to the public about FFA.

Zerby continues a family tradition. Two older siblings, Matt, 1990, served as state reporter. Jenny, 1994, served as state president.

Vice President

Herb Hoffeditz, from the Conococheague Chapter, as state vice president, hopes to pass on his knowledge of agriculture and the FFA to members.

The focus of Herb's supervised agriculture experience (SAE) has been on growing a dairy herd of registered Holsteins and Guernseys, which includes five milking cows and seven heifers.

Hoffeditz is the only member of the state officer team who attended a year of college at Penn State Mont Alto campus before running for office.

He believes his biggest accomplishment through the FFA was when he helped lead his farm business management team to a first place finish at the state level. The three members on his team also held the top three individual scores. Hoffeditz had the first place individual score.

After his term is complete, Hoffeditz plans on continuing his college education and graduating from Penn State with a degree in agriculture education. He decided on this career path after being inspired by his agriculture teacher's dedication to improving their FFA program and increasing membership.

Eastern Region Vice President

Britina Robinson, Solanco FFA chapter, is the new state eastern region vice president.

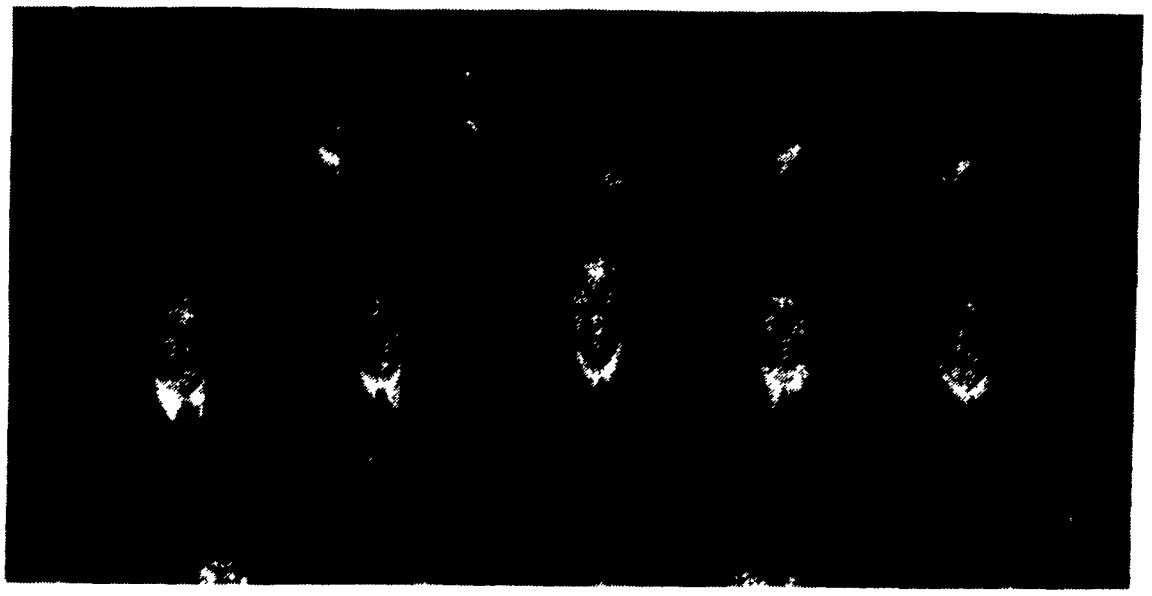
Robinson, daughter of Boyd and Jean Robinson of Drumore, serves as second vice president of the Solanco FFA chapter. She has also served as president and secretary.

Robinson's SAE projects have included beef finishing, raising and selling Holstein steers, and off-farm work experience.

She has won awards for public speaking proficiency. Besides being an active member of FFA, Robinson enjoys participating in the shot put and discus contests on her high school track team.

She has also shared her choral talent in many high school drama productions.

After her term as a state officer, Robinson will continue to pursue a major in agricultural engineering at Texas A&M.



The 1998-1999 state FFA officer team, front row, from left, Karen Reed, western region vice president; Jennifer Witmer, south central region vice president; Danielle Cowden, treasurer; Laurie Bish, secretary; and Allyson Cole, reporter. Back row, from left, Travis Donough, sentinel; Herb Hoffeditz, vice president; Luke Zerby, president; Daniel Kreider, chaplain; and Britina Robinson, eastern region vice president.

Western Region Vice President

New western region vice president is Karen Reed.

Reed, daughter of Kenny and Jana Reed, Derry, is the president of Derry FFA.

Reed noted that she hopes to show other FFA members the opportunities, fun, friends, and leadership skills that the organization can bring. She noted that she has been involved with agriculture all of her life.

Her projects included working with beef projects. She won a bronze state award for her beef production record-keeping.

Outside of FFA, Reed has been involved in 4-H, track, basketball, reading, and hiking. She plans on attending Delaware Valley College to major in agricultural education after serving as state officer. She then hopes to teach agriculture in a school with an FFA chapter.

South Central Region Vice President

Jennifer Witmer is the new Pennsylvania FFA south central region vice president. From the Cumberland Valley FFA, Witmer raises, shows, and sells sheep and swine for her supervised agricultural experiences. She also obtained a black belt in Tae Kwon Do.

Witmer was motivated by the enthusiasm of past state officers to run for a state office. She hopes to give back to the FFA and have the same impact on the current FFA members that other officers have had on her.

After completing her term as a state officer, Witmer plans to attend Penn State university to major in an agricultural field.

Secretary

Having the opportunity and the chance to get involved round out the main reasons Laurie Bish, East Berlin, the new state secretary, enjoys FFA.

Her philosophy when she applied to become a state officer is interesting: "What you put into something is what you are going to get out of it."

She has served as York County's FFA president and as Dover FFA's vice president. She also served as York County's treasurer.

Influenced by her older brother to join FFA, she was inspired by her adviser, Nick Stollar, and the past state officers.

While in the FFA, she completed projects in market swine. She raised and has shown and sold market hogs for her SAE project.

After her term is over, Bish plans to attend Delaware Valley College and work toward a career in the field of large animal science.

Treasurer

When she first saw the state convention in ninth grade, Danielle Cowden, from the H.G. Parkinson (Fort Cherry) FFA, knew she wanted to become a state officer. She is the new state treasurer.

Cowden also competed on the first place parliamentary procedure team at the state convention. For her SAE, Cowden raises beef and swine and also shows and sells them.

Outside FFA, Cowden has attended the 1997 Governor's School for the agricultural sciences. She was also involved in cheerleading, student council, and various community service projects.

After her term as state officer, Cowden plans to attend Ohio State University to major in ag business and economics. She then hopes to become an agricultural attache in Eastern Europe or Japan.

Reporter

Allyson Anne Cole, 17, is the daughter of N. Jean and Edward T. Cole, Littlestown. She grew up on a 15-acre farmette with a small herd of Longhorn cattle.

The Littlestown FFA president has served on all committees at the chapter and has trained horses.

She has completed projects in horse and swine production.

Cole noted she worked at The Land Of Little Horses in Gettysburg.

Also, Cole noted she has worked closely with the local newspapers and statewide farm papers in providing information about the chapter. She believes that is important.

Cole noted that statewide FFA membership is declining. She believes in the importance of "getting more people interested" in FFA through the work of communication.

She is in charge of setting up displays about the state association, including the one at this year's Ag Progress Days in Rockspring.

Sentinel

New state sentinel is Travis Donough from Manheim.

Donough, son of Ed and LaRue Donough, Manheim, has completed various SAE projects, including market swine, market steers, sheep production, and work experience on a dairy farm.

Travis noted he had aspirations of running for state office since eighth grade. His advisers at Manheim FFA also encouraged him to run and were one of his main inspirations. He is also looking forward to meeting new people, traveling, and the public speaking opportunities as state sentinel.

After serving as state sentinel, Donough plans to go to college and major in an agricultural field. He plans to pursue a career in agriculture.

Chaplain

Daniel Kreider, a beef farmer with a herd of Angus crossbred cattle, was recently elected as state chaplain.

Kreider, Cedar Crest FFA member, is the son of Harold and Barbara Kreider, Lebanon. He served as Cedar Crest vice president and president and county reporter and president.

Kreider has completed projects in beef finishing and on-farm employment. He received awards in forestry proficiency and wildlife proficiency for three straight years, first in the county creed contest, first in the county extemporaneous public speaking event two years in a row, and second in the area extemporaneous contest in 1997.

Kreider's other interests include baseball, softball, basketball, hunting, and fishing.

One day, he plans to operate his own beef cattle farm in Lebanon County.

Golf For FFA

DENVER (Lancaster Co.) — It's the 6th Annual Fore FFA Golf Tournament, coming here July 20.

It's time to set aside the pens, pitchforks, and skid loaders for an afternoon of fun on the links, as the Pennsylvania FFA Foundation hosts its annual fundraising event at the Foxchase Golf Course, near Denver, and the Hawk Valley Golf Club, near Bowmansville.

Because of the overwhelming participation, like last year, the shotgun-start tournament will be held at the two golf courses. Registration and lunch will be from 11 a.m.-12:45 p.m. at the Foxchase Golf Course. The shotgun scramble begins at 1 p.m.

Immediately following the tournament, hors d'oeuvres will be served at the Foxchase pavilion. A dinner and awards ceremony will follow. Included is the special auction to also raise money for the foundation.

Cost for participating golfer is $85, which includes a contribution to the future of FFA, a complimentary mulligan, golfing, a bucket of driving range balls, lunch, the 1 p.m. shotgun scramble, refreshment carts on course, contests and prizes, a complimentary "Happy Hour," and the dinner and auction.

There are several sponsorship categories, including the grand champion, for $2,000; the Hole-In-One Contest for $1,500; the Driving Range Sponsor, at $1,250; the Show Champion Sponsor, for $1,000; the 19th Hole Sponsor, for $750; the Refreshment Sponsor, for $500; the Par Three Contest, for $400; the Putting Contest or Longest Drive Contest for $300; Hole Sponsors, for $250; and Team Awards Sponsor for $150.

More than 8,500 state FFA members benefit from participation in the tournament.

To sign up, contact the Pennsylvania FFA Foundation, P.O. Box 10493 Calder Square, State College, PA 16805. For information, contact Kerry Hoffman at (814) 353-9230.

Named NPLC Officer

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — Robert Schrull, executive secretary of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association was elected to the National Pedigreed Livestock Council (NPLC) at its annual meeting in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The National Pedigreed Livestock Council, is an organization of various non-profit breed associations of dairy, horse and pony, sheep, goat, swine, beef and specialty species, held its annual meeting May 6-8, at the American Angus Association headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

A total of 50 CEOs and guests attended the event which was sponsored by the American Angus Association. Among the highlights from this year's meeting was the election of officers and directors for 1998-1999.

The Ayrshire Breeders' Association is the national organization for the registration and promotion of Ayrshire cattle and is headquartered in Brattleboro, Vermont.

"Whatever the hopes, dreams and wishes of the outside world in terms of their neighborhood environments, these things are best served if we have a strong and healthy agriculture—one that is economically robust—so that we can invest in the things necessary to bring about these societial goals. Some people argue only from the environmental side," Hayes said. "I tell them we can join in their discussions. But if they ignore the economic feasability of their proposals, they will not be able to achieve their goals—unless they want to chase agriculture out of Pennsylvania—and I stand separate from them on that and unalterably opposed. We have to work together to find economically feasible solutions to whatever problems beset us."

Hayes reported that the partnership of PDA, New Bolton Center, and Penn State animal health laboratories has achieved national accreditation. In addition, new efforts are to be made to make Pennsylvania pseudo-rabies and TB free. Avian Influenza has caused a rugged year for the poultry industry, but the monitored flock program continues on patrol every day and has so far made the experience better in the number of flocks involved, compared with 1983 when the disease swept the industry.

The new state budget has been forged ahead of schedule and includes significant increases for agriculture in areas of nutrient management, marketing, ag research and food distribution programs. Hayes called it "the best budget for agriculture that I can remember."

"In the past, this department of agriculture has been impoverished in terms of its ability to serve agriculture. There has never been quite the right political mix for PDA to be properly armed with the resources to best serve our industry. This year, all the necessary factors came together, and we will do our best to manage those resorces well."

To keep agriculture strong in Pennsylvania, Hayes said we need to preserve our natural resource base of farmland and water. Currently, Pennsylvania as a matter of public policy, is preserving more farmland than any other state. State farmland preservation recently reached a milestone of 100,000 acres in the preservation programs.

Hayes said the recent research symposium was conducted to see what can be done for current problems facing agriculture. He said that research programs need to be relative to the issues being faced by the men and women in agriculture. And there needs to be a degree of transferability from the research site to the user site. There must be a chance for profit from the research, and it must have a cost effective quality.

Agricultural odors may be the most pressing of research topics. "I am quite sure a good bit of our problem could be avoided if there were a way to suppress agricultural odors," Hayes said. "This is probably the first thing that brings people together against our agriculture operations. After they get together, they talk about a lot of other things, but odors drive them together.

"We need to find ways to bring harmony with ourselves and those who live around us. It's a very ambitious undertaking, but if we want to maintain agriculture in a very robust way and be sure agriculture stays here in Pennsylvania, we need to address these societal problems."

The next Ag Issues Forum is scheduled back in Lancaster County on July 9, 1998. The subject is Tax Reform. For more information you may call Brubaker at (717) 859-3276.

Ayrshire Breeders To Hold Convention

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — Several hundred breeders of registered Ayrshire dairy cattle will be on hand in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, June 24-27, bringing bovines to the Five Seasons Center downtown as they conduct business and enjoy events surrounding the Ayrshire Breeders' Association annual convention.

Those attending will be involved in a variety of events, including a cruise on the Mississippi Belle, tours of the Amana Colonies and visits to eastern Iowa dairy farms.

"We're promising these people they'll enjoy Iowa and have fun with lots of different activities," said Shirley Newell, one of the co-chairs of the meeting. The Iowa Ayrshire Breeders' Association is host for the convention, which is held in a different part of the country each year.

While in Cedar Rapids, outstanding cattle of the breed will be displayed at the Five Seasons Center, and on the concluding day they will be sold in the annual Grant National Sale. The breed is enjoying renewed interest from dairymen of other breeds for their profitability and grazing ability. The sale is open to the public.

Tours of four eastern Iowa Ayrshire farms will take place on Thursday of the event.

Visitors will see the farms of Darryl and Teresa Keehner of Guttenburg; Tom and Sara Kruse of Dyersville; Gerry, Mary Ann, David and Karen Koss of Epworth; and Gary and Carla Zumbach of Coggon. The group will also tour FarmTek of Dyersville.

Youth members of the association also have activities planned, including a knowledge bowl and an awards breakfast honoring accomplishments of those involved with cattle at the junior level.

Business during the convention will include seating national directors and charting the organization's course for the coming year.

Two seminars, "Genetic Vision" and "Internet and the Dairy Operation" will take place on Friday afternoon, led by Iowa State University experts.

For more information about the national convention, contact Howard and Sharon Keehner at (319) 252-1018 or Gene and Shirley Newell at (319) 285-4144.

The Ayrshire Breeders' Association is the national organization for the registration and promotion of Ayrshire cattle and is headquartered in Brattleboro, Vermont.

Adams Conservation District Schedules Field Day

JINNY WILT
Adams Co. Correspondent

GETTYSBURG (Adams Co.) — Does making your farming operation more profitable intrigue you?

Information on doing just that will be on the agenda of Farm Field Day sponsored by the Adams County Conservation District from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. June 30.

David Kann Jr., the district's Chesapeake Bay nutrient management technician, asks those wanting to join the tour to call (717) 334-0636 to reserve a spot for the day, which kicks off with coffee and donuts at the United Brethren Church in Heidlersburg, next to the fire hall.

The group will first travel to the Lobaugh Farms, where different types of manure storage will be discussed.

"It's not too often that you have farm operations that has three types of manure storages in close proximity so it makes it very accessible for the bus to come in . . . there are three distinct styles with the slurry above ground, a slurry with a ramp inground, and a stack storage," Kann said.

The most recent storage facility built on a Lobaugh farm is an 80-foot circular concrete tank in the ground with a ramp and was constructed under the Chesapeake Bay Program, according to Kann.

"Those storages are very new and in fact the design for those was approved in 1996. The first storage like that went in in Franklin County.

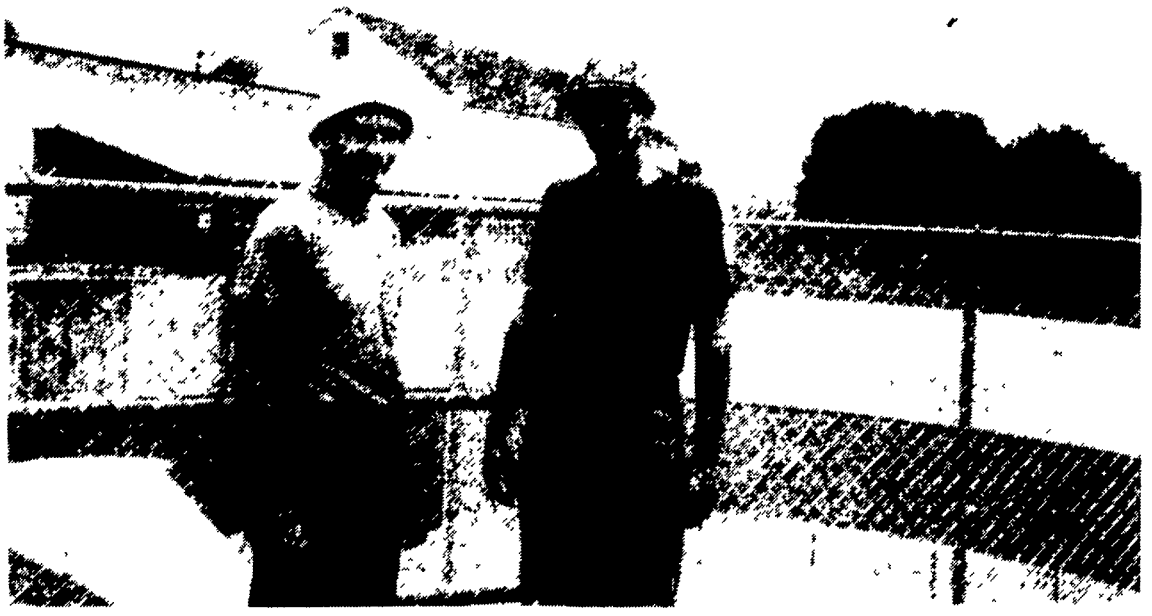
"So with farmers using a lot more bedding or different styles of bedding with lime and sand, their fear was that you couldn't get down and get that material out of the bottom. Now the engineers have designed these storages with the ramps so you can pump out as much as you can, but if you get a lot of heavy stuff settling in the bottom you can access with the ramp. You can go down there with the front end loader and clean the heavier stuff out," Kann explained.

Depending on the weather, the manure will be able to be hauled as a solid or a liquid.

A second manure storage is an above-ground tank that has been in operation since 1980, according to Dean Lobaugh.

And the third is the stackable facility on the farm operated by Vince Lobaugh. Its contract with the Chesapeake Bay Program will end this fall.

On this storage pit, Kann said, "Whatever rain falls on it bleeds out through a pipe system and the material going through the pipe goes on vegetation. The grass can actually suck up the nutrients that are in that dirty water. We don't like these types of storages for barn lots that have a lot of exposed area and get a lot of rain water because it's just too much water to go through a pipe work and send into a filter such as a grassy area," Kann said.



At left, Dean Lobaugh and his brother Vince Lobaugh are in partnership in three farms off of Lobaugh Road near Aspers in Adams County. They are standing in front of a recently completed concrete ramp manure pit on the one farm. The new pit was installed under the Chesapeake Bay Program through the Adams County Conservation District.

Speakers at the Lobaugh farms will talk about options for manure storage and odor control.

Kann will also provide information on manure spreader calibration.

Gary Helm of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Legal Service will provide information on estate transfer including common estate planning documents, taxes affecting operations and transfer and tools for lifetime transfer of a farm.

Amy Skvarka of Pennsylvania Farmlink, Inc. will discuss her agency and what it has to offer.

Larry Swartz of Penn State Cooperative Extension and Vince McCollum of the conservation district will provide information on nitrogen trials.

There will also be information on the tour on a stream bank fencing program and riparian buffers, alternative crops, a woodlot management plan and the best management practices for woodlots and harvesting techniques.

Sukup maintains warehouses in Nebraska, Illinois, Arkansas, Minnesota and Ohio. The main manufacturing facilities are located in Sheffield, Iowa and Jonesboro, Ark.

Pa. Mushroom Growers Cut Costs With Company's Help

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — More than 60 Pennsylvania mushroom growers, clustered in a 7.5 mile radius around Nottingham, recently converted from hand-formed boxes to machined cartons with the help of Inland Paperboard and Packaging, Inc.

This changed shaved 8 percent to 12 percent from the smaller grower's unit packaging costs, enabling them to compete more effectively with larger entities.

With input from mushroom packers, Inland placed a box machine and distribution center in the middle of the Nottingham region. Growers order boxes daily—or even hourly—and Inland delivers machine-formed cartons the same day. "I was one of the first growers to talk to Inland about my specific needs, "said Mike Basciani, owner of Basciani Foods. "Their advances contributed meaningfully to increasing my bottom line."

Inland's use of a high-efficiency glue joint box, using 25 percent less paper than hand-fold boxes, completely offset the cost of automated machinery. Inland's solution also allows for "just-in-time delivery." This is especially important for delicate products such as mushrooms.

Inland's understanding of mushroom packers' needs extends to services created especially for the Nottingham growers. When a packer's vacuum cooler, labeler, tape machine or other mushroom equipment breaks down at 5 a.m., repairs cannot wait until 8 a.m. Growers can page an Inland technician 24 hours a day, seven days a week—even if they are not Inland customers.

Novel mushroom varieties, calling for new packaging and graphics, come to market every day. Inland's network of local partners enables speedy turnaround of art, printing plates, and cutting dies. Growers can have brand new package designs in just two or three days—instead of two or three weeks.

Previously, more than two-thirds of the Nottingham farmers couldn't afford to print their company names on generic brown boxes. By amortizing plate costs over each grower's packaging program, Inland made high-quality graphics financially attainable for these small customers. Eighty percent of the farms now ship their products in custom-printed boxes.

Dekalb To Develop Grower, Environment-Friendly Corn

DEKALB, Ill. – DeKalb Genetics Corporation (NYSE: DKB-news) said it is moving forward in developing corn hybrids with reduced phytate content.

Low-phytate corn has the potential to be of great value to swine and poultry producers in geographic areas having large concentrations of livestock such as the southeastern United States, the upper Midwest, and the central and southern plains.

Dekalb is among the first seed companies to license the low-phytate trail from the USDA. With development now in process. Dekalb low-phytate corn is expected to be ready for planting within the next few years and will be available in an array of hybrids.

This environmentally and nutritionally valuable product will complement Dekalb's portfolio of specific trait products, which includes Bt corn, Roundup Ready (R) corn, glufosinate-resistant (GR(TM)) corn, and high oil corn. Additional traits targeted to the animal feed industry, such as high-lysine soybeans, high-lysine corn and high-tryptophan corn, are expected to be available to farmers in the next few years.

Phytate is a naturally occurring compound used by plants to store phosphorus. But when corn is fed to monogastric (single stomach) animals such as swine and poultry, phytate can inhibit the absorption of phosphorus by the animals, resulting in a need to use phosphorus supplements or phytase enzymes as feed additives. Low-phytate corn would reduce grower need for these costly additives. More than 50 percent of all U.S. corn produced is fed to swine or poultry.

Low-phytate corn also holds the promise of reducing the phosphorus concentrations of swine and poultry wastes that are currently applied to farmland. When undigested phosphorus passes through animals, it can build up excessive levels in heavily manured soils. Excess phosphorus in soil has been shown to reduce grain yields and is sometimes a threat to water quality. Phosphorus runoff is suspected to cause excessive algae blooms in some bodies of water such as the Chesapeake Bay.

KALIDA, OHIO–Unverferth Manufacturing Company, Inc. announces the addition of the Ripper-Stripper™ strip-till subsoiler to its line of tillage implements. The Ripper-Stripper subsoiler is ideal for preparing seed bed for planting whether the farmer is cutting through prior-year crop or cover crop residue.

The Ripper-Stripper implement is designed to shatter hardpan up to 18 inches deep, allowing plant roots, soil moisture and nutrients to move freely into the subsoil. Steep-sloped, special-alloy shanks are fitted with triangular-shaped wearbars for extended shank life and enhanced soil-slicing action. Narrow-profile 3/4-inch thick shanks minimize heaving and with the raised-center shank points break up the hardpan with minimal soil disturbance. The shear-bolt free, automatic reset shanks trip rearward and upward to make rocks and other in-field obstacles a minimal concern.

Two offset, fluted coulter blades, positioned behind each shank, till and mix the soil, helping create the raised seedbed necessary for optimum seed germination and vigorous, early plant growth. Parallel-link mounting keeps the coulters operating at a level and consistent depth; angle and downpressure are easily adjusted to match varying soil conditions. Fifteen-inch wide Rolling Harrow® baskets with scalloped, angled blades follow the coulters to mix and mulch the soil and smooth the surface. Optional heavy-duty, shear-bolt protected row markers provide a clearly visible mark in a variety of soils, residue and terrain.

The Ripper-Stripper strip-till subsoiler is available in four-row with 38-inch spacing, or six-row models with 30-inch or 38-inch row spacings. Additional features include the heavy-duty 6-inches x 6-inches welded frame construction for added durability and stabilizer wheels with new, 9.50L x 15, six-ply tires that provide enhanced depth control and in-field stability.

Dairy Management Tour Set For Franklin County

CHAMBERSBURG (Franklin Co.) — A "Map On Tour" will be held in Franklin County on June 23 at JO-BRIDEN Farms, located along Mongul Road, Newburg.

Joseph and Doris Musser and sons Brian and Dennis operate a 170-cow JO-BRIDEN dairy operation.

Map-on-Tour gives visitors the opportunity to meet and hear from producers who made changes in their farming operations after attending a two-day Dairy-MAP workshop.

Joseph Musser and son Dennis attended the Managing For Success (MFS) workshop at Chambersburg during the winter of 1995.

As a result, the family moved forward with forming a partnership and built a new 100-stall six row free stall barn in the fall of 1995.

The MFS workshop applies general business management techniques to the dairy business. These concepts include planning, organizing, directing, staffing, and controlling business resources to meet established goals.

The open house will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Introductions and comments from the Musser family will begin at 11 a.m. Refreshments and a tour of the facilities will follow.

If you plan to attend, please call the Franklin County Extension Office (717-263-9226) by June 22. This will help organizers plan for the refreshment needs.

At the Musser operation, Joseph is the overall general manager with Brian in charge of the dairy herd and Dennis handling the cropping enterprise. Forages are stored in bunker silos and high moisture barley is incorporated into the ration.

Sand is used in the free stalls and a post and rail feed barrier is in place at the feed line The 23-year-old, double-four milking parlor has recently been revamped.

To get to the farm from Route 11 in Shippensburg, turn onto Route 533 west. Go about a half mile to Lurgan Avenue. Turn right onto Lurgan Avenue and travel 2/10 mile to the Roxbury Road.

Turn left onto Roxbury Road and travel 3 8 miles to Mongul Road. Turn right onto Mongul Road and go about a mile to the farm lane on the left

CONGRATULATIONS TO SKYLINE ACRES AND THE HIX FAMILY FOR OVER 40 YEARS OF COMMITMENT TO AGRICULTURE AND THE DAIRY INDUSTRY

First Union Bank believes "The Family Farm is the Backbone of Agriculture." On behalf of all dairy farmers, we are pleased to salute the success of Skyline Acres, near Shartlesville, PA. The Hix family of western Berks County, standing before their newly constructed 450-cow facility, have been in the dairy business since 1946. They currently farm approximately 750 acres and have 450 cows and 125 heifers. Their current herd average is over 21,000 lbs/cow. The Hix family are members of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau and Tulpehocken Young Farmers. John is also a township supervisor.

A SALUTE TO DAIRY FARMERS. EVERY MONTH IS DAIRY MONTH WITH US.

June is National Dairy Month and at First Union/CoreStates Bank we feel you deserve credit more than one month out of the year.

Managing a successful dairy operation requires working capital year round. We're here to help you meet your financial needs.

Dairy is a major agricultural enterprise in Pennsylvania and Maryland and First Union/CoreStates Bank is proud to be a major lending source to agriculture.

Ladew Topiary Gardens Attract Thousands

JINNY WILT
Adams Co. Correspondent

MONKTON, Md. — Harvey Smith Ladew grew up in the privileged and fashionable New York of the late 1800s.

He frequently toured Europe with his wealthy parents and sister where he was trained in the art of grandeur and collecting. A training that led to a grand facility that still brings beauty and splendor to those who visit it — Ladew Topiary Gardens near Monkton, Md.

Ladew's road to Maryland started upon the deaths of his parents when he was not interested in running the family business that involved the manufacture of leather belts for machinery. Selling the business, he said he would play until he was 50 and then find a job. He never did have to go to work. His sister, too, faired well financially when she married into the wealthy Grace family.

Ladew loved fox hunting and for 21 seasons hunted in the United States, England, Ireland, and France and through the sport eventually came to Maryland. He said of the state "Hunting was keen and the fences weren't wire," as they were near his home on Long Island.

In 1929, at age 43, he bought Pleasant Valley Farm which is located at 3535 Jarrettsville Pike in Harford County. The first half of the house dated to the late 1700s and the second half of the structure was built in the early 1800s. While he had lived in and visited some of the most grand homes in the world, this was not one of them. But what he saw in the property were its fields and rolling hills that could be used for fox hunting.

The only flowers on the property were on a dying lilac bush which Ladew "promptly put out of its misery," he said.

He set about rebuilding the house and today a volunteer will take vistors on tours of the home where his collection of fox hunting memorabilia is on display. Paintings and photos of Ladew in hunting garb — he was master of the Elkridge-Harford Hunt — hang on the walls.

After buying an oval Chippendale partners' desk, Ladew found it was too large for his office or his drawing room. A friend suggested he build a room around it which became an oval library that holds nearly 3,000 volumes of modern first editions, biographies, art books, French literature, travel editions, and gardening.

His pinks — the red coat worn for fox hunting — hangs in his bedroom next to his handmade boots. The story goes that a servant lost his job when Ladew found him putting the wrong size show tree into his boots.

While the home of Ladew, who never married, is comfortable and features much for the collector to see, it is the gardens that seem to be his most memorable legacy.

The gardens and home are watched over by a private nonprofit foundation that still includes some of his family members in addition to friends. A board of trustees also assists in seeing that Ladew's instructions are followed, according to Karen Babcock, public relations coordinator.

Upon his death in 1976, Ladew bequeathed the gardens and his manor house for the educational and cultural enrichment of the public.

She explained that the estate covers 264 acres with gardens on 22 of those acres. With the help of 200 volunteers from Baltimore and Harford counties the facility is open from April 15 to Oct. 31.

A staff of 12 — half are gardeners — take care of the business of running the estate.

Babcock noted that a new head of gardens, Jim McDaniels, who has had 10 years experience on the topiary and roses staff at Longwood Gardens, near Kennett Square, has joined the staff.

The gardens are the dream and the work of Ladew. He is quoted as saying, "When I first bought the farm I decided to do all the landscaping and planning of the gardens myself, although I knew I would make a lot of mistakes. I made the mistakes, but they taught me the little I know about gardening."

Today the volunteers tell visitors Ladew had help, but the gardens are the result of his work and designs.

In 1971 he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal of the Garden Club of America. The prestigious garden club also called his gardens, developed between 1929 and 1971, "the most outstanding topiary garden in America."

Some activities scheduled at the gardens this season include: Summer Concert Series, Classic rock-n-roll in the Great Bowl by Great Train Robbery, June 28, rain date July 5; rhythmic music of the islands and dancing stiltwalkers with the Maryland Pacesetters, July 12, rain date, July 19; pops, jazz and swing music with vocalist Julie Bauer and the Jazz Caravan, July 26, rain date, Aug. 2; original contemporary folk for kids of all ages with Hard Travelers, Aug. 9, rain date, Aug. 16; and a special reunion of bluegrass band Foggy Bottom, Aug. 23, rain date, Aug. 30.

All concerts are 6-8 p.m.; charge $8 adults, $2 children. The Ladew Cafe will serve light fare, beer and wine. Picnics are welcome, but not alcohol, athletic equipment or pets.

Special events: Chesapeake Region of the Automobile Club of American Antique Car Show 1-4 p.m. Aug. 2; Children's Day, noon-5 p.m. Sept. 13; Halloween costume/black tie gala Ghost Party, Oct. 30, call (410) 557-9571, Ext. 16 for more information.

Cost to tour the gardens only is $6 per adult. A tour of garden and manor house is $8 per adult. For additional information call (410) 557-9466.

A visitor to Ladew Topiary Gardens is greeted by The Hunt if only in the topiary figures. Here a gardener trims one of the dogs in a pack of shrubs chasing a fox which is far ahead and not pictured.

Pink astilbe and roses are featured in the Pink Garden which is planted with crab apples, smoke trees, river birch, dogwood, crape myrtle, "Fairy" and "Carefree Beauty" roses, azaleas, weigela, clethra, and rhododendron. Bleeding heart, pygmy, barberry, zinnias, impatiens and giant sedum (Autumn Joy) pick up the pink theme. Malva, achillea, iris, Japanese anemone, dwarf spirea and armeria add to the bloom.

Homestead Notes

Ladew Topiary Gardens' Rose Garden is in full bloom. The garden is planted with a large selection of floribundas, grandifloras, climbers, ramblers, and hybrid teas to give color all summer.

A dovecote sits in the Woodland Garden at Ladew Topiary Gardens near Monkton, Md. This garden is the first to come in bloom in the spring with sheets of Virginia blue bells and naturalized bulbs. It is planted with a wide array of perennials, woody ornamentals, ferns and grasses and provides year round interest and textural contrast.

The visitor to the gardens will start with the Woodland Garden which is the first to come into bloom in the spring with Virginia blue bells and other naturalized bulbs. There are also a wide array of perennials, woody ornamental, ferns and grasses. A dovecote and antique iron and glass aquarium are featured in this garden.

In the Victorian garden ornate concrete furniture and a large cast-iron fountain set the mood. Spring bloom includes rhododendron, azaleas and a variety of bulbs in shades of blue and lavendar. For summer there are allium, heliotrope, althea, hosta, smoke trees and a variety of annuals. In the fall you'll find chrysanthemums and tibouchina.

The berry garden is designed as a fall and winter feast for birds. Hollies, both evergreen and deciduous, crabapple, callicarpa, skimmia, mahonia, dogwood, viburnum, pyracantha and nandina provide food for the birds.

The visitor will also find a Pink Garden, Rose Garden, Garden of Eden, Keyhold Garden, Water Lily Garden, Yellow Garden, Tivoli Tea House and Garden, Topiary Sculpture Garden, Iris Garden, Terrace Garden and Portico Garden among the many gardens on the estate.

In addition a cafe serves lunches and light refreshments and snacks during garden hours. Outdoor tables on a brick terrace are available.

The flowers blooming during June and July are Ageratum, astilbe, buddleia, cimicifuga, clematis, dahlias, daylilies, hosts, hydrangea, impatiens, iris, spuria, liriope, rhododendron, roses, spirea, weigela and most perennials and annuals.

During August and September flowers blooming are naked ladies, hardy hibiscus and fall clematis, petunias, phlox, roses, rudbeckia, and zinnias.

Allergy Antidote In Short Supply

SPRING MILLS (Centre Co.) — With bee sting season upon us, the recent recall of EpiPen, the popular bee-sting antidote kit, has left millions of allergic Americans defenseless. In a world-wide announcement made recently, Meridian Medical Technologies, Inc. is recalling 47 lots of EpiPens manufactured with inadequate dosing. Bayer Inc., manufacturer of the only other allergy antidote kit; AnaKit, can not meet the increased demand in the wake of the EpiPen recall. As a result, a world-wide shortage of these devices has developed and is expected to continue for months.

In a recent article appearing in the Wall Street Journal, Dr Hugh Sampson, chief of Pediatric Allergy and Immunology at Mt Sinai Medical Center advises "people with recalled EpiPens who can't replace them, should hold on to them."

Even though they don't contain a full dose, a partial dose is better than nothing. Dr. John Jenkins of the FDA recommends that "If you can't get a replacement, then consult your physician about other options."

Other treatment options are available According to Dr Kevin McGrath, a Connecticut allergist, people with confirmed bee-sting allergy would be better advised to undergo desensitization shots, which can virtually eliminate future reactions in the first place.

People with certain other types of allergy aren't so lucky. Dr Andrea Apter, chief of Allergy and Immunology at the University of Connecticut Health Center says that "there are no desensitization shots for people with serious food allergies such as nuts or shellfish."

These people must rely solely on EpiPen or AnaKit for protection For these people, Anne Munoz-Furlong, head of the Food Allergy Network urges extra precautions "Don't try new foods or restaurants Listen to early-warning signs At the first sign of a reaction, head to the Emergency Room" Which incidentally, most experts advise you to do, even when using an approved EpiPen

Consumers seeking more information can visit the FDA's Web site at www.fda gov/medwatch, or the Food Allergy Network at www foodallergy org , or call the Insect Allergy hotline at 1-800-23 STING

It's baaaaccccckkkkkk!

After a hiatus of a few years, a long-time wildlife resident has returned to our midst. Or rather, and more likely, a replacement has stepped in to fill the void

We once again share the fishpond farm with one very large water snake. And a friend.

For several years, a summertime staple at our stone-walled springhouse was the familiarly sprawly form of a large, gray-with-faintly-darker-markings, water snake. She would crawl up the rough face of the south-facing stone side of the building, stretch her long, fat self out among the niches and crevices of the wall and bask in the warmth.

We were certain The Snake (we always capitalize that, with great respect) was a "she" because eventually smaller replicas of her long, fat self could also be seen scattered among the stones. None, however, even close to the size and scale of The Snake.

Directly adjacent to the south-facing stone wall is a small deck The Farmer built over the upper end of the fish pond, which backs up into the spring source protected by the springhouse structure After a period of time, The Snake became so accustomed to our stopping by the deck to check the fish that she became as tame as a wild snake probably ever gets.

Now, while we are highly respectful of our resident wild reptiles, we do not get into handling them. There are limits, thank you.

Her tolerance level was such that, unless some unusual racket disturbed her, The Snake would go about her normal napping through our pauses by the pond. And so it came to be that we took a special proprietary concern for her well-being. Our friends—especially smaller ones— were always fascinated with her presence. We tried to use every opportunity as an educational one to spread the word that good snakes are our friends and help to keep pests around the farm under control.

Some of our adult friends were just plain-down afraid of her.

Actually, The Snake probably wolfed down a goodly number of frogs, since the time came when nary a frog could be heard croaking around the fishpond A frog-legs-loving-cat (honestly), long since dead, which constantly patrolled the grasses and cattails ringing the water, likewise impacted any buildup of our croakers. The cat, we think, was actually much harder on the frog population than The Snake.

Then came the summer afternoon when The Farmer was mowing the round, steep-sloped bank on the side of the fishpond. He saw The Snake curled up near the pond, away from her usual high-rise lounging spot along the wall. And he made a particular effort to stay clear of her with the slice-n-shred equipment.

But we have never seen her since that afternoon.

Either the noisy mechanics of the mower scared her out of her skin (so to speak) or there was an unfortunate accident. We have never known, but felt bad to think she may have been accidentally and needlessly harmed.

One sunny afternoon last week, our visiting grandson, son-in-law, and I walked down to check the fishpond. And as we stepped toward the pier, a large, very pudgy, slinky, gray form went streaking across the wooden deck and nose-dived over the edge and into the water a few feet below. At the same instant, A.J. our son-in-law, spied a similar wiggler fleeing beneath the flat rock steps down to the deck

It's baaaaccccckkkck! Our Snake(s) is (are) back. Welcome

Frogs . . . consider yourselves warned.

4-H Summer Intern

Penn State University Cooperative Extension, Bucks County has a new intern.

Teagan N. Robinson of Philadelphia is a Penn State student in her second year and is interning at cooperative Extension for the summer of 1998. A business major and aspiring entrepreneur at the Penn State University Park Campus, Teagan believes interning will be a valuable experience and will help her gain knowledge about the agricultural structure of Bucks County. In addition, she looks forward to working with the children in the 4-H program.

"I didn't realize all the programs, cooperative extension offers and how much it enriches the community. I am very fortunate to have this opportunity," said Robinson.

Taking Time for Bike Safety

"School's out for summer!" That will be the cry from sidewalks and country lanes in the next few days. During the summer, lots of kids take to the roads on bikes—visiting friends, riding down to the creek to explore, getting to and from sports practices, "running around" their communities.

Kids love bikes. But bikes need to be respected. According to the National Safe Kids Coalition, bicycles are associated with more childhood injuries than any other consumer product except the automobile. Head injuries are the top safety concern with bicycles.

Several years ago, Pennsylvania passed a law requiring children to wear helmets when riding a bike. According to Safe Kids, nonhelmeted riders are 14 times more likely to be involved in a fatal crash than those with helmets. Helmets also protect the forehead and mid-face area.

Of course, it's important to practice safe cycling all the time, but parents should know the high-risk times and provide extra monitoring for children in these circumstances. Studies show that most of the deaths occur when a motor vehicle and a bike collide. These crashes tend to occur between May and August and between 3 and 6 p.m. Nearly 60 percent occur on minor roads within a mile of the cyclist's home.

Most accidents are associated with the cyclist's behavior. Boys are in far more accidents than girls. And those children 10-14 years of age have the highest number of deaths. Common reasons for crashes include riding into a street without stopping, turning left or swerving into traffic that is coming from behind, running a stop sign, or riding against traffic.

While most deaths occur during the afternoon commute, the chance of injuries is four times greater in "non-daylight" hours—at dawn, dusk, or after dark.

There are lessons here for everyone. Drivers: Take extra caution as you enter your neighborhood or "home" road. You may naturally start to get comfortable with the surroundings and stop paying close attention.

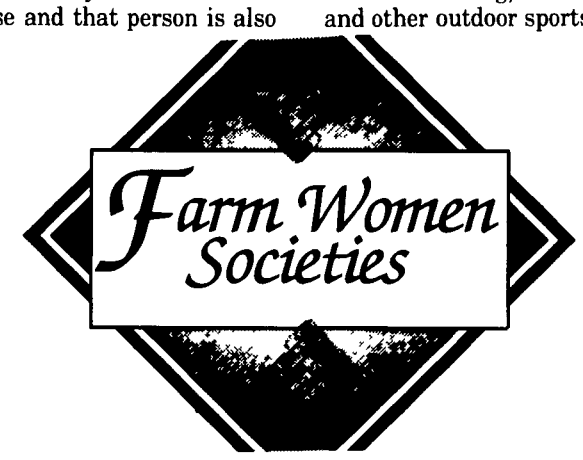
A teenager may be just around the next curve on a bike. When you pass by a ball field or school playground, stay alert. Kids may be hurrying home to dinner just as you are.

Parent, consider restricting the hours that your child can be out on the road to between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. and between 6 p.m. and dusk. Take time to ride with your child to observe her skills many times before allowing her to ride to places on her own.

Be sure your child is wearing a helmet. Expect it, and enforce consequences if you notice that he is not. Like with so many other things, children follow the example of the peers and adults around them. Although adults are not required to wear helmets, usage studies show that children are more likely to wear helmets if they are with someone else and that person is also wearing a helmet.

And remember, just when we think it's time to relax, it may actually be time to be on our toes. As children, especially boys, enter their teen years, parents may start to think of them as "big enough" to be on their own When it comes to bike safety, that may not be true Expect them to prove their maturity before you give it to them.

Finally, if the bike riders in you family don't own helmets, get them now! Give them as early birthday gifts. It's an investment you MUST make. Helmets are also a good idea for horseback riding, roller blading and other outdoor sports.



Lancaster Society 20

Lancaster Farm Women Society 20 met at the home of Valaria Ferguson with Jane Ferguson cohosting. The meeting was held on its spacious lawn and following the luncheon, Valaria had devotions and the group into praying the Lord's prayer and in the Allegiance to the Flag.

President Marie Foose presided at the short business meeting and 16 persons answered roll call by stating a place of historical interest to them.

The program was interesting as Ralph Homser and Betty Denlinger spoke on the history of Paradise as well as some of the history of The Woods Home (Summer Hill), which is where the meeting was held. Members took a tour of the home with its interesting antiques and winding stairs.

The meeting was closed by singing, "Brighten the Corner."

The next meeting will be held in July with Anna Mary Groff and Freda Wimer.

Try These Udderly Fantastic Dairy Recipes

Udderly delicious dairy recipes continue to inspire cooks to use milk and dairy products. These recipes, which are part of the entries for Lancaster Farming's annual June Dairy Recipe Drawing, show the versatility offered by cooking with dairy products.

This is the third week, submissions to the recipe contest are printed. Next week will carry more entries.

On June 26, Pennsylvania Dairy Princess Nichole Meabon will select the winning entries through a drawing. Winners will be notified by mail and a list of the winners will be printed in the July 4 issue of this paper.

Remember, milk is a source of high quality protein that provides essential amino acids and an excellent source of nutrients including bone-building calcium, which plays a role in strengthening bones and helping to keep them dense to help prevent injuries.

A free copy of "Milk on the Training Table," which is fillled with nutrition and fitness tips, is available by calling the Milk Hotline at 1-800-WHY—MILK. Or visit the milk web site at www.whymilk.com.

STRAWBERRY SWIRL

1 cup graham cracker crumbs
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup butter, melted
2 cups sliced fresh strawberries*
3-ounce package strawberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
½ pound marshmallows
½ cup milk
1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Mix crumbs, sugar, and butter. Press firmly over bottom of 9x9x2-inch baking dish. Chill until set. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons sugar over fresh berries; let stand 30 minutes. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Drain strawberries, reserving juice. Add water to juice to make 1 cup; add to gelatin. Chill until partially set. Meanwhile, combine marshmallows and milk; heat and stir until marshmallows melt. Cool thoroughly, then fold in whipped cream. Add berries to gelatin, then swirl in marshmallow mixture to marble. Pour into crust; chill until set. Cut in 9- or 12-inch squares.

*Or, use 10-ounce package frozen sliced strawberries, thawed.

I have been using this recipe since 1962. It's a sure winner, especially for a bridal shower. Enclosed is a picture of two our grandsons, Sam and Scout. Our son and his wife presented us with twin grandsons on June 8. Their father is a veterinarian with a practice limited to dairy cows. My husband and I live on a 280-acre farm and we celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary last year.

O'HENRY BARS

4 cups oatmeal
1 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup molasses

Mix ingredients. Spread into a 9- by 13-inch greased pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes.

Melt 12 ounces of chocolate chips and ½ cup of crunchy peanut butter. Spread on top. Cut in bars.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

2 cups flour
½ cup sugar
1 cup milk
1 egg
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons butter, softened

Sift flour and baking powder. Cream sugar and butter well. Add eggs to creamed mixture and mix. Add milk and flour. Mix. Makes 10-inch cake. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Serve with strawberries, milk, and sugar.

My husband and I have three children, a son and two daughters. Our son works at Hook Dairy Farm for the past seven years. Our family enjoys dairy products.

POTATO CASSEROLE

2 pounds frozen hash brown potatoes
½ cup butter, melted
1 can cream of chicken soup
2 cups cheddar cheese, grated
½ cup chopped onion
2 cups sour cream
1 teaspoon salt

Mix together all ingredients. Place in 3-quart buttered casserole dish. May be made the day before and refrigerated, covered. Remove from refrigerator about 2 hours before baking. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes to 1 hour. Serves 12.

I am so happy to enter your contest again. I love your paper and especially the wonderful recipes. I collect cow items and keep trying every year to win.

BROCCOLI LASAGNA

1 large bunch broccoli
¼ teaspoon salt
16-ounce container 1% low-fat cottage cheese
2 eggs whites or ½ carton Egg Beaters
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon Italian herb seasoning
7-8-ounces spaghetti sauce or Italian tomato sauce
½ ounces part-skim mozzarella cheese, shredded

Cook broccoli and salt until almost done, drain and set aside. Preheat oven to 375 degrees. In food processor with knife blade attached, blend cottage cheese, egg whites, parmesan cheese, flour and Italian seasoning until smooth.

Spray a 12x8-inch baking dish with vegetable cooking spray. Arrange half of broccoli in single layer, top with cottage cheese mixture, then layer with remaining broccoli. Spoon spaghetti sauce over broccoli and sprinkle with mozzarella cheese.

Bake, uncovered 35 minutes or until hot and bubbly in center. Let stand 5 minutes. Add a pound of cooked ground chicken before sauce. Serves 6.

My husband, seven-year-old son and I live in Lower Mt. Bethel, Northampton County. Despite growth in housing all around us, we can still look out our windows and see hay and cornfileds. I'm always looking for low-fat recipes and this one fits the bill. It's an all-in-one-dish (meat, cheese, and vegetables). I serve it with garlic bread.

ONION CHOWDER

⅓ cup diced bacon
2 cups chopped onions
2 cups water
3 cups diced raw potatoes
2 cups milk
½ cup evaporated milk
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon parsley
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon water

Fry bacon in deep saucepan until brown. Add onions until sauteed. Add water and potatoes. When potatoes are tender, add milk, evaporated milk, salt, pepper, and parsely. Mix 1 tablespoon flour and 1 tablespoon water together until smooth and then stir into soup. Boil 2 minutes, stirring frequently.

"Taking the 'Boring' Out Of Summer Vacations"

"Help, my kids are bored! What am I going to do for the rest of summer?"

Kids have only been out of school for a little while and already parents are just as frustrated as their children!

When that last school bell rang, kids rushed out with great expectations because summer was finally here. Many have the impression that being out of school is a wonderful thing. After they are home for a brief time, they get "restless" and start to complain about boredom. Parents too have the impression that summer is to be fun and a great time to spend with their children. What can you do to make these expectations become more real?

You could fly off to Disney-World, go to Harry's Wild Buffalo Farm or even send the kids to a recreational camp.

What's wrong with those ideas? All those suggestions take money and pre-planning by you. Both parents and children are relying on someong else to do the entertaining.

The thrill of dream vacations fade in a day or two for everyone if they are not stimulated. For nine months children are involved in learning activities and surrounded by friends, now for the next three months they are expected to be self-motivated to do "things."

Rather than looking at this boredom complaint as a problem, turn it into an opportunity to enjoy each other.

Children enjoy being busy and require activities that keep them involved. Here are a few suggestions to keep them moving and thinking and requires minimal planning on your part. The results will be rewarding for both you and your children:

• Make a bug jar. Punch holes in the lid, or use a thick rubber band to hold on a piece of screening or cloth over the opening of the jar. Add a crumpled damp paper towel inside to provide hiding places for the captured creatures. It is even better if you have a magnifying glass! Check our a bug identification book from the library to learn more. This can be done in your own yard or a nearby park. What a great opportunity to teach the principles of respecting our environment.

• Modeling clay is ususlly a big hit. Make your own using this new recipe for glossy clay; Combine ½ cup salt, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar in a bowl. Bring 1 cup hot water to a simmer, add 1 tablespoon of oil and food coloring if desired or wait until dough is cooled to add various colors. Turn heat to how and while stirring water add dry ingredients. Continue to stir until mixture pulls away from side of pan. It generally doesn't take any directions from an adult to-tell children what to make with clay.

• Depending on your child's age, write down 10 to 30 words that would be found in a newspaper or magazine as a word search game. For first-time readers use simple words found in bold titles or large ads. For added fun, use words that require your child to use a dictionary to find their meanings.

• No rainy days, tie a string between two chairs and play volleyball with a small balloon. Naturally you will want plenty of room. On a sunny day, tie a rope between two poles, fill a garbage bag with crumpled newspaper, and play "soft" volleyball. Great for all ages.

• Dig out all those photos you meant to put in album and let a child arrange them. Remember, don't criticize their work; those pictures weren't in order for years

PRETZEL SALAD

2 cups pretzels, crushed, not too fine
¾ cup butter
3 teaspoons sugar
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 cup sugar
1 medium container dairy whipped topping
2 small pcakges strawberry gelatin
2 cups boiling water
2 (10-ounce) packages frozen strawberries.

Mix pretzels, butter, and sugar in pan. Bake (but don't overbake) for 8 minutes at 400 degrees. Cool. Mix cream cheese and sugar. Fold in whipped topping. Spread over cooled crust. Mix gelatin, water, and strawberries. Let set. Strawberries will thaw in liquid. Pour on top.

These four cute kids are the grandchildren of dairy farmers J. Loren and Wanda Yoder in Belleville. They are Chase, 8; Jalesha, 1; Kirsten, 6; and Tayler, 4. Be sure to encourage them to use stars, stickers, construction paper frames for that personal touch.

• Make your own sidewalk chalk. Prepare toilet paper tubes or wrapping paper tubes cut into sections by covering one end with sturdy tape. In a mixing bowl, combine ¾ cup warm water and 1½ cups plaster of Paris, stir thoroughly until mixture looks like pudding. Blend in 2 to 3 tablespoons washable tempera paint (powdered or liquid). Pour mixture into "chalk" tubes, gently tapping the sides to avoid air bubbles. Let dry for one or two days, peel off the mold and make a chalk masterpiece!

The best advice for parents during the summer months is to turn off the television and take the time to do things together. You don't have to leave home or take expensive vacations. Explore your own backyard, or nearby areas.

MARSHMALLOW WHIP

10 ounces marshmallows
4 cups milk
2 cups whipped cream
Vanilla
½ cup sugar
1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
⅛ pound butter
Pie filling

Melt marshmallows in hot milk. When almost cooled, add whipped cream, vanilla, and sugar. Line bowl with cracker crumbs in butter, mixed. Fil dish half full with marshmallow mixture. When this thickens, put pie filling in center.

We enjoy this tasty dessert.

CHEESE LOAF

1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons butter, softened
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded mozzarella cheese
¼ cup chopped greeen onions with tops
½ teaspoon garlic powder
1 loaf french or italian bread

In a bowl, beat cream cheese and butter. Add cheese, onion, and garlic powder. Mix well. Slice bread. Spread mixture on both sides of slices. Wrap in foil. This can be grilled or put in the oven at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Open foil and let cook another 5 minutes.

This recipe is a favorite of our daughter and future son-in-law. We have to have it everytime they visit.

My husband and I certainly enjoy Lancaster Farming. Keep up the good work.

ANSWER — Here's a recipe for Laura Smith from E. Beaver, Ringtown.

Toasted Carrots

Scrape and wash carrots; leave young carrots whole and cut old carrots in slices lengthwise or crosswise. Boil until tender about 15-30 minutes in water containing 1 teaspoon sugar. Just before cooking is completed, salt the water. Drain, roll in butter, then in corn flakes and brown in oven at 350 degrees.

ANSWER — Sharon Johnson wanted a recipe for ham with a vinegar, mustard, and brown sugar topping. Thanks to Arlene Deibert, Gratz, for sending a recipe.

Raisin Sauce

Mix:
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons dry mustard
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 4 tablespoons vinegar

Add:
- 4 tablespoons lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon lemon peel (optional)
- 3 cups water
- ⅔ cup seedless raisins

Cook over low heat until thick, stirring constantly. Serve hot on top of ham.

ANSWER — A mother needed birthday party treat ideas for children their than decorated cupcakes or cakes. Thanks to E. Beaver, Ringtown, for sending a recipe. More birthday treat ideas are needed.

Birds' Nest Treats

- ¼ cup butter
- 4½ cups miniature marshmallows
- ¼ cup creamy peanut butter
- ¼ cup semi-sweet chocolate chips
- 4 cups chow mein noodles
- 1 cup jelly beans or candy eggs

In a large saucepan over medium heat, melt butter, and marshmallows until smooth, stirring occasionally. Add peanut butter and chocolate chips; heat and stir for two minutes or until smooth. Remove from heat; stir in chow mein noodles until well coated. Divide into 12 mounds on a waxed paper-lined baking sheet. Using fingers, shape each into a nest; press an indentation in the center of the nest. Fill each nest with 3 or 4 jelly beans or candy eggs. Cool. Store in an airtight container.

This is perfect for an Easter or spring party.

Fab-Flavored Milk

- 1 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon flavored syrup

Pour milk into glass, add flavor, and stir.

Monster Toast

- Slice of white bread
- Milk
- Food coloring
- Clean new paintbrush or cotton swab

To make "paints," pour milk into cup and add food coloring—use a different food coloring for different shades. Using a clean, new paintbrush or cotton swab, paint a funny monster face (or any design) on the bread. Have grown-up toast your slice of bread.

Oatmeal ABCs

- 1 cup butter, softened
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2½ cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups quick cooking oats (not instant), uncooked
- 1 cup raisins
- ¾ cup chopped pecans or walnuts
- ½ cup mini chocolate chips

In large mixer bowl, cream butter and sugars until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs. Add flour, baking soda, cinnamon and salt; mix well. Stir in oats, raisins, pecans, and chocolate chips. Dough will be stiff. Refrigerate dough, covered, until thoroughly chilled or as long as overnight. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Shape rounded tablespoonsfuls of dough into letter, number or other shapes. Place on lightly buttered baking sheets about 1 inch apart. If dough becomes too soft to handle, refrigerate 15 to 20 minutes. Bake 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from oven; let cookies stand on baking sheets 2 minutes. Transfer cookies to wire racks to cool completely.

Yummy Grilled Cheese Cut-Outs

- 2 slices whole wheat bread
- 1 slice American cheese
- Butter, softened

Cut bread and cheese into desired shapes with cookie cutters. Place cheese between bread slices to make sandwich. Spread outer sides of bread slices with butter. Cook in nonstick skillet until brown on both sides, turning once. Serve immediately.

CHEESE CAKE

Crust:
- 1 cup sifted flour
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1 slightly beaten egg yolk
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup butter

Combine flour, sugar, and lemon peel. Cut in butter until mixture is crumbly. Add egg yolk and vanilla. Blend thoroughly. Put ⅓ of dough on bottom of 9-inch spring-form pan (with sides removed). Bake at 400 degrees about 6 minutes or until golden brown. Cool. Butter sides of pan and attach to bottom. Put remaining dough evenly on sides to a height of 2 inches. Set aside.

Cheese filling:
- 5 8-ounce packages cream cheese
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla
- ¾ teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1¾ cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons flour
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 5 eggs (1 cup)
- 2 egg yolks
- ¼ cup heavy cream

Stir cream cheese to soften; beat until fluffy. Add vanilla and peel. Mix sugar, flour, and salt, and gradually blend into cheese. Add egg and yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Gently stir in cream. Turn into crust-lined pan. Bake in very hot even (500 degrees) 5-8 minutes or until edge of crust is golden. Reduce heat to 200 degrees. Bake 1 hour longer. Remove from oven and cool in pan about 3 hours. Remove sides of pan and you have a gorgeous rich cheese cake.

My mom has been making this cheesecake for years, especially for all the special holidays. It is a family favorite. I took over making it now and I hope someday my 5-month-old daughter, Candace, will make it for her family.

Plant Potted Roses Now

Roses are always a favorite addition to any home landscape. It is not too late to plant potted roses. To assure good blooming of your roses the summer after planting, select a sunny spot with amended, high organic matter soil. Space hybrid teas, grandifloras, and floribundas approximately two to two and one-half feet apart

Prepare the soil by digging individual planting holes large enough to spread out the roots Avoid disturbing the root ball. Make the holes 12 inches deep and at least 18 inches in diameter Remove the pot. Plant, and fill the hole. If you are planting a large number of roses in a continuous area, prepare beds by spading the soil to a depth of about 12 inches

If your soil is very heavy, or if it's light and low in fertility, improve it by adding organic matter such as peat, leafmold or manure. Use one part of peat or leafmold to three parts of soil – or one part of manure to four parts of soil.

Spread a layer of organic matter 2 to 4 inches deep over the spaded area and work it into the soil to spade depth. Be careful not to work the soil when the soil is wet. You'll do more harm than good by working soil wet

Always set roses carefully in the planting holes. One planting system for roses uses a small, cone-shaped pile of soil in the center of each planting hole. Set the plant on the peak of the cone and spread the roots down the slope. Set the plants at the same soil level as in the pot or where the union is just at – or slightly below – ground level. Water newly-planted roses to settle the soil around the roots

Knowing the pH and soil fertility conditions for roses is worth the effort. Roses grow best in soil that is medium to slightly acid - pH 6 to 6.5. Take a Penn State soil test kit. The results of the soil test will tell you whether or not the pH needs to be adjusted and how to do it

The soil test also gives recommendations for adjusting nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, magnesium, and calcium levels Often, phosphorus may be needed. Fertilizers containing phosphorus can be added before and after planting Phosphorus is important in determining the number of size of blooms you will get this first summer.

If you don't have a soil test – apply a complete fertilizer with a 1-2-1 ratio such as 5-10-5 grade this spring. Apply the fertilizer when the spring growth is well established but before bloom Three pounds of fertilizer per 100-square feet or 1 to 2 heaping tablespoons per plant is sufficient. Spread the fertilizer evenly around the plants, scratch it into the soil surface, then water. One additional application of fertilizer may be helpful during late June if the roses show signs of mineral deficiency. Avoid fertilizing your roses after August 1.

Give your roses generous amounts of water this summer Soak the soil thoroughly to a depth of 8 to 10 inches Direct a small, slow-moving stream of water from a garden hose around the base of each plant

Ice Cream Puddle Sundae

3 ounces chocolate or fudge sauce
3 scoops different-flavored ice cream
1 ounce pineapple topping
1 ounce raspberry topping
1 ounce peanut butter topping
Whipped cream
Colored sprinkles
3 mini umbrellas

Pour chocolate sauce to cover the bottom of a plate. Place 3 scoops ice cream on plate. Indent each with a spoon to form a hollowed out hole. Spoon in toppings to form "puddles." Place whipped cream around ice cream and garnish with sprinkles and min umbrellas.

Jonathan Lipnicki's Choco-Nana Pops

1 cup fat free or lowfat milk
1 ripe banana, peeled, broken in half
¼ cup chocolate syrup
1 teapoon vanilla extract
2 8-ounce paper drinking cups
2 popsicle sticks

Combine all ingredients in blender container. Cover with lid and blend at high speed one minut or until thickened.

Pour into cups. Cover each cup with aluminum foil. Insert a popsicle stick through foil into milk mixture. Freeze until firm. To serve, dip cup into warm water, slide out pop.

Taco Munch

6 cups popped, unsalted popcorn
3 cups toasted corn cereal squares
1 cup mini pretzels
2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 to 3 teaspoons dry taco seasoning
2 tablespoons grated paremsan cheese
1 cup cheddar cheese, cut into ½ -inch cubes

In large bowl, combine popcorn, cereal, and pretzels. Combine butter and taco seasoning; drizzle over popcorn mixture. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese; toss to coat. Cool completely. Store in airtight container. Toss with cheddar cheese just before serving. Approximately 10 cups.

Sculpting Contestants Compete For Best Of The Herd

BALLY (Berks Co.) — Ice cream as art was the theme for the fourth annual Dairy Day held recently at St. Francis Academy, Bally

The teachers' team competed against a team of students to sculpt cows from Turkey Hill ice cream in the first ever ice cream sculpting contest And the carving contest resulted in a draw with the judges selecting one of the students' creations and one of the teachers' art as the best of the herd.

Each team was comprised of four sets of four individuals working on 4.125 gallons of ice cream The sculptors were permitted to use spoons, butter knives and their gloved hands. They had 10 minutes to create their masterpieces.

Prior to the start of the contest, the new Berks County Dairy Princess, Alicia Gross, gave her winning presentation about milk to the students Participating on the teacher's team Seminarian Andy Gehringer, Pat Haas, Joan Kelsch, Joyce Lepre, Kim Schroeder, Marge Gehringer, Patti Chandler, Kathy Little, Sharon Boyer, John Coble, Karen Cwalina, Linda Gilbert, Anita Brady, Bonnie Coughlin, Collette Finegan, and team captain, Bishop Thomas Welsh.

Students' participating included Lucy Cox, Kerstin Gertenitch, Michael Larkin, Alana Yost, Eric Gehringer, John Falco, Alex Batch, Genevieve Allison, Mara Wenrich, Matthew Millet, Samantha Zilinski, Annie Sufrinko, Mario Nase, Shannon DeHont, Anthony Furniss, and Abby Conrad

Judges for the event included Laura England, public relations manager for Land O'Lakes milk cooperative, Berks County Dairy Princess Alicia Gross, Senator Michael A O'Pake, Robin Melcher, branch manager for National Penn Bank, and Msgr. Nevin Klinger, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church in Birdsboro.

Event sponsors included Turkey Hill Dairy, Land O'Lakes, National Penn Bank, Bob Hilbert Sporswear, and Sobjak's Market.

Dairy Day is a celebration of the end of the school year and June as Dairy Month.

St Francis Academy, founded in 1743, is the oldest school in the 13 original colonies and it has an enrollment of more thar 260 students.

From left Mario Nase, Anthony Furniss, Abby Conrad, and Shannon DeHont work together to shape about 4 gallons of ice cream into a cow. The quad had about 10 minutes to sculpt a cow in the first ever ice cream sculpting contest held recently at St. Francis Academy in Bally.

Goose Is One Of The Herd

KAREN BUTLER
Maryland Correspondent

MYERSVILLE, Md. — All is peaceful and quiet in David and Karen Summers' pasture along Harmony Road. An occasional car passes, the Little Catoctin Creek gurgles as it meanders through the grass, and the steers graze contentedly. And so is Patsy, the goose.

Drive down this rural road outside of Myersville and you may do a double-take, if you are not a frequent traveler in this part of Frederick County. Those who travel Harmony Road, however, have become accustomed to the sight of the goose in with the herd of steers.

No one knows where she came from or why she chose to call this 15-acre pasture home. But two years ago in August a female domestic goose settled in this pastoral setting, and she hasn't left it since. As far as she is concerned, she is just one of the herd.

At that time "Patsy" as she has been named by Danielle Summers, one of David and Karen's four children, joined a group of dry cows and heifers that were out on pasture. Since that time the Summers have sold the milk cows, and they now raise Holstein steers. A neighbor grazes some of his steers on the acreage, too. But Patsy has, for the most part, adjusted to the change. The Summers' also have another daughter, Sabrina, and two sons, Ryan and Josh.

At first the goose may have bonded with one particular heifer, Karen said, because she put up a fuss when that heifer was removed from the pasture. "When we took that one out she did make more noise than usual," she said.

Then there was the time the cows got out and Patsy didn't, tells David Summers, "I could hear her honking. Once I got the cows in, she didn't make any more noise," he said.

Summers said Patsy likes to follow the group of steers around the pasture. "They go where they want to go, and she follows them," he explained, " She usually stays right in the meadow. When they lie down, she lies down. They'll be eating and she'll be eating." When the steers get grain, Patsy eats it, too. She stays out all winter.

One time Patsy disappeared for two weeks, prompting neighbors to call and ask Karen what had happened to the goose. It turned out she was sitting on eggs. But with no gander in the area, Patsy's thoughts of motherhood were brief and she soon turned back to foraging with her herdmates.

"A lot of people know us because we're the 'Goose People'," explained Karen Summers. When Patsy first arrived, a neighbor who had a pond wanted to take her home. But Patsy preferred to stay with the cattle. And that is fine with the Summers'.

"It's a unique thing. It's unexplainable," said David Summers with a smile on his face.

"Patsy" the goose is content to be one of the herd. Since her unexplainable arrival two years ago in August, the domestic goose has never strayed far from the cattle in David and Karen Summers' 15-acre pasture along Harmony Road in Myersville.

Kids Dig This: Birds, Books, Butterflies, Backyard Beasts

LITITZ (Lancaster Co.) — Kids are known for getting their hands dirty so why shouldn't they get them dirty in the garden?

Esbenshade's Garden Center in Lititz (3 miles East of Brickerville on Route 322) has long been known for its professional support to aid every gardener from novice to expert. Now they are offering a chance for youngsters to learn a little about hands-on gardening.

Esbenshade's is hosting an afternoon of entertainment and education for children ages 5-10 on Tuesday, June 23, beginning at 2 p.m. Borders Book Store and Jack Hubley will be part of the afternoon's presentations. Children's garden book author, Toni Albert, will be at the event to sign her latest children's gardening book.

The June 23 event is titled "Birds, Books, Butterflies and Backyard Beasts" to entice children and educate them at the same time.

"The entire staff at Esbenshade's is very sensitive to children," explains Wilbur Siegrist, retail general manager. "We will provide for them to get up to their elbows in potting soil, listen to Toni Albert discuss her book with lots of visuals, and meet Jack Hubley as he tells them about 'backyard beasts." Jack's presentation will be very popular with children 5-10 years old!"

Siegrist explains that it is important that children learn about what is going on in the gardening world. "This free event is a great place to start young children understanding what gardening is all about. Our staff members will offer tips that children can understand to grow a good, healthy plant."

During the event, each child will receive a 3½ -inch blooming plant to take home and transplant in their own flower bed.

"Gardening can be a valuable learning tool if the child is left the responsibility to care for the plants. If you can teach a child something important like this at a young age, it can stay with him for the rest of his life," Siegrist explains.

Finnicle Is Lebanon Dairy Princess

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — The Lebanon County Dairy Promotion Committee selected its slate of 1998 dairy promotion royalty June 13 at the Lebanon County Career and Technology Center in Lebanon.

Selected to represent the county as its princess was Heidi Finnicle, 19, daughter of Stanley and Donna Finnicle, of Palmyra.

A 1997 graduate of Palmyra Area High School, she is a student at Penn State where she is pursuing studies in dairy and animal science with plans to pursue veterinary studies.

She is employed by J&E Farm, where her duties include helping to milk, feed, and harvest crops.

During her presentation, she pretended to be a newscaster and talked about the nutrition of milk.

Elvin Gingrich served as host of the presentation, and asked the conestants several questions, including, "What do you hope to gain, personally, as dairy princess (or maid, etc., as was appropriate)?"

In addition to hoping to gain better poise and presence in public as a spokesperson for the dairy industry, she said she hoped to get to meet more people, especially dairy farmers, and to learn more about the industry.

Though Finnicle was the lone contestant, she still had to measure up to the judge's standards. The promotion position of "princess" doesn't necessarily have to be filled, if there are no suitable contestants.

Other royalty selected included Laura Blauch, 13, daugther of Eric and Connie Blauch, of Annville, whose parents operate a Holstein dairy farm.

Blauch said that being a dairy maid is something she always wanted to do. She is a member of the the NoSoAnn 4-H Dairy Club, and the North Mountain 4-H Club. In school she is involved in the band and chorus.

Royell Bashore, 5, daughter of Robert and Sherry Bashore of Annville, was named Lebanon County Li'l Miss.

Royell's parents both work on dairy farms, and Royell gets to go along to work and help her parents get ready for milking, tending calves and even milking some of the tame cows.

The outgoing court included Dairy Princess Andrea Bashore, Dairy Maid Amy Habecker, Dairy Maid Rachel Krall, and Li'l Miss Lauren Williams.

In recollecting their experiences during the past year, they talked about the closeness that developed as they worked together at promotions, and the fun they were able to have while supporting each others' enthusiasm for the promotions, most of them in schools.

Andrea's older sister, Jennifer Bashore, a past princess, served as pageant chairperson. In addition, other members of the commitee included Annette Buck co-chairperson and booking chairperson; Roberta Bashore (mother of Jennifer and Andrea), co-chairperson and treasurer; Norma Bausher, secretary; and members Terry Shuey and Alisha Myers (both former princesses).

An ice cream social followed the program, with volunteers helping to setup, serve and clean up.

Jennifer Bashore also made a request that anyone interested in volunteering effort and time to help promote the dairy industry should please talk to anyone on the committee.

According to records of the royalty presentations made last year, the princess did 25 school progtram, 3 newspaper interviews; six radio promotions, five store/mall promotions; 11 non-farm promotions; seven state programs; seven farm meetings; and two special events.

She was accompanied by one or all of the rest of the court on most occassions.

As a goodbye presentation, Bashore and Habecker performed a skit about the "does and don'ts of being a dairy princess." Without patronizing, and using humor, the skit emphasized the preparedness, responsibility, courtesy and work habits that are necessary in order to do a good job and to work well with others.

The Lebanon County Holstein Club donated gifts to the outgoing royalty, while Bernard Morrissey Ifnsurance donated a gift to the new princess, and Balsbaugh Insurance donated a 35 mm camera.

Dairy farmers Tom and Shirley Krall of Rexmont, who frequently serve as host for school tours on the dairy farm, were specifically recognized for helping the country promotion program by storing the dairy barn at their farm.

Bradford County Holds Dairy Princess Pageant

CAROLYN N. MOYER
Bradford Co. Correspondent

TROY (Bradford County) — Talitha Coolbaugh of Canton clutched the title of 1998 Bradford County Dairy Princess at a pageant held at the Troy Middle School, Saturday, May 30.

Named first and second alternates were Jackie Schriner of Ulster and Melissa Croft of Troy, respectively.

Celebrating its 35th year, the Bradford County dairy promotion team welcomed the new royalty and encouraged all girls with an interest in promoting milk to join the team.

State Senator Roger Madigan, who served as the Master of Ceremonies for the event, noted that part of the success behind the long-running pageant is that, "We raise some of the greatest young ladies to work with here in Bradford County."

Coolbaugh is the daughter of David and Cynthia Coolbaugh and hails from the Canton area. She is home schooled and will be a junior in the fall. Besides being the owner of two Ayrshire cows, she is active in her 4-H club, the Bradford County Dairy Judging Team, and her church youth group. She also participates in marching band and jazz band where she plays the flute.

First alternate Jackie Schriner is the daughter of Steve and Terry Schriner of Ulster. She attends Athens Area High School where she will be a senior in the fall. FFA and public speaking are two of her favorite activities when she's not on her family's 150-cow dairy farm.

Melissa Croft is the daughter of Ronald and Norma Croft. She will be a junior at Troy High School this fall. In addition to her activities in 4-H and FFA, Croft enjoys cheerleading and showing her two Brown Swiss cows.

Rounding out the dairy promotion team are six dairy maids, Corissa Coolbaugh, Tara Gray, Amber Irons, Ashleigh Selfridge, Amberleigh Yurkanin and Heather Yurkanin. During the pageant, the dairy princess contestants were put to the test while judges Rebecca Sonnen-Bube, Merle Rank, and Deborah Mathers watched their every move.

Part of the competition included answering the question, "If you had to pick the most important quality for a leader of your country, what would it be?"

Honesty, trustworthiness and loyalty were answers that surfaced from the contestants.

The three ladies were also required to give a three to five minute presentation before the audience.

Talitha took on the task of convincing Kelly the Cow that she was not uncommon after all.

"You are so important," Talitha said, "We really need to let others know how important dairy products are."

She also reminded consumers to look for the real seal and you'll get the real deal.

Jackie's message, which was directed toward teens and adults, was that "Drinking milk every day gives me enough energy to last the whole day through."

"Agriculture is the number one industry in Pennsylvania. When you walk down the dairy aisle, all the products are produced by local dairy farmers," she noted.

She sang, "There's one way that you can tell if the products you buy are made with real milk—look for the real seal."

Before the the final announcement, each member of the 1997 dairy promotion team bid farewell and thanked farmers, committee members. and others who helped them throughout the year.

Alternates Lorinda Harkness, Kimberly Davis, and Princess Eileen Murphy each commented on their busy year and how much they gained from the program.

The message Eileen wanted to share most of all was directed to the 1998 princess and her court. "To my successor, when you take the crown, make me a promise. Don't live up to what I've done or what we've done. Make your own goals individually and as a team. Be yourself, and I'm sure you'll make Bradford County proud," she said.

Shape Vision For Future

MONTROSE (Susquehanna Co.) — Pennsylvania's rural counties and small towns are changing. Change can mean increased economic and social opportunities. It can also mean urban sprawl, destruction of farm land and an eroding quality of life. Every community in Pennsylvania has the power to control change, including Susquehanna County.

It's not enough for a community to know what it doesn't want. It needs to know what it does want and to have a strategy for achieving it. "Visioning" is a process by which residents are given the opportunity to inventory their community's resources and develop shared goals of what the community should be in the future.

The Susquehanna County Vision 2020 committee, in conjunction with the Penn State Cooperative Extension, the Pennsylvania Rural Leadership Program (RULE), the Susquehanna County Department of Planning and Development, and the Center for Rural Pennsylvania will conduct a workshop on how Susquehanna County can begin to develop a county-wide vision. The workshop will be held on June 23, at the Mountain View High School cafeteria from 7:30-9 p.m.

The workshop is intended for community leaders, civic groups, local officials, and anyone interested in the future of the County. The workshop is free and open to the public, however, register prior to the workshop so that handout material is available for everyone.

The purpose of the workshop is to identify and explain the tools and techniques area residents can use to chart their own future. Come join us and learn how you can help shape the future of your county.

Audra Wood 'Mooves' Into Royalty

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Lancaster County's newest dairy princess isn't from the farm. She did not grow up milking cows, but Audra Wood is "moooving" toward becoming an expert on cows and dairy nutrition.

Audra, daughter of Barbara Wharton of Quarryville, milks cows on a neighboring 450-cow dairy farm.

At the Lancaster County Dairy Princess Pageant last Saturday, Audra proved that she also is articulate and thinks quickly under pressure. She answered an impromptu question, required under the scrunity of judges and the audience.

The question asked of Audra and contestant Jamie Lynn Horning, Stevens, was the following: Which of these three words would you want to be described as and why: "successful," "educated" or "fun loving?"

Audra answered calmly that she would choose "educated" because the educated person has the skills and knowledge to become successful and knows the right time and place to be fun loving.

During the competition, the contestants also needed to perform a skit conveying the importance of dairy products in the diet.

Audra performed "Goldilocks Discovers Gold," which examined the nutritional benefits of a soda, sports drink, and milk.

Jamie, daughter of Paul and Shirley Horning of Stevens, read a self-illustrated story based on a parody of the well-known children's classic, "T'was the Night Before Christmas." Instead of Santa with presents, a cow appears with milk supplies.

Jamie, who was named alternate, answered the impromptu question by saying that she would most want to be known as fun loving because she likes people and interacting.

The Ephrata High School junior helps on the family's dairy farm in Stevens and works part time for Ace Hardware.

Audra is a reporter for the Solanco FFA chapter and an active participant in the youth group at Union Presbyterian Church.

Helping with dairy promotion are dairy ambassadors Laura Blank, Liza Blank, Laura Hess, daughter of Joe and Linda Hess; and Jill Hoover, daughter of Gordon and Carole Hoover.

in her last official duty as a dairy princess darling, Lida Kiser serves dairy punch to guests at the Lancaster County Dairy Princess Pageant.

Lancaster County Dairy Princess Audra Wood and Alternate Jamie Lynn Horning reign in Lancaster County.

Helping at promotional events are seven dairy darlings between the ages of 8 and 10 years old. These include Kimberly Becker, daughter of Marlin and Doreen Becker; Allyson Longnecker, daughter of Jim and Cathy Longnecker; Emily Mellinger, daughter of Bob and Michelle Mellinger; Kendra Neff, daughter of Brenda and Charlie Neff; Amanda Royer, daughter of Sara and Lynn Royer; April Shaub, daughter of Shirley and Kirk Shaub; and Nicole Welk, daughter of Mark and Chris Welk.

Elizabeth Smith gave a farewell speech and said that her role as county dairy princess opened her eyes to how closely knit the farming community really is. She said that many people look at dairy promotion as a one-person job but in reality a whole group works together. She especially valued the help of dairy farmers, alternate Megan Good, and Becky Sonnen-Bube, coordinator and "the heart and soul of promotion" for the county dairy princess committee.

Elizabeth expressed appreciation for the outstanding job and assistance her parents, who are busy dairy farmers, did in helping with promotion.

Serving as mistress of ceremonies was Heather Oberholtzer, former county dairy princess and state alternate. Megan Good, out-going alternate dairy princess, interviewed the dairy darlings and led the audience in the "wave," the royal form of waving to the crowd when riding in a parade.

Although only 15 years old, Gina Rinehart thrilled the audience with her professional rendition of several country songs. The junior high schooler, who lives with her parents on a Maryland dairy farm, has performed before large crowds.

Judges for the event were Carol Keene of New York, John Rinehart of Maryland, and Kara Tussey of MAMMA.

Ida's Notebook

by

Ida Risser

My husband and I took a day trip to Annapolis, Maryland the other Saturday. We had never visited the United States Naval Academy and so we did not know what to expect. The weather was pleasant and we had an interesting day.

But, I did not expect to walk one mile as a guide told us about the different buildings. I was not accustomed to so many steep steps at one time. There were many statues on the grounds including "Tecumseh," the Delaware Indian figurehead.

The chapel was very large and it had Tiffany stained glass windows. Beneath the chapel we saw the crypt of John Paul Jones, a great Revolutionary War Naval hero. He was formerly buried in France and moved in 1905.

Bancroft Hall is home to the 4,000 midshipmen and is one of the largest dormitories in the world. There are five miles of corridors and 33 acres of floor space. The dining room is enormous and we were told that they can prepare 350 turkeys at one time. One building had an Olympic-size pool and a wrestling arena.

After a nice lunch of Veal Piccata we walked along the boardwalk at City Dock and looked at the large boats docked there. We took a boat tour on the Severn River and saw a lot of sailboats as they come here from all over the world. The narrated tour told us of historic Annapolis and Maryland State House, the oldest state capitol in continuous legislative use, as it was built between 1772-79. I took a number of pictures of the Naval Academy and of the waterfront.

We ate our evening meal at a restaurant with outdoor tables. We were glad to return home on a comfortable tour bus as we were tired from our day in the sun.

3 cups milk (add to beaten yolks)

4 tablespoons melted butter

Combine the above two mixtures using an electric hand mixer or by hand with spoon. Beat 4 egg whites until stiff in another bowl and fold in last.

Pour over rhubard into two 9-inch raw pie crusts. Bake at 425 degrees for 10 minuts, then reduce heat to 350 degrees for another 40 minutes, or until knife inserted into filling approximately 1 inches from side comes out clean.

Every spring my husband asks if the rhubarb is ready yet, because he's waiting for rhubarb custard pie!

We have a 125-acre farm in Carbon County, one of the few remaining dairy farms in the county. Doing the active farm work is my husband, Harry, who mainly does the planting and harvesting. (His health no longer permits him to do any milking.) My son, David, does the daily milking and chores associated with a 30-cow herd with some help from me on weekends and mornings before I go to work. I work full-time as an administrative secretary for Carbon County Nursing Home and Rehab Center.

We also rent land neighboring our farm in order to produce enough corn, oats, and hay for the animals. We've lived in Carbon County for 18 years, having been born and raised in Berks County. As most farmers are, Harry and David are very good handymen and mechanics and are able to fix and build anything. The only complaint is that there is never enough time to do everything they want to do.

Although our daughter, Cindy, and son-in-law, Dean, have full-time jobs, they can be counted on for emergencies and extra busy times to help with the milking or sometimes large projects. We've had a grandson, Dillon Bizarre, since the picture was taken.

BEST CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIES

4½ cups all-purpose flour

2 teaspoons baking soda

1 teaspoon salt

4 eggs

3 cups milk chocolate chips

2 cups butter, softened

1 cup granulated sugar

1½ cups packed light brown sugar

3 teaspoons vanilla

Heat oven to 375 degrees. In large mixer bowl, beat butter, granulated sugar, brown sugar, and vanilla until it is creamy. Beat in eggs. Add flour, baking soda, and salt. Beat well. Stir in chocolate chips. Drop by spoonful onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 10 minutes or until lightly browned.

Remove from cookie sheet immediately. Makes about 6 dozen medium to large sized cookies.

Dave and I own a 67-cow dairy farm in Lebanon County, where we raise all our replacement heifers and grow corn, soybeans, alfalfa, and wheat.

We have three children, Candace, 7; Brendon, 5; and Elizabeth, 2. The children enjoy helping to feed the calves. We enjoy reading the Lancaster Farming.

STRIPED DELIGHT

1½ cups Oreo chocolate cookie crumbs

¼ cup sugar

⅓ cup butter, melted

1 8-ounce package of cream cheese, softened

¼ cup sugar

2 tablespoons milk

1 12-ounce package whipped cream topping

2 packages (four servings) Jell-O instant pudding

3½ cups cold milk

Combine crumbs, ¼ cup sugar, and melted butter. Press firmly in to a 9- by 13-inch pan. Chill for 5 minutes or, for a firmer crust, bake at 375 degrees for 8 minutes and cool. Beat cream cheese with ¼ cup sugar and 2 tablespoons milk until smooth. Fold in half the whipped topping. Spread over crust. Prepare pudding as directed on package, using 3½ cups of milk. Pour over cream cheese layer. Chill for several hours or overnight. Spread remaining whipped topping over pudding. Makes 12 servings.

Our kids, James and Heather, enjoy this dessert. It's easy to fix and sometimes I make it into a pie. Just cut the recipe in half. You can also play around with the crumbs and the pudding to make it different. Have fun!

TAR HEEL PIE

1 cup chocolate chips

½ cup butter, melted

1 cup finely chopped pecans or walnuts

1 teaspoon vanilla

½ cup flour

½ cup granulated sugar

½ cup brown sugar

2 eggs

Pour melted butter over chocolate chips. Blend in the remaining ingredients with the chocolate chip mixture.

Pour into unbaked pie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes.

My husband and I farmed many years in Truxton, N.Y. We have four girls and, five grandchildren, and one great grandson.

In 1997 my husband and I were in the hospital at different times for four months. With all the prayers, we are doing great.

QUICK VEGETABLE LASAGNE

12-ounce package medium or wide noodles

2 10-ounce packages frozen chopped spinach

1 pound cottage cheese

¼ cup parmesan cheese

3 tablespoons butter

½ teaspoon salt

¼ teaspoon pepper

Cook noodles until tender; drain well. Cook spinach until tender and drain well. Mix all ingredients in a large pan. Heat over low heat for a few minutes until heated through, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking. Serves 6.

SOUR CREAM SOFT SUGAR COOKIES

1 cup light brown sugar

1 cup granulated sugar

1 cup sour cream

1 cup butter

1 teaspoon baking soda

4 eggs

4 cups flour

1½ teaspoons vanilla

½ teaspoon salt

Mix together all ingredients. Refrigerate overnight. Drop on greased cookie sheet. Sprinkle with sugar, you can add a raisin or chopped nuts. Bake at 400 degrees for 10-12 minutes. Makes 9 dozen.

I hope you enjoy these cookies as much as we do. My husband and I live on a farm. We raise tobacco and we both work away from home. We have two children, Christopher and Ashlee and a dog named Pepper.

MACARONI PIZZA

1 pound ground beef

1 small onion, chopped

2 tablespoons shortening

12-ounce tomato paste

1 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon pepper

¼ teaspoon garlic powder

½ teaspoon oregano

1 cup cooked macaroni

1 egg

½ cup milk

1 cup mozzarella cheese, shredded

1 cup American cheese, shredded

In large skillet, melt shortening, brown ground beef and onion until ground beef is crumbly and onion is tender. Drain off fat. Add tomato paste, salt, pepper, oregano, and garlic powder to shortening, ground beef and onion. Simmer for 15 minutes. Spread cooked macaroni in a 10x15-inch greased baking dish. Mix together egg and milk, stir in macaroni. Spread the meat mixture over macaroni. Top with shredded mozzarella and American cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for about 15 minutes or until lightly browned and bubbly.

I'm a homemaker and mother of two wonderful children, Kelsey, 2, and Clayton, 10 months.

My husband Michael is a dairy farmer. He milks cows for Conrad Farms. The kids think the cows or moo-moo's are neat. The kids especially like it when the cows moo.

This recipe is really easy and fun to make, and tastes great too.

The mobile aquatic science laboratory for hands-on learning was welcomed at New Market Elementary School with a ribbon cutting ceremony. The trailer will travel to six Frederick County elementary schools to teach children about agriculture. The cost is being paid completely by the women's committee of the Frederick County Farm Bureau. From left to right are: Candace Garver and Curtis Moxley, 4th graders; Louise Ediger, chairman of special projects for FCFB women's committee; Louise Stup, president of FCFB women's committee; Dr. Rebecca Carp, principal of New Market Elementary; Tonja Mayne, instructor with the mobile unit; Mary Tielking, 4th grade team leader; and Gavin Melton, 4th grader.

Frederick Farm Women Bring Ag Story To School

KAREN BUTLER
Maryland Correspondent

NEW MARKET, Md. — Frederick County elementary school children are gaining a better understanding of agriculture thanks to the women of the Frederick county Farm Bureau. The women's committee is sponsoring a mobile laboratory that will visit six county schools to provide a week-long hands-on learning experience about Maryland's largest industry, agriculture.

The gold-star award-winning women's committee of Frederick County has a statewide reputation for excellence. They have been the top women's committee at the state level for the past two years, and they bring a whirlwind of energy and enthusiasm to each commitment they undertake. They have tirelessly dedicated themselves to numerous outreach and fundraising projects, all the while making agricultural education the focus of their energy.

The agricultural laboratory on wheels, with its aquatics theme, is a perfect example of how the women's efforts are paying off to benefit the children of the county. Really a trailer outfitted with sophisticated testing equipment, its walls lined with tanks of fish, crabs, and crawfish, the mobile unit offers a hands-on curriculum designed and taught by certified teachers, and geared toward elementary school-aged children.

A ribbon cutting ceremony welcomed the trailer to New Market Elementary school in New Market recently. New Market is the first of six schools the trailer will visit. Each grade has an opportunity to visit the trailer each day, but New Market put emphasis on the fourth graders' visits. Lisa Gaver, who is a member of both the Farm Bureau women's committee and the PTA at New Market Elementary, explained that although the laboratory exposes the children to agriculture, it really teaches them math, science and reading

The laboratory, along with sister labs with themes of Maryland agriculture products, biotechnology, and Maryland agricultural chemicals and food safety, has its origins with the non-profit Maryland Agricultural Education Foundation (MAEF), according to Bob Keenan, director of the Maryland Educational Center for Agriculture Science and Technology (The Center is the programming arm of MAEF) Each trailer travels around the state offering the learning experience to each school.

The teachers from schools the trailer will visit go through an in-service training to prepare them for the trailer's arrival. There are about 18 different activities on each laboratory, and the teachers can pick and choose the activities that will support what they have been teaching the children in their school units.

It costs $1,100 a week to have the trailer at a school, and the cost is being paid for completely by the Farm Bureau women. Part of the money came from special programs the women sponsor like basket bingo and a fashion review. Some of the money came in the form of animals that had been donated back at the county fair, with the request that the fund be used for education.

Louise Stup, chair of the women's committee, explained that all the money the women earn is put toward education, "The money that we make, we put into agriculture education. We are also paying for six scholarships for Frederick County teachers to go to Ag-In-The-Classroom training, and we're paying for the team teacher to be trained to teach these Mobile units in the classroom."

NEW YORK CHEESE CAKE

1 pound cream cheese (room temperature)
2 pounds creamed cottage cheese
1 pint sour cream
1½ cups sugar
4 eggs
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ pound melted butter

Cream the cream cheese. Add the cottage cheese and beat 15 minutes. Add remaining ingredients separately. Blend thoroughly after each addition. Bake in a greased and floured spring-form pan. Bake 60 minutes at 375 degrees. Turn oven off. Let cake cool completely in oven with door closed.

This is a recipe I used for more than 25 years. Then someone asked me for the recipe. So instead of copying it, she took the recipe. But someone from Lancaster Farming sent it in and it was the one I was looking for.

We came to Spring Grove 30 years ago. My husband had just retired from 20 years in the Navy. He was a deep sea diver. We found a farm and my husband and two children, 8 and 9 years old, helped farm it but couldn't make a go of it. So we sold it. All told, we had more than 100 acres, because we had purchased another farm.

I was raised in Wildwood, N.J. My husband was from Van Buren, Ark. He passed away four years ago in June. He had worked with the original astronauts when we were in Pensacola, Fla. He worked with John Glenn, which I believe is the only one living now of the original astronauts. But it was many years ago, before anyone went to the moon.

I now live in New Oxford, where my son has a seven-acre farm. He raised his own hogs and beef for our own use. We would have celebrated our anniversary in April — 45 years, if he (my hubby) had lived.

BAKED BEANS 'DAIRY STYLE'

2 16-ounce cans baked beans
½pound sharp cheese (shredded)
3½ ounces sour cream

Pour one can of baked beans into a 2½ quart casserole dish. Use half of the shredded cheese and cover top of beans. Add second can of beans (on top of the cheese). Spread sour cream evenly over the beans. Cover the sour cream with balance of shredded cheese and bake in a 375-degree oven for 25 minutes.

My name is Donna Beers. My husband, Bob, and I have three children, Debbie, David, and Diane. Debbie and her husband Bob have two sons, Ben, 6, and Tom, 4. David and wife Lori have a daughter, Leigh Ellen, 5.

Bob and I live on about 23 acres. We have 10 chickens and five cats. Bob is retired and keeps busy planting fruit trees and maintaining the lawn.

I grew up on a dairy farm in Bedford County, so dairy products became a way of life for us. This recipe was one of my aunt's, and it just goes to show how dairy products can be used in just about anything, and be very tasty.

PEACHES AND CREAM PIE

In a small bowl, beat:
8 ounces cream cheese
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons peach juice (from pie filling)

Put pie filling in an unbaked, 9-inch pie crust. Spoon cream cheese mixture over top. Mix:
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Sprinkle over top. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

My sister and I are always swapping recipes. I first gave her the recipe for peach pie filling, which I got out of the Lancaster Farming, and then she came up with this recipe to help use the pie filling. My sister has four children and I have five and this recipe was a definite winner.

BAKED BROCCOLI

1 package frozen broccoli
2 slices bread, crumbled
¼ pound Velveeta cheese
1 large egg beaten
1 cup milk

Cook broccoli. Drain. Keep liquid. Layer broccoli, crumbs, and cheese, three times. Add milk to beaten egg and liquid to make 1½ cups. Pour over broccoli and cover. Bake 30 minutes at 325 degrees.

We enjoy Lancaster Farming, especially Section B.

We have two grandchildren, Rachel, 4½ years, and Matthew, 9 months. They visit us on our farm almost daily and enjoy the outdoors. Matthew has just started to eat ice cream and it looks like he'll be having a big dish of ice cream as often as his grandpa!

Rachel loves to garden and she picks bouquets for her mommy and dadddy whenever she has Grandma's okay. Sometimes she even helps us weed!

This is one of our favorite recipes.

RAISIN BREAD

1 cup seeded raisins
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg
¾ cup sugar
1½ cup milk
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 to 3½ cups flour

Cover raisins with one cup of water and cinnamon and cook until water is gone. Cover sugar and egg and milk. Add cooked raisins, flour and baking powder to make stiff batter. Let rise for 20 minutes. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for about an hour. Bake in grased and floured loaf pan.

PEANUT BUTTER SWIRL BARS

½ cup peanut butter
⅓ cup butter
¾ cup brown sugar
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
12 ounces semisweet chocolate chips

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In a large bowl, combine first four ingredients and beat until creamy. Slowly beat in eggs and vanilla, then add flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat until well-blended.

Spread in a greased 9- by 13-inch pan. Sprinkle chocolate chips over the top and bake for 3 minutes. Remove from oven and use knife to marbleize. Put back in oven and bake for 30 minutes.

Hi! This is a quick bar to make.

One of my favorite things to bake is bars. I also enjoy sewing, gardening, and being a wife and mother.

My husband, Allen, and I have three children: MaryLou, 3; Judith, 2; and Nathaniel, 6 months. We live on a small farm. My husband also is a diesel mechanic and I usually help part of the time to feed our 90 veal calves. The rest of the time is spent cooking, cleaning, and, you guessed it, taking care of our little ones. It seems I'm always busy, but to me, I have the best job in the world, being a homemaker.

I enjoy the recipes that you print in Lancaster Farming. Keep up the good work.

LIMA BEAN CASSEROLE

3 tablespoons melted butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup sour cream
4 cups lima beans
½ medium onion, chopped
8-ounces cheddar cheese, grated
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup cornflakes, crushed

Combine 3 tablespoons butter, flour, salt, and pepper in a saucepan. Cook over low heat for several minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in sour cream. Fold in beans and onion. Spoon into 2-quart baking dish. Cover top with cheese. Dot with 1 tablespoon butter. Sprinkle with corn flake crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

This recipe is a different way to enjoy lima beans, even by those who don't normally eat them. This casserole makes a good side dish at family gatherings and I usually serve it for Thanksgiving dinner.

My husband Mark and I live in Annville with our two sons, Perry, 2, and Peter, 10 months. We enjoy being outside, gardening, and spending time with the boys. We especially enjoy visiting my parents' dairy farm on the weekend. Perry and Peter get a big kick out of the tractors and the cows, just like other farm kids do.

PANCAKES

4 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons oil
4-6 tablespoons butter

Mix flour, baking powder, and salt together, and add eggs, milk, and oil. (A little extra flour may need to be added if too thin.) Fry on a hot skillet. Spread hot pancakes with butter. Top with syrup, fresh fruit, etc.

Section B is my "reading material" section. I like to cook, so most of my cooking is from scratch. Pancakes and sausage are a favorite breakfast treat at our house.

We live on a farm located in Mifflin County and raise crops and beef cattle. My son Justin likes to help his dad, George, around the farm. As indicated by the photo, there is never a task too big to handle!

PRALINE CHEESE PIE

3 8-ounce packages of cream cheese
1¼ cups light brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
3 large eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
¾ cup pecans, chopped
2 graham cracker pie shells

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In a large mixing bowl, beat cream cheese until smooth. Add sugar ¼ cup at a time and beat until well blended. Add four, eggs, and vanilla and heat until well-blended. Fold in pecans. Pour mixture into the two graham cracker shells. Bake in middle of the oven for 45 minutes. Remove and cool, then refrigerate until ready to serve.

VEGETABLE DIP

2 eggs
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar

Blend together and cook until thick. Cool.

8 ounces cream cheese
2-3 tablespoons sour cream and onion powder

Blend in mixer. Add cooled egg mixture. Beat until fluffy. Refrigerate for 4 hours for flavors to blend.

Serve with an assortment of fresh veggies.

Although we're not directly involved in farming, I enjoy reading the B section of Lancaster Farming. We have two children—Stephanie, 6 and Nicholas, 3. My husband, Paul, is the owner and manufacturer of Farmmaster, Inc. My children find this dip a bit strong in vinegar flavor, so I usually add an extra dollop of sour cream or cottage cheese.

EASY MICROWAVE RICE PUDDING

1 cup quick-cooking rice
3 cups milk
1 small package instant vanilla pudding mix

Combine pudding and 2 cups milk. Mix well in baking dish. Add rice and 1 cup milk, ½ cup raisins, optional.

PEANUT BUTTER PIE

8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
½ cup sugar
⅓ cup creamy peanut butter
1 cup whipped cream
¼ cup chocolate fudge sauce
1 Oreo cookie pie crust

Beat together softened cream cheese, sugar, and peanut butter. Fold in whipped cream. Spoon into a pie crust, chill four hours. Drizzle fudge sauce over filling and draw with a knife edge through the sauce. I also freeze the pie overnight; it seems to cut better and thaws in little time. Enjoy!

This recipe is easy to make. It has been a hit at many potluck gatherings. I like the fact that it can be made ahead of time—a great time saver.

Four generations of our family are very active in Grange events. My grandmother, Helen Epting, is a member of the Virginville Grange. My mother, Marlene Sattazahn, as well as myself, are lifetime members of the Marion Grange. Ashley, 4, has probably been to more Grange events then folks many times her age.

Ashley enjoys spending time on her grandparents' farm. Her pop pop has mules. She enjoys watching them work the fields, getting a ride, and giving them carrots. Her grandma and grandpa have a dairy farm. On Sundays, when her daddy milks, Ashley looks forward to a wheelbarrow ride, pretending to drive the tractor and feeding the calves. After the Sunday evening milkings, Daddy loves to read one of his favorite papers—Lancaster Farming.

RICE PUDDING

Dash salt
2 teaspoons pure vanilla
⅔ cup sugar
⅔ cup white long grain rice

Put all ingredients into a 2-quart saucepan. Stir until blended and place on stovetop. Heat at medium heat until it heats up tc a simmer, approximately 30 minutes. Place on lid. Keep covered, turn heat to simmer. Simmer for approximately one hour, stirring every 15 minutes.

Take off lid and cook another hour at simmer, again stirring every 15 minutes. Remove from heat, place lid back on, let set 45 minutes. Place in bowl and refrigerate or eat warm.

I'm excited to enter this contest only because I'm in love with cows. We as a family (my parents and my family) have a dairy farm in Northampton County.

Farming is a very busy life, but there are many rewards. Being close to nature—what could be more precious?

Our children, Sean and Shelly, ages 13 and 14, find farming the best life could give them. Friends always want to visit us, only because there is always something to do. Then that special treat before they go home—maybe it's ice cream or a milk shake. Funny it's always a dairy product that lights up their eyes. Many children in the U.S. are missing the good things in life, and the simple basics.

½ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
Whipped cream

Mix graham cracker crumbs, ⅓ cup sugar, and ½ cup butter. Press into 9x13-inch pan. Mix together beaten eggs, ¾ cup sugar, and cream cheese. Pour over crust. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Cool. Cook pumpkin, egg yolks, ½ cup sugar, milk, salt, and cinnamon until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and add gelatin dissolved in cold water. Cool. Beat egg whites with ¼ cup sugar, and fold into pumpkin mixture. Pour over cooled crust. Top with sweetened whipped cream.

Delicious.

SALMON CHOWDER

½ cup chopped celery
1 clove garlic, minced
3 tablespoons butter
2 cups diced potatoes
2 cups chicken broth
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dill weed
2 carrots, peeled and diced
2 cans salmon, flaked
1 can evaporated milk
1 can creamed corn
½ pound grated cheddar cheese

Saute onion, celery, and garlic in butter. Add potatoes, broth, seasonings, and carrots. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Add salmon with the liquid in can, milk, and corn. Continue cooking until heated through. Serve with cheese sprinkled on top.

We are a family who loves to fish and eat, so making this recipe is great at our home.

OREO COOKIE DESSERT

½ cup melted butter

Mix together and press into 9x13-inch pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 15 minutes. Cool.

Second layer:
2 8-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
1½ cups confectioners' sugar

Third layer:
1 small package instant vanilla pudding
1 small package instant chocolate pudding
3 cups cold milk

Mix pudding and milk together until thick. Spread over cream cheese layer

Fourth layer:
8-ounces whipped cream topping

Spread whipped cream pudding and sprinkle crushed Oreo cookies on top. Keep refrigerated.

We live on a 95-acre farm and we have four children. One of my favorite past times is baking and I especially like trying new recipes.

CREAMY BEEF 'N' NOODLES

1 chopped onion
4 ounces sliced mushrooms
1 tablespoon oil
1 pound ground beef
10¾ ounces can mushroom soup
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter
12 ounces cooked noodles (or any pasta)

Saute chopped onion and sliced mushrooms in oil in nonstick skillet for 5 minutes. Add ground beef; cook, stirring to break up meat, for 7 minutes. Add mushroom soup, milk, and salt, pepper, and butter. Heat through about 4 minutes. Serve with noodles or any pasta. Makes 6 servings at 92 cents a serving.

This recipe is very good and simple to make. Just add a salad to complete the meal.

I grew up on a farm with my father and mother and three brothers and one sister. We used lots of milk on the farm and still do.

I no longer live on a farm, but built a house on the family farm, in one of the fields. I am still a farmer at heart. I enjoy the country life.

CARAMEL PUDDING

½ cup butter
2 cups brown sugar
½ cup water

Brown together and add 2 quarts milk.

Blend in blender 5 tablespoons flour, 5 tablespoons cornstarch, and 5 eggs. Cook all together, then add 5 tablespoons vanilla.

We all love this dessert. We like it best when it's cold, rainy, and dreary outside because it warms yourself up

I got this recipe from my favorite cookbook. I am certainly hoping that I win one of those neat cow items through the Dairy Recipe Contest.

I live on a dairy farm. We milk 69 cows and raise our own heifers. We are kept really busy milking 3 times a day. On a farm, there's always something to do.

I'm kept busy in the garden and the house. This year our peas don't look like they'll be a bumper crop, probably because of the strange winter we had.

My favorite joy is baking. I love trying new recipes and cooking up something everyone enjoys.

I have two sisters and four brothers. All of them live at home. My parents are Walter and Ruthann Zeiset.

RHUBARB-MERINGUE DESSERT

½ cup butter
1 cup flour
1 tablespoon sugar

Mix together butter, flour, and sugar until crumbly. Press into ungreased 9x9x2-inch pan. Bake 10 minutes at 350 degrees.

Mix together the following:
3 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup half and half
2½ cups cut up rhubarb
⅓ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Pour mixture over baked layer. Bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Beat egg white until foamy. Beat in ⅓ cup sugar, continue beating until stiff and glossy. Beat in vanilla. Spread over rhubarb mixture, sprinkle with the following:

. Bake until light brown, about 10 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves 9.

This is one of my husband's favorite rhubarb desserts. We have a big patch of rhubarb so I'm always looking for new rhubarb recipes.

FFA
BUILDING THE FUTURE

Manheim FFA

Manheim FFA members, parents, and guests celebrated their 59th Annual Awards Banquet in May at Manheim Central High School. More than 150 members and guests shared in a celebration of the year's accomplishments.

Board of school directors member, Rebecca Deibler, brought greetings from the Manheim Central School District. She was followed by Manheim Young Farmer President Vernon Heisey, who encouraged students to take advantage of the opportunities that FFA presents them. Finally, alumni member Barry Geib spoke on behalf of both the high school ag advisory board and the Manheim Farm Show Committee.

Parliamentarian Lori Landis presented the Greenhand, Star Greenhand, and freshman leadership awards. Recipients of the first year Greenhand degrees included Keith Andreozzi, Stephanie Feister, Stacey Fisher, Brandon Forry, Rodney Groff, Bonita Hart, Phil Hart, Bobby Keller, Kari Landis, Brian Martin, Ryan Moyer, Dustin Musser, James Risner, Geoff Rohrer, Kristin Sinniger, Leanne Stoner, and Josh Theis. From among these members, Dustin Musser was selected this year's Star Greenhand for his participation in chapter activities.

Freshman leadership awards were presented to freshmen who receive their Greenhand degree and make the honor roll at least once this year. Receiving a pin this year were Stephanie Feister, Joel Frey, Brandon Forry, Rodney Groff, Bob Keller, Brian Martin, Ryan Moyer, Dustin Musser, and Josh Theis.

Amy Becker, chapter treasurer, presented the second-year chapter degree awards to Carina Geib, Ryan Garber, Jeff Grinder, Samantha Heistand, Derek Hershey, Jeremy Kready, Lori Landis, Jenee Mearig, Joel Scott, J. Marlin Shaffer, and Corey Shelley. Based on their supervised agricultural experience projects, Marlin Shaffer was selected as the Star Chapter Agribusinessman, and Derek Hershey was selected as the Star Chapter Farmer.

Travis Donough, student adviser, presented Red Rose degree certificates to Amy Becker, James Eyster, and Missy Martin. Travis Hartranft, alumni member, followed by presenting golden chains and keys to this year's Keystone Degree recipients Amy Bollinger, Travis Donough, and Ryan Groff.

Amie Shelley, chapter president presented Travis Hartranft with a plaque to recognize his advancement to the American FFA Degree. This is the highest ranking degree a member can achieve.

Each year the chapter selects three individuals who have given extra time and effort to the chapter to receive the Honorary Chapter Degree Award. This year's winners were Nelson and Alma Wenger, Alvin Diffenderfer, and Jay Mylin.

The chapter also presents citation awards to any company who has provided extra assistance and support to the Manheim FFA. This year's honorees were Wenger Feed Mill, Landis Brothers, Inc., and Rohrer's Orchard and Market.

The Blue and Gold Award, is presented to an individual who has gone the extra mile for Manheim FFA. This year's recipient was substitute teacher, Cecil Lohr Lohr helped chaperone numerous FFA activities, organized several FFA contests, and gave countless hours of his own time to help students with their individual supervised agricultural experience projects Since that time, Lohr has been permanently hired by the school district to replace Charles Ax as an agriculture mechanics instructor

Proficiency awards were then presented to the students who had developed the best supervised agricultural experience programs within the chapter Each of these students has dedicated more than 100 hours of their personal time to an authentic agricultural experience Ryan Groff has repaired and painted tractors to receive the Ag Mechanics Award. Lucinda Martin works for a local market to receive the Agricultural Sales and Service Award. Travis Donough raised the champion steer at Manheim Farm Show to receive the Beef Production Award.

Amy Bollinger has raised countless hogs for fairs around the county and received the Swine Production Award. Amy Becker exhibited both swine and steer at this year's Farm Show to receive the Diversified Livestock Award. Jason Stoner helps raise corn on his father's dairy farm to receive the Feed Grain Production Award

Derek Hershey was solely responsible for raising 100 heifer calves for the Dairy Production Award.

Kristin Sinniger raised the first litter of mice in the chapter to earn the Specialty Animal Production Award. Mandi Eisenhooth tried raising and breeding Netherland dwarf rabbits to win the Small Animal Care Award. Marlin Shaffer is rebuilding the chapter pizza stand and received the Home and Community Development Award. Finally Rodney Groff earned the Ag Communications Award for his participation in the county creed speaking contest

Assistant high school principal, Lou Martarano, presented scholarship awards to three FFA members in each grade who received the best cumulative grade point averages. Freshman Ryan Moyer, Leanne Stoner and Brian Martin received scholarship award pins for their FFA jackets. Sophomores Kari Landis, Jeremy Kready, and Kris Sinniger were presented with motivational FFA T-shirts Calculator clip folios were presented to junior members Brent Leed, S ·ah Geib, and Jason Stoner Senior members Mandi Eisenhooth, Jen Hersh v. ·nd Lucinda Martin each received an engraved pen set

The banquet concluded with the recognition of chapter officers, their parents, and the presentation of the 1998-99 Manheim FFA Officer Team New President is Amy Becker. and vice-president is Ryan Garber The newly elected secretary is Kelly Moore. Freshman Stephanie Feister will serve as next year's treasurer and Jim Risner is reporter. Corey Shelley is the newly elected sentinel Phil Hart will bless the group as chaplain and Derek Hershey was selected to serve as student adviser.

4-H Safety

York County 4-H will host a progressive Farmer & Home Safety Day Camp, which is being locally sponsored by the Penn State Cooperative Extension, the Pennsylvania Department of Health and The American Trauma Society.

The camp, which teaches children to be aware of safety hazards in the home and on the farm, will be held Friday, July 10, from 8:30 a.m. - 4 p.m., at the 4-H Center, located off of Route 116, near Bair.

Admission of $3 for one child or $5 for two or more children in the same family, includes all camp activities, a T-shirt for each camper, as well as lunch and a goodies bag. For registration information, contact Mary Jo Kraft or Linda Spahr at (717) 840-7408.

This year's camp is for children ages 8-13. Children do not have to live on a farm to attend this camp. All children will benefit from the many hands-on workshops. In particular, a lawn mower safety demonstration will emphasize this importance of being careful around lawn mowers this summer. In addition, children will learn about first aid, be able to use a 911 simulator to make a "practice" emergency call, learn about chemical and poison hazards, helmet safety, tractor rollover prevention, and many more important things. In addition, Life Lion will be landing at this site.

Each year more than 300 children are killed in farm or farm-related accidents. More than 27,000 are seriously injured or permanently disabled.

Wether Tops Western Pennsylvania's Sheep And Lamb Sale

MARSHA ANN CHESS
Mercer Co. Correspondent

MERCER (Mercer Co.) — When the bidding was over, Mike O'Neil and his daughter Amanda of Titusville, Crawford County, had purchased the top selling animal in the Western Pennsylvania Sheep and Club Lamb Sale. The Suffolk wether, a consignment of Lyn Lee Farm, State College, brought $620.

The second high selling animal and high selling ewe, was a Suffolk, purchased by sale committee member George Hunter, Stoneboro, Mercer County, for $400. Her consigners, Ralph and Melanie Horchler of MSB Suffolks, Volant, Lawrence County, were "pleased to get that much," according to Melanie.

Glenn High of Lexington, Ohio consigned the high selling ram and third high selling animal, a Hampshire. High's yearling ram was led away by buyers Tom and Cathy Hopkins who paid $340 for the privilege.

All in all it was a good sale according to Mercer County Extension Livestock Specialist and sheep breeder Bob Calvert. The sale averaged almost $125 on 163 lots. Calvert also noted that attendance was up from last year's sale.

Lyn Lee Farm employees prepare to hand over the Western Pennsylvania Sheep and Club Lamb Sale high selling market wether to Buyers Amanda and Mike O'Neil, third and fourth from the left.

Forget Suds: Use Water To Wash Fruit

Unless you're trying to teach a lesson to a foul-mouthed youngster, soap generally isn't meant to be consumed. In fact, some researchers believe that residues left behind on soaped-up fruits and vegetables might be as harmful as any chemical residues you're trying to avoid. So, no, generally, soap isn't recommended to be used on any food.

However, a good, thorough rinsing under cold, running water is always recommended for fresh fruits and vegetables. Not only will it wash away many chemical residues, but it will rid your food of some microbial contaminants, too. Most scientists say that's even more important. The minuscule amounts of pesticide residues on fruits and vegetables are generally thought to be much less of a health threat than bacteria and other microorganisms that can be on the surface of our favorite fresh snacks.

Because of that, it's important to rinse off even produce that's been growing organically. Any food can be subject to microbial attack.

A few years ago, some manufacturers came out with special rinsing agents for fruits and vegetables. Again, most nutritionists and food scientists say they are unnecessary.

Food scientists also recommend that fruits and vegetables be rinsed immediately before consuming them. For example, don't rinse the entire head of lettuce to store in the refrigerator for the rest of the week. Just rinse off the leaves that you'll use at the next meal. Why? The lettuce will last much longer because the moisture that clings to the leaves after washing actually helps the remaining bacteria grow. That hastens spoilage

Prepackaged, prewashed salads generally don't need to be washed. The high-tec cleaning process major processors use wash the leaves more thoroughly than you could in your kitchen. But look at the label carefully. Some bagged salads brag that they're "fresh" but if they don't say they've been washed or are ready-to-eat, be sure to rinse them off before eating.

You ask You answer

This column is for readers who have questions but don't know who to ask for answers.

"You Ask—You Answer" is for non-cooking questions. When a reader sends in a question, it will be printed in the paper. Readers who know the answer are asked to respond by mailing the answer, which will then be printed in the paper.

Questions and Answers to this column should be addressed to You Ask—You Answer, Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. Attention: Lou Ann Good.

Do not send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a reply. If we receive the answer, we will publish it as soon as possible. Please include your phone number because we sometimes need to contact the person to clarify details. We will not publish your phone number unless you request it.

QUESTION — A faithful reader would like to know if anyone can tell her how to save an unfinished quilt top, she found while cleaning out a house. The top has turned yellow where exposed, dusty, etc. The remainder of the quilt is like new. It is printed to be embroidered in cross stitch and is already marked to be quilted. If she wases it, the markings and cross stitch will probably wash out. Is it worth the time sewing and maybe not getting clean? The dirty part is about a 12-inch square where folded.

QUESTION — Patricia Henry, Gettysburg, needs the address for Barry Products Corp., formerly of St. Louis, MO. Mail returned with forwarding expired. Patricia writes that the company makes the best metal polishing cloth called Victory Miracle.

QUESTION — Clarence Rhorback, Mertztown, wants to know where to get information on a miniature baler that makes 2x2x4-inch bales.

QUESTION — Doyle Whitney wants information on where employment in an area of ag dealerships or repair shops might be had where his experience of 25 years could be used. He also wants to know about rural communities where a farm could be purchased. He doesn't want real estate agents, but perhaps county extension agents or someone from the Dept. of Ag could help with the information. Call him collect at (860) 423-8218 or write to 331 Bass Rd., Windham, CT 06280.

QUESTION — A reader would like information on keeping a pair of swans in their pond in order to keep a Canada goose population under control. Which breed of swans works the best? Do you need to clip the wings to keep them in the pond? What kind of care do swans require?

QUESTION — Harold Wolf, New Cumberland, is looking for copies of "Flying" magazine published from the mid 1950s to 1962 only.

QUESTION — Vera Sloop, Landisburg, would like information on where to buy strainer parts for a galvanized watering can.

QUESTION — Sharon from Elverson is looking for additional pieces to a Pfalzgraff set of dishes that were made 15-20 years ago. Pieces have a cream background with dark blue accents that include either a cow, a flower, a rocking horse, a pineapple, a cat, or a farm scene. Some pieces include the label Spectrum by Pfaltzgraff.

QUESTION — Thane Lafollette, Bernville, would like information on how and where to sell broom corn. He has about 75 stalks to sell.

QUESTION — Ivan Gromling, Manchester, writes that when he was young and growing up in the 1950s and 1960s, his family used Troutaman's Cough Syrup, which was black in color. Where can he purchase it today?

QUESTION — Mary Pazzaglia, Columbia Cross Roads, wants addresses for suppliers for chipwood baskets that measure 4½-inch wide and 3¼-inch deep, and 2½-inches high.

QUESTION — Terry Lowe, New Park, is hoping to purchase wood or coal grates for a Wincroft #B8882R cookstove, made in Middletown.

QUESTION — Evan Weidman, Westfield, would like information about old cookers that he has. On top, it says American Cooker, patented Nov. 29, 1910, other patents pending, No. 70. the other one says the same thing but has a No. 66 on it. He'd like to know who made them and any other instructions.

QUESTION — Don Miller, Summit Hill, wants to know who can appraise the value of an antique goat cart. Call him at (717) 645-9693.

QUESTION — R. Himmelberger, 129 Poplar Rd., Fleetwood, PA 19522, would like poems with the word thimble in them.

QUESTION — Mrs. B. Weaver, New Holland, purchased a used set of Tinker Toys, but it didn't have a manual to show how to make things. If you can help her, send it to her at 618 N. Railroad Ave., New Holland, PA 17557.

QUESTION — Grace Pierce, Palmyra, would like to know where to get the words and music to "Abide With Me 'tis eventide."

QUESTION — Ella Keyser, Zieglerville, wants to know where to buy a belt for an antique sewing machine. The treadle machine is a New American #2909819 and Belt No. 25.

QUESTION — Fannie Beiler, Lancaster, would like to know where to purchase a Bio-Snacky sprouter of someone who is willing to sell theirs.

QUESTION — Margaret Diamond, Kunkletown, wants instructions to make lamps or other items from popsickle sticks.

ANSWER — Timothy Diehl, Bloomsburg, was looking for a company that sells parts and a 90-inch blades for a #14-277 Workace Bandsaw made by J.D. Wallace & Co., Chicago. Thanks to Bob Snyder, Akron, Ohio, who writes that bandsaw blades made to any length can be purchased at most industrial supply companies. The Wallace Company has been out of business for quite a while.

ANSWER — To the reader who wanted egg cartons, Sandy Sheffer, 1922 W. Clearview Dr., Glen Rock, PA 17327, writes that she has some to sell for $10 per 100 cartons, assorted sizes.

R. Kamoda, Monongahela, writes that cartons are available from Grenawalt Poultry Farm, Route 136, West Newton, PA. Call (724) 446-9754.

ANSWER — Helen Cox wanted to know how to root forsythia from a cutting. Roland Kamoda, Monongahela, writes that it is easy. Take a cutting early in the day, length 4-inches, not over. With single edge razor blade, cut stem just below leaf node on slight angle. Cut off enough leaves so that none will come in contact with soil, wound stem at base of cutting to cut through outer cortex tissue ½-inch to 1½-inch long. Cutting medium (1 peat part to 3 parts sand). Put into a 5- to 6-inch clay pot, which has been washed with a weak solution of bleach. Insert three slender sticks near edge of pot to support plastic bag. Tie around pot. If you have problems, Roland said write to him at 167 Grant Rd., Monongahela, PA 15063.

55 Acre Perry County Farm at PUBLIC AUCTION

SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1998

1:00 P.M.

Located 1.8 miles north of Duncannon along Rt. 849. Take Rt. 849 west in Duncannon and watch for sale signs.

This 55 acre farm, located in Penn Township, Perry County, has recently been subdivided. This farm is located minutes from Harrisburg.

Tract #1 - 7.04 ac. has approx 412' of road frontage along Rt. 849. It is partially wooded with a quality brick ranch style home. This home offers a kitchen with dining area, living room, 2 bedrooms, 2 full baths, a large attic, and a full concrete basement with chimney for alternate heat source. The primary source of heat is electric. There is a drilled well and on lot sewage system.

Tract #2 - 9.531 ac. over 300' of road frontage along Rt. 849 and over 2100' of road frontage on Rt. T-347. This tract is good productive agricultural land. This tract will be sold as untested agricultural land. This tract will be sold as untested agricultural land, w/potential for further subdivision.

Tract #3 - 38.329 ac with 750' of road frontage along Rt. 849, and approx. 647' of road frontage on Rt. T-347. This is a nice size tract primarily open with a few small patches of woods. Again, this tract will be sold as untested agricultural land with potential for subdivision. There is also a small bank barn perfect for storage/livestock.

SHORT NOTICE COMPLETE HOLSTEIN DISPERSAL
FROM MILLER'S DAIRY, GREENVILLE, PA
Thursday, June 25, 7:30 P.M.

To be held at Smoketown Quality Dairy Sales, Smoketown, PA Route 340

50 head young, milky, all home-raised Holstein cows, averaging 63# M out-of-tank with a 3.8F. This herd was never on test but shows over 19,000 from milk sales. A herd with good feet & legs & excellent udders & has a low SCC, never pushed. Cows themselves are mostly of ABS breeding & are serviced by a Black Star son with records over 29,000M & 1140F. There are over 30 2 & 3 year olds, with 16 cows fresh from April 1st to sale day; 10 more due June, July & August with a lot of September, October & November cows. Fresh cows milked to 100+ with a lot of fall cows still milking 60-90. This herd is milked in tie stalls & housed in free stalls. BST or TMR never used & a herd that walks to pasture every day. This is a herd that will please any dairyman. This herd is on a twice-a-year vaccination health program & is up to date. Records & milk weights night of sale. The Miller family has bred this herd for 25 years & it shows by the quality of these cows. You'll like this herd.

Dairyman sends 5 fancy, purebred springing heifers due for June & July from a herd with over 20,000 herd average. Sires include Mascot, Jurist, Ingot, Belltone & Orsen. Individual records on dams to 28,000 & over 1,000F. This is a top group of heifers.

Grade Belltone son out of a dam that milked 130+

June is Dairy Month; In appreciation to all dairymen, Gordon & Helen say "Thanks" with free ice cream for everyone sale night.

We are Small - But We Do It All

This is a busy time of year for dairymen but you will want to make time Thursday Evening the 25th to see this special sale at Smoketown.

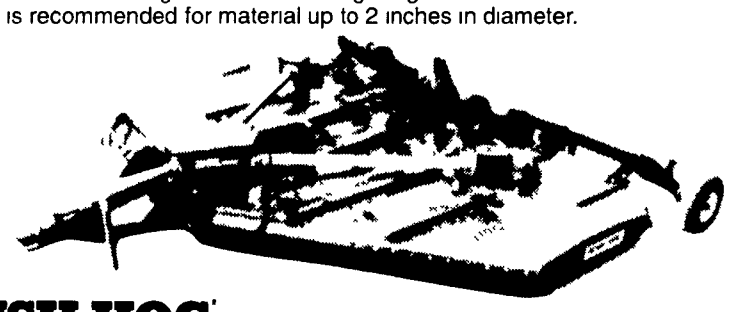
A Legend in the Industry... The Bush Hog 2615L Rotary Cutter

Bush Hog's 2615 Legend Flex-Wing Rotary Cutter is the clear choice for maintaining pastures and rights-of-way on even and uneven terrain. With a big 15-foot cutting width and wings that flex from 90° up to 22° down, this rugged cutter gives you fast, on-the-go control of all mowing functions. Cutting height is from 2 to 14 inches and cutting capacity is recommended for material up to 2 inches in diameter.



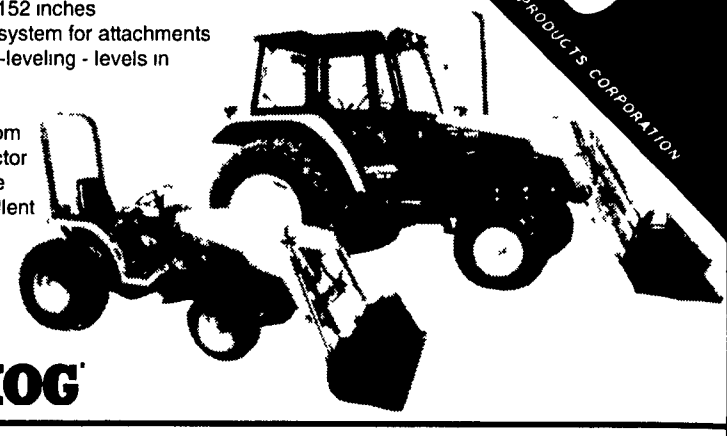
BUSH HOG

NEW FOR 1998... BUSH HOG® QUICK-ATTACH FRONT END LOADERS

BUSH HOG® DIVISION OF ALLIED PRODUCTS CORPORATION

Eight new models loaded with the features that customers want for ease of use, performance and dependability

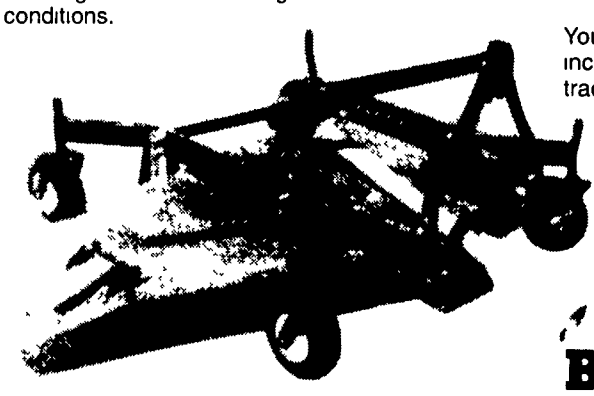
- Fits two and four-wheel drive tractors from 12 to 130 PTO horsepower - over 1500 tractor/loader combinations
- Six colors to match tractors
- Lift capacities from 725 to 4,635 lbs
- Lift heights from 76 to 152 inches
- Standard quick attach system for attachments
- Optional hydraulic self-leveling - levels in both raising and lowering cycles
- Mounting kits are custom designed for each tractor to provide a low profile appearance and excellent operator visibility



BUSH HOG

THESE LAWN CARE MOWERS MAKE GRASS CUTTING A PLEASURE

With Bush Hog's ATH Air Tunnel Finishing Mowers, cutting large lawns is fast and easy. Adjustments are minimal and simple to perform, and these mowers give you all the features you'll need to tackle heavy grass and uneven terrain. Heavy, 7-gauge steel deck plate, floating top linkage and lower link allow uniform cutting. High blade tip speeds and 1-1/2 or 2-1/4 inch blade overlap assure clean cutting. The high volume discharge chute flexes to allow mowing in heavier or damper conditions.



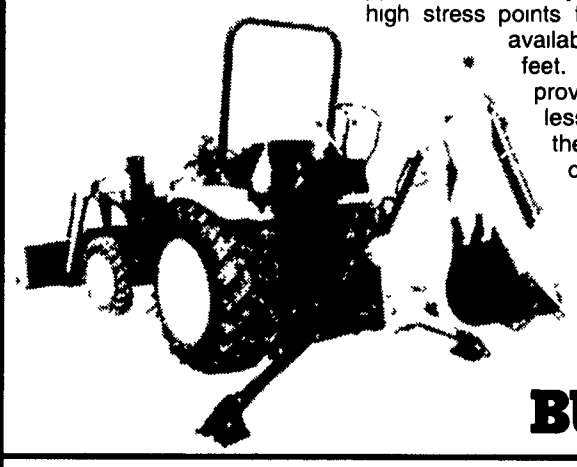
You can select a 60, 72 or 90 inch model to match your tractor and cutting needs.

Come in and learn more about how Bush Hog's ATH Mowers can take the chore out of cutting big lawns.

BUSH HOG

BACKHOES DESIGNED FOR PERFORMANCE AND COMFORT

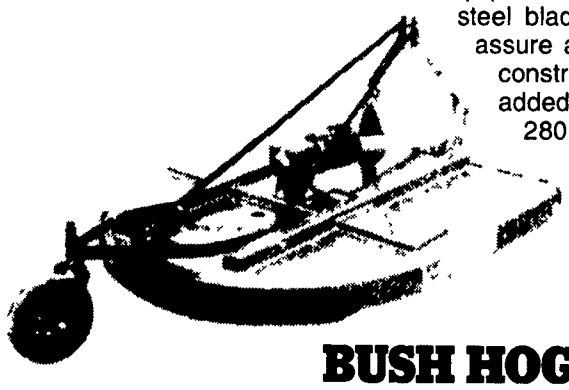
Bush Hog Series 62 Backhoes feature a larger operator platform with a walk through design. The control console is only 7-1/2 inches at the operator's knee. Boom and dipperstick are heavy duty, with reinforcing plates at all high stress points for long life. These backhoes are available in digging depths of 7, 8 and 9-feet. All new hydraulic control valves provide smoother operation with 40% less lever effort. Valves located under the platform to reduce heat and noise on the operator.



BUSH HOG

YOUR BEST CHOICE FOR ALL MEDIUM DUTY CUTTING JOBS.

Bush Hog's 280 Series Rotary Cutters are proven winners for cutting pastures, and all general purpose cutting jobs. These rugged mowers feature a one-piece formed deck construction and a cutting capacity of 2-inch diameter. A round blade holder and slip clutch are standard equipment. Free-swinging, uplift steel blades with high tip speed assure a clean cut, and rugged construction throughout means added durability. The Bush Hog 280 cutters are available in 5, 6 or 7-foot cutting widths.



BEST TURF MOWERS FOR A QUALITY CUT.

The Bush Hog TD Series Tri-Deck Finishing Mowers are available in 15 or 17-foot cutting widths and are ideal for sod growers, golf courses, land owners, municipalities and recreational sites.

These mowers are designed for precise cutting on even or uneven terrain...the feature a 30° up and 10° down wing flex and are rated for 40 and 45 minimum tractor horsepower. Gearbox rpm is 540, and deck construction is rugged; 7-gauge steel.

The May Dairy Herd Improvement information for dairy herds from the DHI processing center in Provo, Utah. The list includes herds from Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. The information is listed by herd name, county association, number of cows in the herd and the average production per cow in the herd based on Energy Corrected Milk (ECM). ECM combines milk production and components.

The ECM formula is: (7.2 x lbs. protein) + (12.95 x lbs. fat) + (.327 x lbs. milk). To be included, the herd must have 10 cows averaging 65 pounds or more of ECM per cow per day. All herds reported are on official DHI or DHIR test. Also listed are the top ten herds in Maryland for the Brown Swiss, Guernseys, and Jerseys, and the top seven herds for Ayrshires.

GRAZING/FORAGE CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS AVAILABLE

The proceedings has 22 papers that were presented at the conference by producers, extension educators, researchers, industry personnel, and international speakers.

Ten different producers participated in the program. Two of the featured articles were by Dr. Sinclair Mayne, from Northern Ireland, entitled, "Forage Productivity and Utilization by Ruminants to Optimize Profit" and "Are We Selecting the Correct Dairy Cows for Grazing?"

The proceedings should be a valuable resource for producers, agricultural and industry professionals, university and extension educators, agronomists, animal scientists, nutritionists, and many others.

The proceedings are available for $10 per copy (including shipping and handling) from the Grazing Research and Education Center, 116 Agric. Sciences and Industries Bldg., Penn State University, University Park, PA 16802. Make checks payable to Penn State.

FREE Demonstration. FREE Gift.

The BEST things in life are FREE!

Visit your nearest New Holland dealer for a FREE demonstration of the country's BEST round baler–the New Holland Roll-Belt™ round baler

- Roll-Belt design makes tight, dense, square-shouldered bales that stand up to weather and transport
- Optional endless belts are stronger and last longer, plus they're covered by the Endless Belt Bonded Protection Program for two years or 15,000 bales
- Bale kicker moves bales away from the baler so you can close the tailgate without moving forward–saves time with every bale

See it for yourself and qualify for a FREE New Holland Roll-Belt Round Baler SuperPlier multi-tool

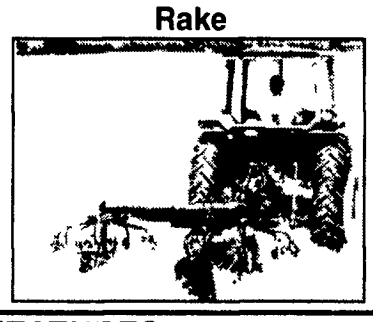
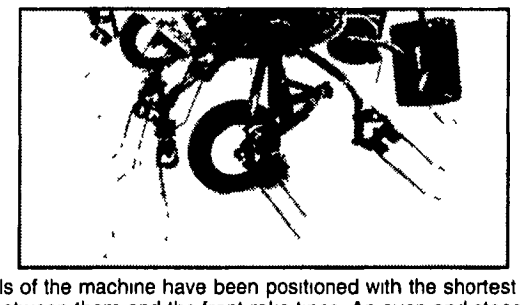
Rake

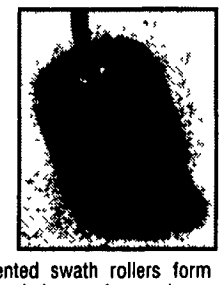


. UNIQUE FEATURES GOOD ADAPTION TO GROUND CONDITIONS



The wheels of the machine have been positioned with the shortest possible distance between them and the front rake tines An even and steady performance, with good clean raking can be achieved under all conditions

UNIQUE SWATH ROLLERS



JF's patented swath rollers form a perfect swath for baler or forage harvesters. The swath rollers are free to float and therefore always follow the contours of the field, so you have a rapid flow of work without stopping The rollers are, of course, adjustable for various swath widths

OPTIMUM SECURITY OF SPRING TINES

Clamp A retains the spring tine if it should brake, protecting the forage harvester or baler from damage

THINK SUMMERTIME, UPTIME SERVICE
For Your Planter or Drill

Binkley & Hurst Bros. planter technicians are through the Spring startup rush - poised, ready to evaluate and service your planter. In the past, many of this areas' best corn and bean growers have taken advantage of our Winter Uptime Planter Service. This Summer we are proposing a different approach.

SUMMERTIME UPTIME PLANTER SERVICE!

It really makes sense if you take a minute to think about it. In winter, your planter is buried behind other equipment in an unheated equipment shed or barn floor. Any questions or problems concerning use of your planter this spring are still fresh in your mind and can be addressed. Call Our Planter Dept. Today 1-800-414-4705.

WHY HOOBER'S AXIAL-FLOW COMBINES CAN SERVE YOU BEST

THE 3 LAWS OF HOOBER'S RECONDITIONED COMBINES

Law #1

14 Years Old Is Not Equal To Worn Out . . .

Because of the simple design of the Case IH Axial-Flow Combines, they can be reconditioned by Hoober's expert combine mechanics to like-new condition, so they provide 2nd and 3rd owners years of satisfactory and profitable operation.

Law #2

3,500 Hours Plus Hoober Reconditioning Equals Years of Dependable Service

3,500 hours on a conventional combine usually means they'll be too much trouble to be dependable. Axial-Flow combines with 3,500 hours, reconditioned by Hoober, have proven to run for years when purchased by farmers in PA, MD. DE and NJ.

Law #3

A Case IH Axial-Flow Combine Serviced By Expert Hoober Combine Mechanics Equals Little or No Downtime During Harvest

When Hoober's expert combine mechanics service and repair Axial-Flow combines in the off-season, they run dependably through the season.

Customize Your Bales

Without Paying Extra

Variable Chamber Balers Let You Make The Call.

If you demand a smaller hay package and a baler that's easy to operate, the New Idea® 4643 (4'x3') and 4644 (4'x4') are for you Thanks to the variable bale size, you can customize bales to fit your operation And each model creates bales that range from 30 to over 50 inches in diameter

With so much diversity, you'll only bale the size you need Their low-profile, full-width pick-up glides easily over fields, catching every stem The pickup height can be easily adjusted

For more details on the versatile 4643 and 4644 round balers, visit your AGCO℠ New Idea dealer today

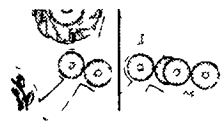
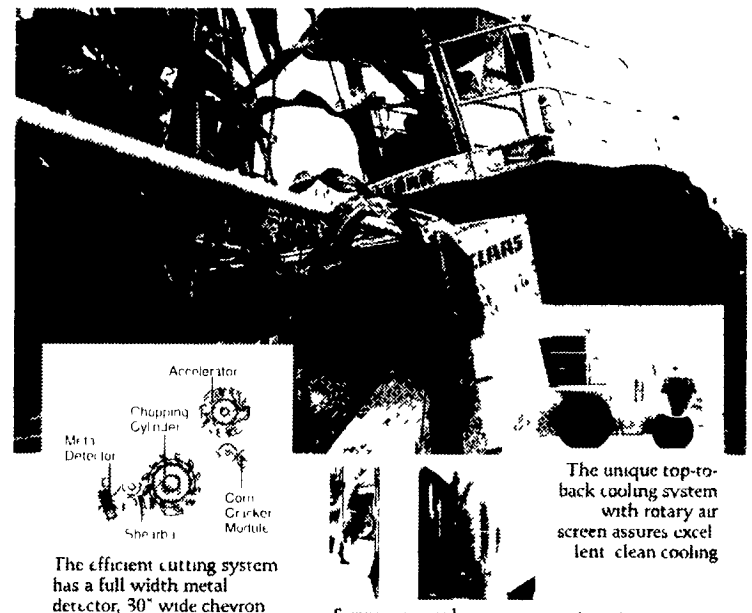
Maximum Power For Your Success

Get a beast of a deal on a new CLASS Jaguar
See your CLASS dealer for details.

The corn cracker can be changed in 5 minutes to switch from corn to hay. The Jaguar's efficient processing produces quality silage for higher milk production





The efficient cutting system has a full width metal detector, 30" wide chevron cutting drum and full width 8 blade accelerator

The unique top-to-back cooling system with rotary air screen assures excellent clean cooling

Service is easy because compartment covers quickly swing open to provide easy access to the engine and cooling system

The operator can adjust sharpen the chopping knives and precisely adjust the shearbar from the driver's seat automatically

Go Places That ONLY RAMROD MINI-SKIDS Can!

"Hydraulic Self-Propelled" Mini Skids deliver big performance in small places. Machines are driver-friendly, with an un-obstructed view of all working conditions, with quick-learning time and equipped with Self-Centering Controls which "Stop Dead" all drive, lift, or leveling movements when the operator's hands are removed from the controls. Machines are easily transported in a trailer or pick-up truck.

For 1998, Kuhn introduces the FC 4000R, a 13' Disc Mower Conditioner with a center pivot tongue, and these features:
- Dual conditioning systems with Kuhn's exclusive diamond block rolls for the most uniform conditioning available from a roll-type conditioner
- "Constant Float" suspension with pro-active lift A unique suspension system that offers unparalleled flotation, minimizing scalping and damage to the cutterbar and increasing the life of the machine
- Centralized gearbox that reduces the load required to drive the cutterbar and conditioning system.

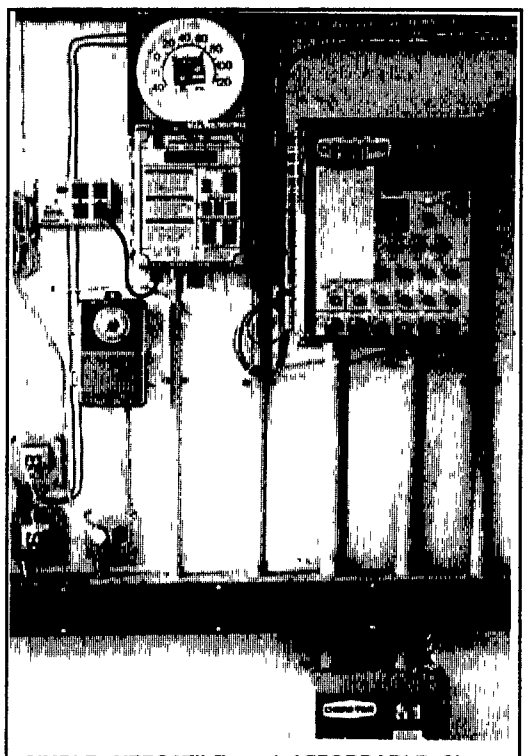
Chore-Time® new MODEL C2® PLUS Broiler Feeding System gets birds off to a good start, minimizes wasted feed, and provides birds with consistent access to fresh feed. The latest in Chore-Time's 45-year history of outstanding broiler feeding systems, the MODEL C2® PLUS includes a reinforced pan eating area and cone wear surface. This may be Chore-Time's most durable broiler feeder yet. The MODEL C2® PLUS is just one part of Chore-Time's SMART℠ Package of equipment.



SIMPLE, VERSATILE, and AFFORDABLE Chore-Time® SUPER-Selector™ PNT Ventilation Control is a user-friendly 12-stage microprocessor control designed to efficiently work with nearly all ventilation methods — natural, negative static pressure, and tunnel. Easy to operate, this control features two heat and 10 cooling stages. The SUPER-Selector is easy to set up and adjust to fine tune for your building's specific ventilation requirements.

CHORE-TIME Slant Wall Fans

Ideal for tunnel-ventilations systems

Chore-Time's family of Slant Wall Fans are ideal for use as high volume fans in tunnel-ventilated poultry houses. These fans feature a durable galvanized steel housing, aluminum shutters, and galvanized steel fan blades. Chore-Time Slant Wall Fans are available in 48-inch (1.2-meter) and 36-inch (914-mm) diameters.

Pesticide Recertification Meeting Information Available

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Penn State's Office of Pesticide Education offers three new services to help certified pesticide applicators locate open meetings approved for recertification credits.

"Many times, county extension offices and Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture offices are overwhelmed by phone calls from applicators seeking information," said Winand Hock, professor of plant pathology and director of the Pesticide Education Office. "These new services will allow applicators to get up-to-date information at a central source."

Hock said the Pesticide Education Program Web site features a search engine that will locate open meetings in any of the seven Department of Agriculture regions. The Internet address for the Web site is http:// www.pested.psu. edu.

"You can find out when and where core and category pesticide recertification meetings are being held and when pesticide applicator certification examinations will be held," Hock said.

Another service is a toll-free phone line: 1-800-Penn-IPM (736-6476). Callers must use a touch-tone phone. Listen for the voice prompt and push "1" for pesticide information. Callers are prompted to select one of seven regions and select a category of pesticide certification. Core programs are selected by pushing "00." All others are listed "1" through "25." "Check your certification card for the categories you need," Hock said.

A listing of all meetings within a category will be read in alphabetical order by county and date. Each announcement will include county, date, number of credits and contact phone number.

Penn State also offers a FAX-BACK system, which provides callers with a printed list of all open meetings approved by the Department of Agriculture.

Callers should use the phone on their fax machine and call (814) 865-1636. A voice prompt will welcome you to the Penn State Fax-on-Demand System. Press "1" for Pesticide Information. Another prompt asks you to select a region number from "1" through "7." If you are interested in out-of-state meetings or correspondence courses, push "8." After entering your choice, the prompt will ask you to press the "Start" button on the fax machine, and the information you requested will be faxed to you.

Antique Tractor, Equipment Show July 10-12

GILBERT (Monroe Co.) — The Pocono Old-Tyme Farm Equipment Association presents the 3rd Annual Antique Tractor, Gas Engine, and Farm Equipment Show here at West End Fairgrounds on Friday, July 10 - Sunday, July 12. Show hours are Friday noon until dusk and Saturday and Sunday 9 a.m. until dusk. There is an admission charge of $1 per person and 12 years old and under free with an adult.

Scheduled entertainment includes Friday from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. "The Hawks" band and Saturday from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. "McWilliams Bros." band.

Scheduled events on Friday include kids' activities all day, 5 p.m. tractor parade and 8 p.m. Old Tyme Cake Walk. On Saturday there will be at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. grain threshing machine demonstrations, noon tractor parade, 2 p.m. Kids' Pedal Tractor Pull (weight class is 35 pounds to 100 pounds with the tractors provided by the Pocono Old-Tyme Farm Equipment Association); 4:30 p.m. Kids' Treasure Hunt; and 5 p.m. Adult Pedal Pull.

To compete in the Antique Farm Tractor Pull on Saturday at 1 p.m., you must register on Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon and are required to be 16 years or older and you may use your own antique tractor that was built up until 1960 (do note that modified tractors are not allowed). A $10 registration fee is required. Trophies will be awarded to 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th place winners, plus cash for the 1st and second place winners only.

Scheduled activities on Sunday include 10 a.m. Open Air Church Services for all faiths; noon Tractor Parade, starting at 1 p.m. Tractor Driving Skill Competition; 2 p.m. Kids' Pedal Tractor Pull; 3 p.m. Adult Pedal Tractor Pull; and 4 p.m. raffle ticket drawing. The Tractor Driving Skill Competition will be held in the grandstand area and includes the following competitions: Blind Race (whereas you drive your tractor blindfolded); Wagon Backing (whereas you back up your tractor to a hay wagon); Slow Race (whereas you drive the tractor as slow as possible); and a Hot Dog Race (whereas the first tractor driver who bites off part of the raw hot dog that is hanging in midair, without taking their hands off the steering wheel of the tractor, wins).

The event will also feature a Craft Show and Flea Market all three days. Vendor spaces are $10 for a 10-foot frontage. To register call (610) 681-5419 or (717) 992-7328.

Other daily demonstrations scheduled include corn meal grinding, feed grinders, and gas engines. The show will also include farm toy collections, displays of Ertl toys, model farm displays and equipment display.

For more information, call (610) 681-5419.

Boar, Ram Testing Under Way

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's Meat Animal Evaluation Center has announced the annual boar performance testing program and the ram performance testing programs are under way.

Nineteen boar pens are being utilized. This group of boars consists of 48 Yorkshires, 12 Durocs, four Hampshires, four Berkshires, four Landrace, and four Duroc x Hampshire crossbreds.

These boars are growing well. Two of the pens have already attained a pen average of 230 pounds and have officially concluded their testing periods.

The boars that have concluded their test have been scanned with real-time ultrasound. These early results indicate that Penn State will have boars exhibiting record-breaking growth, boars with exceptional muscle, and some very lean boars.

The university is preparing for the 23rd annual performance tested boar sale scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 19, at 6 p.m. in the Ag Arena on the campus of Penn State. This sale is again scheduled to coincide with Ag Progress Days.

The 69 rams on test were just weighed for their 42-day weight. So far, the rams are gaining well. The rams will remain on test for another 42 days and then final weights will be taken. The rams then will have their breeding soundness and structural correctness evaluated and will be scanned ultrasonically to determine fat thickness and loin-eye area and have their final indexes calculated.

The Performance Tested Ram Sale is scheduled Saturday, Aug. 1, at 2 p.m., in the Ag Arena on the campus of Penn State.

There is a full day's activities planned for Aug. 1. In addition to the Performance Tested Ram Sale and the Invitational Ewe Sale, the Sheep Producers Field Day Committee, consisting of Dirk Wise, Joanne Evans, Dick Kuzemchak, Bob Calvert, and Don Hunter are working on a tremendous program.

Commercial trade show vendors are also planning to be on hand to exhibit their products and services.

For more information or to request sale catalogs, contact Glenn Eberly, Director-M.A.E.C., 651 Fox Hollow Road, State College, PA 16803, (814) 238-2527 or (814) 865-5857.

Ag Progress Days Dates Announced

ROCKSPRING (Centre Co.) — Computers and satellites have long played a central role in the aerospace and defense industries. But in the last several years, these technologies have found their way into many other business and government applications, including agriculture.

Exhibits and demonstrations featuring global positioning systems (GPS), geographic information systems (GIS) and related technologies will be among new activities at Penn State's Ag Progress Days, Aug. 18-20. Visitors will be able to see firsthand how farmers, environmental professionals and local government agencies are using these systems for a variety of purposes, said Ag Progress Days manager Bob Oberheim.

"With satellite data and onboard computers in tractors, farmers often can plant more efficiently and optimize fertilizer and pesticide applications," Oberheim said. "But these precision technologies also are used in land-use planning, emergency 911 systems and water resource management, to name a few applications." Penn State faculty and staff will be on hand with exhibits showcasing the latest GPS and GIS programs.

Other new attractions at this year's event include a new animal agriculture facility that will house expanded animal and livestock exhibits. In addition, a new animal demonstration tent will be the site of a youth lamb show and "Skill-a-thon."

Oberheim said new field machinery demonstrations will include combine harvesting, sweet corn harvesting and corn chopping. Returning demonstrations include hay mowing, baling, round bale handling and the popular tractor "ride-and-drive" area.

Other exhibits, tours and workshops will feature the latest research and information on crops and soils, dairy and livestock production, integrated pest management, farm safety, conservation practices and woodlot management. More than 300 commercial and noncommercial exhibitors also will be on hand to display the newest goods and services.

In addition, a variety of family and consumer-oriented attractions are planned, including family living exhibits and demonstrations, cut flower beds and exhibits, storytelling, horse exhibitions, an insect zoo, live animal displays, lawn and garden advice, antique exhibits and SciQ, a TV-style game show.

Penn State's Ag Progress Days features more than 500 acres of educational and commercial exhibits, tours and machinery demonstrations. It is held at the Russell E. Larson Agricultural Research Center at Rockspriongs, nine miles southwest of State College on Route 45. Hours are 9 a.m to 5 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, with extended hours of 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Wednesday. Admission and parking are free.

For more information, call (800) PSU-1010 toll-free from July 13 to Aug. 20 or visit the Ag Progress Days site on the World Wide Web at http://apd.cas.psu.edu.

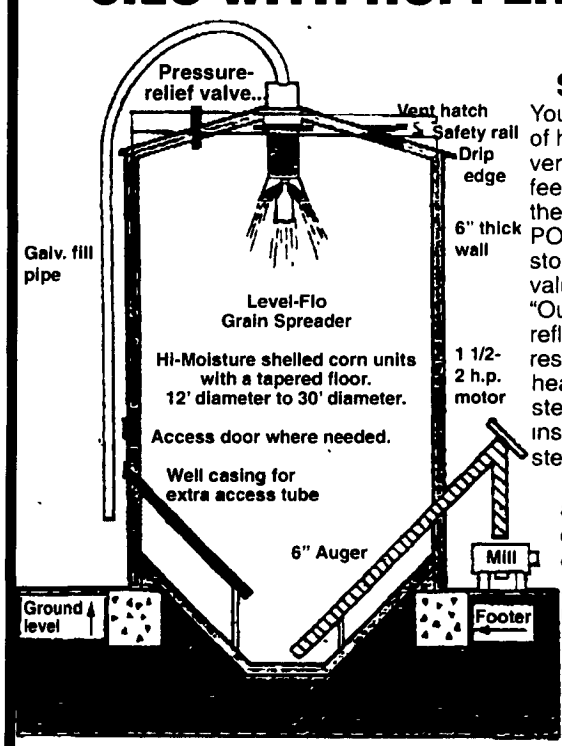
HI-MOISTURE SHELLED CORN SILO WITH HOPPER FLOOR



"Hi-Moisture Shelled Corn"

You know the advantages of hi-moisture shelled corn versus dry corn for animal feeding So now consider the many advantages of POURED CONCRETE to store and protect your valuable grain

"Our 6" thick concrete walls reflect 38% of light beams, resulting in 780 times more heat-resisting ability than steel, and 25 times more insulating power than steel."

"Our 6" thick walls have a very low leak potential compared to prefab silos of any kind, and a very low maintenance requirement."

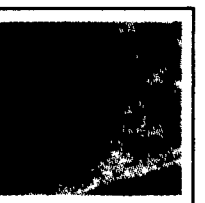
WARNING, ALL SILO OWNERS

WARNING! DETERIORATING CONCRETE FROM CORN JUICE!

Check your silo now for rotten staves. If you have been using your silo for 10 to 15 years for either corn silage or haylage, it is time to SHOTCRETE

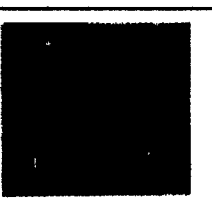
RESURFACES INTERIORS:
- Coats the silo's interior
- Protects feed in storage
- Durable, tough, acid-resistant
- Increase useful life
- Economical

Before The silo's interior with plaster damaged and stave exposed

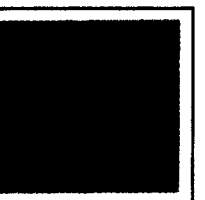


After . . The surface is reconditioned, and a new, thick tough surface will protect stored feed

REPAIRS HOLES:
- Repairs even large holes
- Up to twice the strength of the original stave
- Rapid application
- Durable surface



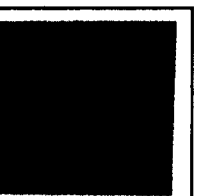
Before A hole is worn completely through the silo wall



After With the hole repaired by ShotCrete and a new surface applied, the silo is ready for years of use

EXTENDS USEFUL LIFE:
- Support for old foundations
- Special repairs can be made quickly and economically
- Little or no forming needed
- Stronger than the original

Before The bottom part of the stave's are completely worn away



After . The ShotCrete System repairs and replaces the missing structure

Here's What Another Satisfied Stimopuls MA Customer Has To Say About Westfalia Equipment

Hal Drick, Allenwood, Pa.
"I tried another major brand of stall barn detacher & milker claw on one side of the stable & the Stimopuls MA and Classic 300 Claw on the opposite side. The milking speed & handling of the Westfalia Equipment was superior to the other brand & made my decision easier to purchase Westfalia. Our dealer, Fisher & Thompson, Belleville, Pa. did a great job on installation & we're happy with the performance. I'd recommend others to take a look at Westfalia before making an equipment purchase."

76 Cow Total Ventilation System - Denver, PA

Lapp's Barn Equipment can install a high-performance/high efficiency tunnel ventilation system in your barn. A tunnel ventilation system will give you an even air flow throughout your barn of 2-5 mph. This gives you the advantage of better controlling temperature to give your cows more comfort which means more milk!! Also, a tunnel ventilation system eliminates circulating fans, provides summer and winter ventilation and controls fly problems! An optional unit can even automate your ventilation so you will never even have to worry about it when you're not there, so you can concentrate on other things!

At Lapp's, we sell high quality ventilation systems manufactured by Acme Engineering. Acme products feature such things as

- Galvanized Construction
- Wide Cambered Propeller
- Riveted Blades
- Unique Captured Bearings
- Vertical Support Frame
- Screens Pre-cut
- Totally Enclosed Motors
- Optional Discharge Diffuser Cone
- Optional Belt Tightener

Cut stall clean-out time by 50% with a Millcreek Compact Spreader.

"The spreading efficiency sure outweighs the price. This is a wonderful machine. I couldn't be more pleased."
EARL SINKS - Brock, Texas

Say "Good-Bye" to back-breaking manure handling and cut stall clean-out time in half. Hook an affordable Millcreek Compact Spreader to your 10 hp garden tractor, take it right to the stall for easy loading. No more wheelbarrow.

Millcreek Spreaders last and last

Since spreaders are our specialty, we put more into each one. For example our 20-year guaranteed floor will never rust or rot. Positive chain drive provides excellent spreading action. And tough steel construction holds up to rugged farm use. Seven sizes, for 1-horse barns to 50-horse stables. PTO and ground drive models available.

PURINA DAIRY HERD PROFILE

This two-year-old heifer in the Amish farm herd south of Strasburg has been fresh for nine months and is still milking over 100 pounds

"Cows Milk Real Good..."

Three Amish farmers in Southern Lancaster all have three things in common. They feed Purina feeds, they make a lot of milk, and they are served by Hess Mills, Paradise, with Rick Hess as farm consultant.

Cedar Cove Farm has been feeding Purina since 1990 and now has a rolling herd average of 24,800 pounds of milk. Thirteen cows are milking over 100 pounds and one has peaked at 135 pounds. The top individual record is 42,000 pounds.

"One thing I can say about Purina," the Amishman said. "Since I am on Purina, I think every second calf heifer has peaked at 100 pounds of milk or better. The cows milk real good and they keep on going."

At Herr Hollow Farm, they milk 42 cows that put out an average of 3,700 pounds o milk in the bulk tank each day. This Amish family has a long history of feeding Purina feeds and other family members are also Purina customers. With corn silage, hay, ground dry corn, 36 Concentrate, and Super EXT top dress, they have a 90 pound daily average on 2x with a top individual record of 148 pounds. This Amishman likes the nutritional advice he gets from Purina representatives who are "born dairymen.

The third Amish farm is located south of Strasburg and here they produced 1,300,000 pounds last year from 47 cows. At any given time you can find up to half the herd milking 100 pounds per day. A stand-out first calf heifer has been fresh nine months and is still milking 100 pounds per day.

"Purina feeds keep the cows immune system better," the Amishman said. "We just seem to have less health problems. Cows come in, calve out, and in two weeks they are milking over 100 pounds. We never had cows milk like this. And we don't have as many health problems as when we were getting less production.

All three dairymen recommend Purina to other dairymen because Purina feeds make more milk. They would not consider any other feed because they have never made more money than they are right now feeding Purina.
